He shall then number the seats from one up to the whole number required, and write upon slips of paper, as nearly alike as may be, the number of the seats, and fold them so they cannot be seen, and place them in another hat. Both hats shall then be well shaken, and he shall then draw from one hat a slip with the name on it, and from the other hat a slip with a number on it, and the seat having the number on it corresponding to the number on the slip drawn, shall be the seat of the Senator whose name is on the slip drawn at the same time.

Mr. Clarke moved the following as a substitute for said resolution, viz :

Resolved, That a committee, composed of the Speaker, and four Senators appointed by the Speaker, be created to report on the propriety of re-arranging the desks and Speaker's stand in the Senate Chamber, and a plan for the selection by lot of seats for Senators.

And the question being taken thereon, it was decided in the affirmative.

On motion of Mr. Garnett,

Ordered, That a committee of three Senators be appointed to report to the House of Representatives that the Senate is now organized and ready to proceed to business.

Whereupon, the Speaker appointed Messrs. Garnett, Bennett, and Burnett said committee.

After a short time, Mr. Garnett, from said committee, reported that they had performed the duty assigned them.

A message was received from the House of Representatives, by Messrs. Stewart, Talbott, and Harris, informing the Senate that they had met and organized, and had appointed a committee, to act in conjunction with a similar committee from the Senate, to wait upon the Governor, and inform him that the two Houses of the General Assembly had met and organized, and were now ready to receive any communication he may see proper to make.

Mr. Munday moved the following resolution, viz:

Resolved, That a committee of three Senators be appointed by the Speaker, to act in conjunction with a similar committee of the House of Representatives, to inform his Excellency, the Governor, that the General Assembly is now organized, and ready to receive any communication he may desire to submit.

Resolved, That the rules of the last Senate, and the joint rules of the two Houses of the last General Assembly, be adopted as the rules for the government of the present Senate, and that the Public Printer be directed to print and furnish two hundred copies of said rules for the use of the members and officers of the General Assembly.

Which was twice read and adopted.

Mr. Bush moved the following resolution, viz:

Resolved, That the resident pastors of the various religious denominations of Frankfort be, and they are hereby, requested to open the sessions of the Senate with prayer, and that they arrange among themselves the order in which they are to render the service.

Which was twice read and adopted.

On motion of Mr. Smith,

Ordered, That the meeting of the Senate be regulated by standard time.

Mr. Munday, from the joint committee appointed to wait upon the Governor, reported that they had performed the duty assigned them, and were informed by the Governor that in a short time he would lay before the General Assembly a message in writing.

In a short time, a message in writing was received from the Governor by Hon. James A. McKenzie, Secretary of State.

Said message was taken up and read as follows, viz :

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives :

It is a source of extreme gratification to me that, in complying with the requirement of the Constitution which makes it my duty to communicate to you such information as I may have in relation to "the state of the Commonwealth," I am able to congratulate you upon the prosperity which it has pleased the Great Giver of all Good to vouchsafe to us during the two years which have elapsed since the last meeting of the General Assembly. Our homes have been free from the horrors of pestilence, and our households gladdened by the blessings of plenty; our fields have been crowned with bountiful harvests, and our products have found ready and remunerative markets; capital has been profitably employed, and labor fairly rewarded; our resources have been greatly developed, and our commerce largely increased; money has been abundant, and private indebtedness among our people comparatively small; nearly a hundred and fifty miles have been added to our railways, and the products of our mines increased over two hundred and fifty per cent.; while our official statistics for the last fiscal year show by far the largest production of our various agricultural staples since 1877, and in some of them an increase upon the yield of even that exceptionally prolific year.

Notwithstanding these gratifying evidences of an extraordinary popular prosperity, however, there has been but little change, and certainly no improvement, in the condition of our State finances during the period to which I have referred. At the close of the fiscal year ending October 10, 1881, there was in the Treasury to the credit of the Revenue Proper, and available for the ordinary expenditures of the State Government, a balance of $51,118.28; but as the loan of $300,000, which had been negotiated under the provisions of the act of 1880, in order to meet a previous deficiency, had not been paid, there was really a deficit at that time of $248,881.72.

Assuming the receipts and expenditures of that year as the basis of his calculation, our able and efficient Auditor of Public Accounts reached the conclusion stated in his admirable report to the last General Assembly, that at the close of the fiscal year ending October 10, 1883, the condition of the Treasury would be virtually the same as it then was, and but for certain extraordinary circumstances which subsequently transpired, and which no human sagacity could foresee, his estimate would have proven substantially correct.

The fiscal year having been changed by law so as to begin on the first day of July, and the increased expenses unavoidably incident to a session of the Legislature having rendered it necessary to effect an additional loan of $200,000, the condition of the fund available for general expenditures from October 11, 1881, to June 30, 1882, and from July 1, 1882, to June 30, 1883, was as follows;

Balance in the Treasury October 10, 1881	$51,118 28
Receipts, including bank loan of $200,000	1,251,199 97
Total receipts and balance as above	$1,302,318 25
Disbursements deducted	1,254,253 28
Left a balance of	$48,064 97
Borrowed from bank as above	$200,000 00
Balance in the Treasury deducted	48,064 97
Shows deficit for the year	$151,935 03
Due banks prior to October 10, 1881	300,000 00
Total deficit June 30, 1882	$451,935 03
Balance in the Treasury June 30, 1882	$48,064 97
Receipts	1,622,328 30
Total receipts and balance on hand	$1,670,393 27
Disbursements deducted	1,661,768 94
Balance June 30, 1883	$8,624 33
Due banks June 30, 1883	$500,000 00
Less balance in Treasury	8,624 33
Actual deficit	$491,375 67

From this it will be seen that at the close of the last fiscal year there was in the Treasury to the credit of the Revenue Proper a balance of only $8,624.33 as against $48,064.97 at the end of the year preceding, while there was a total deficit of $491,375.67 instead of about $250,000, as was expected. Since the close of the fiscal year, however, this deficit has been diminished by $100,000 paid upon the bank loans; and it should also be observed that the estimated expenditures for the year were exceeded about $50,000 on account of extraordinary expenses incurred in military operations, and nearly $65,000 devoted to our public charities in excess of similar expenditures for the year 1881, while of the estimated revenues over $55,000 have been withheld by the various railroad companies pending the litigation concerning the taxes assessed against them, recently determined in the Court of Appeals. Had this sum been paid into the Treasury, and the extraordinary expenditures above referred to not been incurred, the deficit on the 10th of October, deducting the $100,000 which have been paid on the bank loan since the first of July last, would have been really less than that estimated by the Auditor two years ago.

Nevertheless the fact remains that we are indebted to the banks to-day in the sum of $400,000, and there is no prospect of its being extinguished or materially diminished for years with the present resources of the Treasury, which are barely sufficient to enable us, after defraying the other necessary expenses of the Government, to accumulate every two years an average balance about equal to the additional expenditures incident to a single session of the General Assembly. This conclusion is rendered strikingly apparent by the following estimates of receipts and expenditures submitted by the Auditor of Public Accounts for the fiscal years ending June 30, 1884, and June 30, 1885:

Estimated receipts for the year ending June 30, 1884	$1,438,684 20
Balance in the Treasury June 30, 1883	8,624 33
Total resources for general expenditures during the year	$1,447,308 53
Estimated expenditures for the year deducted	1,425,300 00
Estimated balance in the Treasury June 30, 1884	$22,008 53
Amount due banks	$500,000 00
Deduct balance as above	22,008 53
Deficit in Treasury June 30, 1884	$477,991 47
Estimated receipts for year ending June 30, 1885	$1,450,000 00
Deduct estimated expenditures	1,270,300 00
Balance in the Treasury June 30, 1885	$179,700 00
Deficit June 30, 1884	$477,991 47
Deduct balance in the Treasury June 30, 1885	179,700 00
Gives deficit for June 30, 1885	$298,291 47

It is true that the payment of $100,000, which has since been made upon the bank debt, was not considered in the estimates just referred to; nor would the results have been materially changed if it had been, as it is probable that, unless some other provision shall be made by the present Legislature, it will be necessary to borrow again such sums as have been, or may be, paid the banks from time to time, as the exigencies of the Treasury may demand, especially if there should be any considerable failure in the revenue, or any extraordinary expenditures, as was the case during the last fiscal year. Such contingencies, indeed, may very largely increase the deficits anticipated in the foregoing estimates, in which event it would be impossible to seek even temporary relief in loans beyond the amount authorized by the act of 1880, as such an expedient is expressly inhibited by the provision of the Constitution, which limits the amount of all debts which may be created to meet casual deficits or failures in the revenue, whether direct or contingent, singly or in the aggregate, to five hundred thousand dollars.

It is fortunate for us, perhaps, that such a prohibition is to be found in our organic law. Communities as well as individuals are always more prosperous when their business transactions are conducted on a cash basis, and it is always bad economy to incur a debt without providing the means for its speediest possible extinguishment. A private borrower may, by judicious management of the borrowed capital, realize a profit in excess of the interest he pays upon the loan, but a debt created by a Commonwealth like ours, merely to meet deficiencies in its ordinary revenues, soon becomes an eating ulcer upon the body-politic—an insidious agency, silently but constantly sapping the resources of the tax-payer without conferring upon him any correlative benefit whatever. I trust, therefore, that you will honor yourselves and render the Commonwealth a most valuable service by adopting such measures as will speedily relieve its people from the burden of an unnecessary debt, and its Treasury from the stigma of an annually recurring deficit.

That our finances should present such an unenviable spectacle is as inexcusable as it is humiliating. The want of sufficient funds in the Treasury to meet all demands against it cannot be attributed to any indisposition on the part of our people to pay the taxes assessed against them, nor to any lack of diligence or fidelity in those who are charged with their collection. The Sheriffs throughout the State have, for several years, exhibited a most commendable promptness in returning the revenues with which they have been charged, and the unusual thoroughness of their collections, abundantly attest the willingness as well as the ability of the people to pay their respective assessments. Nor is it because the ordinary expenditures of the Government are or have been at all disproportionate to the wealth or the population of the State, for they have for years scarcely averaged a million and a half dollars per annum, or about 25 cents on each hundred dollars of taxable property in the Commonwealth—assessed at perhaps little over one half its actual value—and less than ninety cents per capita, while more than twenty-five per cent. of the amounts thus annually expended has been appropriated to the support of our public charities.

The difficulty has been and is still to be found, to a great extent, in our grossly defective system of assessment, rendered still more inefficient by the negligent and unsatisfactory manner in which it is administered. The mere fact that the entire valuation of all descriptions of taxable property within the Commonwealth for the last fiscal year amounted to but little over $374,500,000 is sufficient to satisfy any intelligent mind at all conversant with the subject that there must have been the grossest disparity between its market and assessed value. Our real property alone is worth double that sum. It has been estimated, indeed, that even in the centers of our wealth and population, where property is appraised at higher rates in order to raise large sums by taxation for local municipal purposes, it is rarely, if ever, assessed at over sixty per cent. of its real value, while in more sparsely populated localities the assessments do not reach forty per cent. My attention has been called to an instance in which the County Judge of a wealthy and populous county, by way of satire, no doubt, upon the manner in which property is valued for taxation in our State, insisted that money even should be assessed at only sixty cents on the dollar!

Nor is this all. Assessments are not only greatly disproportioned everywhere to the actual value of the property assessed, but there is no uniformity in them either as between classes or localities. It is not astonishing perhaps that the property of a person in moderate circumstances is almost certain to be more fully assessed than that of his wealthier neighbor, and that, too, without any intentional partiality on the part of the Assessor; for all he has is easily remembered or readily ascertained, while he who estimates his wealth by the hundred thousand is frequently liable to forget many articles which are subject to taxation, and where the valuation is left to himself, as is very often the case, he is apt to conclude that property is worth a great deal more for use than it is for taxation, and therefore have it assessed at the lowest possible figure. It will be surprising to some, however, that the average value of horses in Boyd county should be over fifty-five dollars, while it is but little over forty in Bourbon! Or that mules should be assessed at sixty-seven dollars in Whitley, and only fifty-one in Woodford! Or that cattle should be worth eight dollars and thirty-four cents in Henderson, and only one dollar and fifty-four cents in the adjoining county of Hopkins!

These examples, taken at random from the official tables, and more on account of their juxtaposition of name than for any other reason, serve to illustrate not only the want of uniformity, but the general inadequacy of valuations under our present system; and I am satisfied, after a thorough and careful study of the data furnished by the Auditor in the excellent report which he will lay before you, that, with anything like a just and reasonable assessment of the taxable property within the State, we would be able in a short time to extinguish the debt due the banks, and at the same time meet all the legitimate expenses of the Government, and that at a greatly reduced rate of taxation.

Inequalities and undervaluation in the assessment of the property subject to taxation are, however, by no means the only evils in our revenue system which demand your attention. As was suggested by the Auditor of Public Accounts in his report two years ago, much of our revenue is annually lost through exonerations, delinquent lists, and sales of lands for taxes, though the latter evils have been lessening from year to year, and may possibly reach their minimum under a rigid enforcement of our present statutes. Besides this, large amounts of property have from time to time been exempted from taxation by private acts of the Legislature, which should be restored to the tax-list by the prompt repeal of all such statutes. There are also various lottery companies plying their business in our State, and claiming to exercise their privileges under the sanction of our laws, who yet pay not a doit into the Treasury. They are said to be reaping enormous incomes from a class of our people who can ill afford to feed their cupidity—the servant girl who would increase her slender hoard for loved ones beyond the sea, and the day laborer who is induced to invest his meager wages in the illusive chance of winning a glittering prize. If they are permitted by law to prey upon the ignorant and the humble, they should be compelled by law to contribute to "the general coffer of the State." If they have a legal existence, they should be taxed; if they have not, they should be promptly suppressed.

On the other hand, there are many expenditures, involving a large amount of money in the aggregate, devolved upon the Commonwealth which, in simple justice, should be borne by the counties in which they are respectively incurred. Their payment out of the State Treasury is not only an injustice to the tax-payers of other localities, but stimulates extravagance, and leads to frauds upon the common revenues, which are all the more difficult to detect or prevent on account of the remoteness of the accounting officers of the Government from the situs of the transaction.

Again: there are numerous instances in which, under the guise of amendments to the charters of cities and towns, certain officers have been allowed by statute to charge twice the fees in criminal proceedings which are allowed by law to other officers for similar services, thus draining the Treasury annually of thousands of dollars in mere gratuities to a favored few.

In view of these facts, I would most earnestly recommend a thorough revision of our entire revenue system, so as to insure, as far as possible, a uniform and fair assessment of all the taxable property in the State, which shall be just alike to all portions of the Commonwealth and all classes of the community; the suppression of unjust exonerations; the prevention of unnecessary delinquencies, and the prompt collection of the revenues; the relegation to the various counties of all expenses which should be properly borne by them; a uniform scale of compensation to all public officers, of whatever grade or locality, for the performance of similar services, and the more certain and rigorous punishment of all frauds upon the Public Treasury.

I am aware that such a revision, to be at all complete or beneficial, will require great care and deliberation, as well as a laborious investigation of the various systems which have been adopted by other States; and if the magnitude of the work, or a want of sufficient time, shall prevent its accomplishment during your present session, I would concur most heartily in the suggestion urged by the Auditor so cogently two years ago, and repeated in his excellent report to the present Legislature, that measures should be taken to have the proposed revision thoroughly prepared and ready for submission at the next meeting of the General Assembly. Whether this can be most satisfactorily accomplished by a Legislative Committee, or a Special Commission created for the purpose, or by the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, is of course for your wisdom to determine. I insist, however, that whatever course you may deem it wisest to pursue with regard to this matter, provision should be made during your present session for the earliest practicable extinguishment of our bank debt, and for that purpose I would recommend a temporary addition to our existing rate of taxation of 2½ cents on the hundred dollars, which I think would be sufficient to accomplish it within the next two years, even upon the basis of the present ridiculously low valuation of our taxable property, provided those classes of expenditure which properly belong to the several counties should be relegated to them respectively.

SINKING FUND.

There has been no change in the condition of the Sinking Fund since the last session of the General Assembly. The bonded debt of the State, as then, consists of a hundred and seventy-four six per cent. military bonds, amounting to $174,000 00, besides $6,394.00 in old railroad scrip, and bonds of 1835 and 1841, which have been so long overdue, and unheard of for so many years, that they are supposed to have been long since lost or destroyed, and will probably never be presented for redemption. The resources of the Sinking Fund are also substantially as at that time. Cash in the Treasury June 30, 1883, $174,002 30; four hundred and six shares of stock in the Bank of Louisville, quoted at the close of the last fiscal year at $31,262, and stock in turnpikes estimated at $500,000, amounting in all to $705,266.30.

THE PENITENTIARY,

I am glad to say, is in excellent condition. In fact, certain unfavorable circumstances considered, such as its unsuitable location, the defective plans of some of its buildings, and the inadequacy of its capacity to the number of convicts, for which, of course, the present management is in nowise responsible, it will compare favorably with any similar institution in the United States. The Commissioners have been careful and conscientious in the discharge of their duties; the officers have proven themselves to be faithful, efficient, and humane, careful alike of the interest of the State and the welfare of the prisoner, while the present contractors have at all times, and not infrequently at the sacrifice of their own pecuniary interest, cheerfully and cordially co-operated with the Commissioners and prison officials in their efforts to promote the comfort and improve the condition of the unfortunate class committed to their charge. The immediate consequence has been to secure and maintain for the prison a superb sanitary condition, as well as a marked improvement in the morale of its inmates. The yard is kept in excellent order, free from all accumulations of rubbish or filth. The drainage has been made as complete as the topography of the location will permit, and a constant supply of clear running water so distributed as to promote the cleanliness and health of the prison, while contributing to the comfort and convenience of the prisoner. The cell-houses are properly warmed and ventilated, and the cells kept scrupulously neat and well supplied with clean and comfortable bedding. The hospital, under the auspices of a skillful and conscientious physician, is a model of neatness, quiet, and order, and the library well furnished with instructive and entertaining books. The convicts are bountifully fed, comfortably clothed, moderately worked, perform their allotted tasks with cheerfulness, and but rarely subject themselves to punishment by a breach of prison discipline. While the observance of religious exercises is compulsory upon none, they are afforded the amplest opportunities for religious instruction under the ministration of a Chaplain, who has devoted himself with singular zeal and earnestness to their physical welfare, as well as their moral culture; at the same time each is at perfect liberty to seek spiritual advice and comfort from ministers or others of his own denomination, for which every possible facility is cheerfully and promptly afforded.

It may be added, as a most gratifying evidence of the greatly improved condition of the prison in a sanitary point of view, that the average percentage of mortality within its walls, as shown by official statistics for six years, from 1874 to 1879, inclusive, was four and one half; never under three in any one year, four in one, five in another, and reaching in one as high as seven per cent.; while from May, 1880, to November, 1883, the average has only been one and three tenths, and never exceeding two and thirty-two one hundreths per cent. in any one year during the latter period.

Of course the conditions have been nothing like so favorable in many respects to those who have been employed outside the prison. They have been fed as well, clothed as comfortably, worked as moderately, and, as far as circumstances have rendered it possible, treated as humanely as those within the walls. It is said, indeed, that many prefer employment outside, as it has less the appearance of prison life perhaps, and by improving their time after the accomplishment of their weekly tasks, they are frequently able to earn considerable wages, which they may transmit to their families or save until the expiration of their respective terms. But it is not to be expected, from the very nature of things, that they can be furnished with as comfortable quarters, and from that fact alone, as well as from the vicissitudes of the weather to which they are constantly exposed, and the numerous casualties incident to the occupations in which they are engaged, they must necessarily be subjected to a greater amount of disease and a higher rate of mortality than those who are kept within the prison walls. Hence it is not surprising that the statistics show the death rate among those who have been employed outside the walls from May, 1880, to November, 1883, to have been three and sixty-eight one hundredths as against one and three tenths per cent. on the inside, as I have already stated.

This fact is sufficient of itself to justify me in asking your serious and earnest attention to the immediate and urgent necessity of your taking steps to increase our Penitentiary accommodations as speedily as possible; for it is certainly not strictly consonant with the principles of even and exact justice, which is the birthright of every member of society, that, because one may have been condemned to penal servitude for a crime against the Commonwealth, however heinous or disgraceful, he should be compelled to incur extraordinary perils of life or limb not contemplated by the law.

There are, however, other and equally cogent reasons why this should be done. Not a single convict who has been sentenced to hard labor in the Penitentiary would be found at work upon a contract outside of its walls to-day but for the fact that there is not sufficient room inside for his proper accommodation or profitable employment. But this make-shift must necessarily be merely temporary. Whether it is just or unjust, legal or illegal, humane or inhumane, it will ultimately have to be abandoned, and that, perhaps, in the near future. The present contractors may or may not continue their contract after the first of next October at their option, and it is highly probable that there will be considerable diminution, if not a total suspension, of railroad construction in our State within the next two or three years, or a multitude of other contingencies may, within a year from this time, render it impossible to let out our convict labor for any purpose outside the prison walls. In that event, the question, what shall be done with the convicts who are thus employed at present, will prove a most grave and perplexing one.

With those already confined within the walls they number over a thousand, with the certainty of a constant increase year by year. To turn them back into a prison where the cell accommodations are only sufficient for seven hundred and forty-four, would be barbarous beyond expression. The spectacle of over a thousand human beings, comprising all ages and conditions of criminal life, from the beardless boy, convicted of some petty infraction of the penal code, to the hoary-headed, heartless villain, who plumes himself upon the commission of every crime that a diabolic ingenuity could conceive or a fiendish depravity execute, all pent up in quarters scarce sufficient for half their number, ill-fed, ill-clothed, reeking in filth, festering with disease, concocting conspiracies, encouraging each other in vices the most disgusting and destructive, and gloating in practices too brutal to mention, would be a blot upon our civilization too hideous to contemplate.

The only method, however, by which the State could be saved from such a disgusting stigma, unless adequate accommodations are provided for them, would be to reduce the number of convicts to the present capacity of the Penitentiary by a sweeping exercise of the pardoning power, which would be a calamity from the effects of which the public morals would not be able to recover for years; for there is nothing which more thoroughly destroys the efficacy of the penal laws than the expectation on the part of the criminal classes that they will escape punishment through the intervention of what is styled Executive clemency.

There is no alternative, therefore, but to increase our Penitentiary accommodations. It is a work which must be done sooner or later. The necessity for it is too obvious for further comment, and that necessity can neither be lessened nor obviated by delay. On the contrary, the longer it is postponed the greater the evil will become, and the more difficult will be the remedy. It will require the expenditure of a large amount of money, and take several years, perhaps, to accomplish it. Hence I will be pardoned for repeating the suggestion, that steps shall be taken to begin it at the earliest practicable moment.

I would further suggest, in this connection, that it would, in my judgment, be far better to erect a Branch Penitentiary, with a capacity of seven hundred or seven hundred and fifty cells, at some suitable point in the western portion of the State, than to attempt to enlarge the present one. The reasons for this, it seems to me, are so numerous and obvious that they scarcely need to be recapitulated.

In the first place, the location of our present prison is such that it could not be advantageously enlarged without the outlay of far more money than would be required to build one upon a more eligible site; and then, to say nothing of the annual saving of expense to the Commonwealth in the transportation of convicts, which would be insured by the location of a new prison as suggested, experience has demonstrated that more than seven hundred or seven hundred and fifty prisoners in one place cannot be so easily or advantageously managed as a smaller number. The personal supervision of the prison official over the convict becomes less direct; consequently breaches of prison discipline become more frequent, and punishments are oftener inflicted; sullenness and insubordination among the prisoners are increased; work is more apt to be left undone or negligently performed; conspiracies and mutinies are more liable to occur, and sanitary regulations of all kinds much more difficult to enforce. Besides, if proper attention is paid to the selection of a suitable site, all the modern improvements can be made available much more easily and economically in building a new prison than in adding to an old one; and if proper care is taken in arranging the plans at the outset, suitable provision can be made for the classification of prisoners, and especially for the sequestration of juvenile offenders from the older and more abandoned criminals, whose vicious counsels and depraved examples usually countervail all efforts for the reformation of their younger and less obdurate associates.

CAPITOL BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS.

I would call your attention also, in this connection, to the condition of the Capitol, with that of its adjacent buildings and grounds, and suggest the propriety of your taking some timely action in relation thereto.

The main building, as you will probably find by experience, is extremely incommodious for the transaction of a great deal of the ordinary business of legislation, as it does not contain a single committee room, nor an apartment for the accommodation of the presiding officer of either branch of your honorable body. The eastern wing of the proposed extension is still incomplete, and the building occupying the site of the proposed western wing is in a very dilapidated condition besides being extremely liable at any time to fire; while the grounds, for want of proper police surveillance, are the constant scene of almost every description of nuisance. If the present Capital is to remain our Seat of Government, it seems to me that a prudent economy, if no other consideration, would dictate the immediate inauguration of measures looking to the completion and preservation of our public buildings. If it is to be removed, the sooner the question is settled the better, as procrastination in this, as in all other cases, so far from curing, only tends to aggravate the evil.

THE STATE GUARD.

The State Guard consists of three regiments of infantry, embracing one company of dismounted cavalry, one detached company of infantry, and two batteries of artillery, with an aggregate numerical strength in officers and men of one thousand and thirty-six, of whom, however, only about seven hundred can be relied upon as effective. These comprise, I am gratified to say, many of the brightest and most promising young men of the Commonwealth, and it is my determination that, as far as circumstances will allow, they shall be made as proficient as possible in everything pertaining to the duty and conduct of the thorough soldier. I wish them to realize clearly and fully the dignity of their position, as well as the importance of their responsibilities. I would have them to understand that they are not enlisted for the idle purposes of street pageantry, but as the active promoters and ultimate protectors of private peace and popular tranquility; that their organization is not maintained merely to give eclat to empty parades, but because "a well regulated militia is necessary to the security of a free State."

They will be put to no unnecessary inconvenience by reason of their enlistment, nor will they be taken from their business, or otherwise interfered with, by being called into active service, except in cases of extreme emergency, when the public safety may demand it; but if such an unfortunate necessity should arise, I wish them to know that the Commonwealth will expect to find them trained and efficient soldiers.

I sincerely trust, however, that such a deplorable contingency will seldom, if ever, occur; and I am satisfied that it might be obviated almost entirely if the peace officers throughout the State could be brought to understand that it is not only their right but their sworn duty to call to their assistance the entire power of the county if necessary to enforce the law or maintain the public peace, and that they should promptly arrest all persons who manifest an intention to engage in riotous conduct, or threaten in any manner the forcible obstruction of legal process, and have them imprisoned or placed under bonds for their good behavior or appearance before the proper tribunal for trial.

The Adjutant General's Office has been placed in a condition of thorough order and complete repair. The records and papers pertaining to the department have been assorted with the utmost care, and arran-in the most admirable and convenient manner; while the military property of the State, not in the hands of organized companies, has been thoroughly overhauled, carefully inventoried, and put in the best condition possible under the circumstances.

I cannot quit this subject without asking your attention to the necessity of your making some provision for the preservation of the muster-rolls of the heroic body of volunteers who not only imperiled their lives in defense of their country, but achieved for our State such imperishable renown in the war of 1812. There are now on file in the office of the Adjutant General the rolls of thirteen regiments of those heroic and historic troops, which, from lapse of time and ill usage, have become so much worn and defaced that it is frequently difficult, and sometimes impossible, to decipher the names upon them even now; and to allow them to become totally lost, as must inevitably be the case, unless something shall be done to rescue them from destruction, would be an outrage upon the memory of our grand old veterans, and an everlasting disgrace to the State whose name was their rallying cry in battle, and whose glory the guerdon for which they fought. I would, therefore, repeat the suggestion made by Adjutant General Wright, in 1876, that some provision be made to have these rolls carefully transcribed into well bound books, so that they may be preserved for reference as historical records or other purposes, as circumstances may require.

STATE CHARITIES.

I have the honor to lay before you the reports of the Commissioners and Superintendents of the Eastern, Central, and Western Kentucky Lunatic Asylums, the Kentucky Institution for the Education and Training of Feeble-minded Children, the Kentucky Institution for the Education of the Blind, and the Kentucky Institution for the Education of Deaf Mutes, and would respectfully call your attention to the various suggestions and recommendations therein made.

The aggregate receipts and disbursements of the several Lunatic Asylums for the past year were as follows:

EASTERN ASYLUM, LEXINGTON.

Receipts from State Treasury	$111,900 01
From other sources	13,844 44
Total	$125,744 45
Disbursements	125,704 96
Balance	$39 49

CENTRAL ASYLUM, ANCHORAGE.

Receipts from State Treasury	$122,006 70
From other sources	18,455 66
Total	$140 462 36
Disbursements	121,902 47
Balance	$18,559 89

WESTERN ASYLUM, HOPKINSVILLE.

Receipts from State Treasury	$74,593 36
From other sources	15,214 94
Total	$89,808 30
Disbursements	85 059 93
Balance	$4,748 37

The whole number of patients treated during the year was 2,143, distributed as follows: in the Eastern Asylum, 795; in the Central Asylum, 727; and in the Western Asylum, 621. Of these, 406 were admitted during the year: to the Eastern Asylum, 176; to the Central Asylum, 174; and to the Western Asylum, 118. The whole number discharged as cured was 221, namely: from the Eastern Asylum, 61; from the Central Asylum, 105; and from the Western Asylum, 55. The percentage of cures upon the admissions during the year was as follows: in the Eastern Asylum, 34.09; in the Central Asylum, 60.03; and in the Western Asylum, 46.61.

At the Western Asylum several necessary buildings have been erected during the year, many valuable improvements made, additional machinery provided, comfortable furniture procured, extensive repairs completed, and the entire institution put in admirable condition. At Anchorage, also, a vast deal has been done to render the Asylum more nearly adequate to the purposes of such an establishment. Many additional improvements are, however, reported as still necessary to be made, and estimates of their cost submitted with the report of the Superintendent, to which your attention is respectfully called.

The Medical Superintendent of the Eastern Asylum reports that the entire buildings are greatly in need of painting, little or none having been done for the last five years; that a new tin roof is necessary; that the present one has been patched until all attempts to prevent its leaking by further repairs of that character result in failure; that the heating apparatus should be thoroughly overhauled, and the pumps repaired or renewed. He estimates that it will require at least ten thousand dollars to make these indispensable repairs, and asks an appropriation of that sum for the purpose, which I would respectfully recommend. Before leaving this topic, I would respectfully call your attention to the remarks of Drs. Rodman and Chenault in relation to the policy of erecting cottages at our several Asylums for the accommodation of certain classes of the insane, which meet my hearty concurrence, and especially to the suggestions of the latter with regard to the propriety of limiting the number of persons to be charged with the transportation of patients to the Asylums. The evil he points out is certainly a most glaring and unnecessary one, and should be promptly remedied.

THE INSTITUTION FOR THE EDUCATION OF THE BLIND,

I am happy to say, is reported in excellent condition. The number of pupils taught last year was seventy-eight. The most careful attention was paid their physical welfare as well as to their mental culture. The hygienic condition of the institution was under constant supervision, and the result of such prudent vigilance was but little sickness, and not a single death during the year in the entire school. Under the tutelage of accomplished and conscientious instructors, the beneficiaries of this beautiful charity have made the most gratifying progress in every department of study, and manifested their appreciation of the beneficence of the Commonwealth "in a laudable desire to acquire all the forces that education can impart." I commend to your serious consideration the resolutions adopted by the Board of Visitors, and appended to their report.

INSTITUTION FOR THE EDUCATION OF DEAF MUTES.

The Board of Commissioners report a larger number of pupils in attendance from November 1st, 1881, to November 1st. 1883, than during any other similar period in the history of the school, and that the same corps of faithful officers and teachers has zealously and earnestly pursued the course indicated by long years of experience as best adapted to the development of the minds and characters of those committed to their care with the most gratifying results. They invoke attention, however, to the embarrassed condition of the finances of the institution, attributable in part to extraordinary expenses incurred in necessary improvements, but mainly to the increased cost of instruction and sustenance consequent upon an increase of at least seventy-five per cent. in the average attendance upon the school within the past four years. They insist that if an annual appropriation of $6,000 was necessary for salaries and repairs when the average attendance of pupils was only eighty, it should be at least $10,000 with an average attendance of a hundred and forty, especially as their income has been diminished by a reduction of their permanent fund, and the expenses of heating, lighting, and insurance materially augmented by the increased size and value of their buildings. I therefore submit for your enlightened consideration their request for an additional annual appropriation of $3,000 for the purposes indicated, satisfied that if it should be found necessary to maintain the efficiency of an institution so long celebrated for its excellence it will not be withheld.

INSTITUTION FOR THE EDUCATION AND TRAINING OF FEEBLE-MINDED CHILDREN.

In laying before you the report of the Board of Commissioners of this institution, it affords me great pleasure to be able to bear testimony to the disinterested fidelity of each of its members, as well as to the zeal and efficiency of the excellent Superintendent, and other officers and employés of that admirable charity. The work they are accomplishing is as marvelous as it is beneficent, and should excite a thrill of generous pride in the bosom of every citizen of the Commonwealth. A conviction, from personal knowledge, of the necessities which demand the outlay of the several small sums asked for, impels me to recommend their appropriation.

I deem it my duty, in this connection, to direct your attention to the very remarkable state of facts disclosed by our official statistics with regard to the maintenance of the pauper idiots of the Commonwealth. It certainly reflects great credit upon the charitable disposition of our people that special provision should have been made by our Legislature for the care and sustenance of this unfortunate class of our fellow-beings in advance, perhaps, of any other State in the Union; but, like all other benefactions, it is liable to abuse, and it is not improbable that those who have had it in charge to see the bounty of the State in that regard properly administered have been frequently imposed upon. But, however that may be, it appears that of the thousand and forty-nine idiots maintained last year by the Commonwealth, at a cost of $65,471, five hundred and fifty-four—over fifty-four per cent. of the whole number—were in four judicial circuits, leaving only four hundred and ninety-five to the other fourteen districts!

While the cause of this singular and startling difference in the apparent development of idiocy in different localities in the same Commonwealth may be a matter of curious speculation to the theoretical economists, it may be well for practical legislators to inquire whether it has resulted, to any extent, from the importation of such unfortunate beings with the view of having them pensioned upon the bounty of the State, or from some latent defect in the laws enacted for their benefit, or from a want of proper vigilance in their administration.

EDUCATION.

I have the honor, also, to lay before you the very able and exhaustive report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, in which will be found not only a thorough and lucid exposition of the system and conditions of our Common Schools, but a clear and methodical presentation of such statistical data and other information in relation to that most important and interesting subject, which cannot fail to prove useful and instructive to you, or to the enlightened constituency you represent.

The school census, white and colored, and the corresponding apportionments out of the School Fund for the payment of teachers and commissioners, for the year ending June 30th, 1884, are as follows:

Whole number of white pupil children	500,824
Whole number of colored pupil children	92,470
Total	593,294
Apportioned to white children, $1.40 per capita	$701,153 60
Apportioned to colored children, $1.40 per capita	129,458 00
Total	$830,611 60
Amount apportioned to commissioners	42,089 11
Grand total	$872,089 71

It may not be uninteresting to note, in this connection, what has been done by the people of Kentucky for the education of the children of the colored race within their midst. By the act of February 24, 1874, the whole of the taxes, together with all the fines and forfeitures collected by the State from its colored population, were devoted to the education of colored children, not a cent collected by either of those methods from a colored citizen being required towards paying the expenses of the State Government. From 1875 to 1882, inclusive, the per capita accruing to each colored pupil child from the fund thus raised varied from fifty to fifty eight cents, settling in the latter year at fifty, with a deficit for that year of $1,917.22. On the 6th of August, 1882, the voters of the State, by a majority of nearly seventeen thousand, ratified the act of the Legislature equalizing the pupil age, as well as the per capita of the white and colored child, and the following year, ending June 30, 1883, the common per capita thus established was $1.30. Upon that ratio there was a deficit in the colored school fund —representing, as it did, the entire amount of taxes, fines, and forfeitures collected from the race by the Commonwealth—of $92,845.36, which had to be supplied by deducting a sufficient amount from the white school fund for that purpose. A similar deficit in that fund is likely to occur each succeeding year for years to come, and will, of course, have to be supplied in a similar manner. It becomes a question, therefore, for you to consider, whether the act of February 23, 1874, should not be repealed, and the colored citizen placed on an equality with the white with respect to the expenses of the government, as well as to the benefits of the Common School Fund.

The per capita last year, as already stated, was $1.30, showing an increase of ten cents only for the present year ending June 30, 1884. We may deprecate the evils of illiteracy, and descant upon the blessings of popular education as much as we will, but we will indulge the Utopian dream of a Golden Age, when every child in the State shall enjoy the benefits of good schools at the public expense, a long time before it is realized with the meager pittance of $1 40 per annum to the pupil, unless something shall be done to supplement it. This cannot be expected from State taxation, and our people had as well understand it first as last, for, with perhaps three or four exceptions, there is not another State in the Union which contributes so large a portion of its general revenues to purposes of education. The system may, however, be rendered more effective even with our limited funds, and to that end, the committee appointed by the Senate under a resolution of April 21, 1882, has prepared a bill, which accompanies the admirable report of the Superintendent, and will be presented for your consideration in due order.

THE STATE COLLEGE.

is reported to be in a prosperous condition. During the session of 1881-'2 the number of matriculates was three hundred and twenty, and in that of 1882-'3 three hundred and sixteen. The matriculation for the current year has not been completed, and will not be, perhaps, until about the beginning of the second term; but it will probably be as large as usual. Instruction is given under twelve competent professors and two assistant professors, in the departments of English Language, Mathematics, Physics, Elementary Chemistry, Practical Chemistry, Agricultural Chemistry, Analytical Chemistry, Agricultural and Veterinary Science, Botany, Zoölogy, Geology, Mineralogy, Ancient and Modern Languages, History, Military Tactics, Mental and Moral Philosophy, Practical Mechanics, and the Theory and Practice of Teaching.

The moral tone of the institution is represented as healthy, the classes well attended, and a commendable degree of emulation manifested among the students. It is impossible, however, to realize the idea embodied in the act of Congress under which this school was established without a farm suitable for experimental agriculture, where the theoretical instruction of the class-room may be demonstrated in practice. It is hoped that this may be accomplished at no very distant day, and that the State College may become more and more an ornament to the Commonwealth and a blessing to its people.

RAILROAD COMMISSIONERS.

I have also the pleasure of submitting for your consideration the very elaborate report of the Board of Railroad Commissioners, which has been prepared with unusual care and ability, and presents a volume of information which will doubtless prove as useful to the practical legislator as it will be entertaining and instructive to the general reader.

They report that on the first day of December, 1883, there were in operation in the State 1,936 99 miles of railway, which, however, do not penetrate one third of the counties in the Commonwealth, being about one mile of road to each twenty-one square miles of our territory. It is encouraging to note, however, that several roads are in process of construction, while others have been projected for the near future, though there will evidently be a considerable diminution in the number of miles to be built during the ensuing year, the Louisville and Nashville and Chesapeake and Ohio Companies having already signified their determination not to undertake the extension of their respective lines within that time.

The Owensboro and Nashville will soon be completed to Adairville, which will probably be its southern terminus for some years to come. The Kentucky Central is pushing its extension to Livingston, and will soon have it open for use. The Short Route in Louisville is also being pushed, and when completed will add greatly to the convenience and comfort of those passing through that city by rail. Work is being done on the line from Newport to the Big Sandy, and the Kentucky Union is opening a route from the Elizabethtown, Lexington and Big Sandy to the rich coal, iron, and timber region of Eastern Kentucky. The Henderson Bridge is in course of construction, but will not be completed before the spring of 1885. The Breckinridge Coal Road is almost completed, and will be ready for business in a few months. The line of the Narrow-gauge from Clarksville, Tennessee, to Princeton, in this State, is being located, and several miles have already been graded. These, with other projected lines, will materially increase our railroad mileage, perhaps in the near future.

It appears from the report that the business of the various railroads in the State is increasing, and their general condition improving. Steel rails are being substituted for iron, and many facilities for travel and traffic furnished which have not existed heretofore. The Chesapeake and Ohio and Southwestern has reduced its local passenger fares to three cents per mile, making that the uniform rate with all the principal lines throughout the State. These, with other circumstances, have, no doubt, been conducive to the establishment of a better state of feeling between the people and those in charge of the management of the several roads, which is represented at present as being exceptionally pleasant and cordial.

It cannot be denied, however, that there is still more or less dissatisfaction with regard to local freight tariffs in some localities, and no doubt very justly so. At points thought to be admirably located for the manufacture of furniture, wagons, and agricultural implements of various kinds, capitalists who desired to embark in such enterprises have declined to do so from the fear that, after having made their plant, they would find themselves unable to compete with similar establishments in other localities on account of the excessive freight charges to which they might be subjected, both on their raw material and their manufactured products. That such an obstacle to the material development of any portion of the Commonwealth should exist, if it can be reasonably and justly obviated, is greatly to be deplored, and as far as it can be done by legislative action without an infringement of private rights, it should be removed. I am gratified, therefore, that while the Commissioners have very properly declined to recommend an attempt to establish any Procrustean tariff of freights by the Legislature, and think that it is not even advisable at this time to confer upon them the power to regulate rates, as has been done in some States, they nevertheless recommend such legislation as will prevent greater charges for shorter hauls, and seem to consider the question of "local rates" the one of paramount importance to the commercial interests of Kentucky at this time.

I am glad to find, also, that the Commissioners urge a commendable prudence in legislating in relation to railroads. They are among the grandest social and political forces of the age. They are indispensable to the proper development of the vast and varied resources of our State; and nothing should be unnecessarily or wantonly done to impede their construction. Yet equal, if not greater, care should be taken that, in our efforts for the encouragement of such enterprises, we do not sacrifice the interests of the people, nor detract from the sovereign power of the State. The citizen and the corporation are equally entitled to justice. Their rights are equally sacred in the eye of the law, and if we should be cautious not to jeopardize the creation or the business of the one, we should be equally cautious not to jeopardize the rights or the interests of the other.

The Commissioners, it will be observed, recommend an addition to their present powers and duties, in a variety of particulars unnecessary to be recapitulated here, and while I may not be prepared to concur in all their suggestions, I am clearly of the opinion that much of the authority asked for by them should be deposited somewhere, and it would, no doubt, be exercised by them as efficiently and as faithfully as by any other tribunal; but if it shall be found that the jurisdiction of the Commission cannot be judiciously enlarged, it becomes a question worthy of your consideration whether it would not be better to abandon it altogether, and devolve its present duties upon some other officer or officers of the State government—not because the Commissioners are not honest, capable, or faithful, but as a matter of economy to the Commonwealth.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY.

No expenditure of money has ever been made by our State Government which has been more prolific of good results than that which has been devoted to our Geological Survey, if, indeed, any other outlay of no greater amount can at all compare with it in the munificence of its returns. Previous to its inauguration comparatively little was known of our varied and almost illimitable resources, and, consequently, the vast tide of capital, as well as intelligent labor seeking new fields of employment, had drifted past us, and thousands of the most enterprising of our own people had been lured to other States supposed to have been more liberally endowed by nature with the various elements of material prosperity. But, although prosecuted year by year under great disadvantages compared with the liberal encouragement extended by other States to similar enterprises, it has demonstrated that our resources of every description are enormous—almost beyond the reach of computation; that our soils are adapted to the profitable growth of the widest range of agricultural products known to the temperate zone; that one half of our primitive forests, abounding in the greatest variety of valuable timbers, is still untouched; that our State abounds in the richest iron ores to be found in the world; and that our coal area is more extensive than that of the great State of Pennsylvania, or of Great Britain and Ireland combined, underlying nearly thirteen thousand square miles of our territory, thus leading to the successful prosecution of a large variety of useful enterprises, and the establishment of numerous industries before but little known in our State.

During the past two years the progress of the Survey has been especially gratifying. Among other important developments which it has effected in that time is the existence of an extensive area of coal, which can be cheaply mined, and is admirably adapted to the production of a most excellent coke. This discovery has already attracted the attention of capitalists, and will doubtless result in the construction of more than one important railway at no very distant date, penetrating a region at present devoid of commercial facilities, as well as in the establishment of extensive manufactures of iron, and the development of other important industries in our State.

In addition to the work in the mineral districts, the Survey has been engaged in the preparation of a complete map of the State, and the publication of a series of reports of its operations in the field and the laboratory, which will prove one of the most valuable contributions to agricultural and scientific literature yet made by any Geological Survey in the country.

The operations of the Bureau of Immigration, which was placed under the direction of the State Geologist by the act creating it, have also been peculiarly gratifying. Already seven colonies, composed of peaceable, industrious, wealth-producing people, have been established, to which accessions are constantly being made, while new colonies are in process of organization. These colonies, however, embrace but a fraction of the immigration brought into the State through the instrumentality of the Bureau. Thousands of others of the very best of the laboring classes of Europe have been induced by its publications and correspondence to make their homes in our midst, and if this work, so auspiciously begun, shall be continued with similar results, the population of our State will soon be largely increased by a most valuable accession of skillful artisans and thrifty agriculturists, whose energy and industry will contribute very materially to the general prosperity of the Commonwealth. I scarcely need add that, in my judgment, it merits and should receive the most liberal encouragement at your hands.

SPURIOUS LAND TITLES.

I feel constrained in this connection to invoke your earnest attention to a very serious and growing evil, which if not remedied in some manner, will retard the development and affect the prosperity of our State to an alarming extent. I allude to the rapid multiplication of spurious land titles under our present statutes, which require the Governor to issue patents attested by the broad seal of the Commonwealth, purporting to convey hundreds of acres to which the State has not a shadow of title, and which, in many instances, have been patented a half dozen times before. It is easy to be seen how readily such documents may be used as the instruments of the basest frauds, especially upon the ignorant and unsuspecting immigrant who desires to make his home in our State, and to what endless litigation, with all its disastrous concomitants, they must lead. I would therefore recommend that the law requiring the issual of patents to any lands claimed to be vacant be repealed outright, or so amended that no such patent shall be issued unless upon indubitable proof that the same land has not been previously patented.

LAWLESSNESS.

I desire, moreover, to place on record an emphatic and indignant contradiction of the slanderous accusation so frequently repeated, with the view of diverting immigration from our State, that there is such a lawless contempt for human life among our people as to render it unsafe or undesirable for the settler from other lands to make his home in their midst. To show the grossness of this fashionable falsehood, appeal need only be made to the thousands of prosperous immigrants whose peaceful firesides and happy households attest the fact that there is as much regard for human life in our State as in any country beneath the sun. That homicides occur in our midst is not to be denied; but that murders, or even unprovoked assaults, are more frequent in Kentucky than elsewhere, is utterly untrue, as is attested not only by the criminal statistics of the country, but by the experience of the hundreds whose business requires them to travel constantly through all parts of the State, and to mingle with all classes of its population. One of the most distinguished journalists of England recently gave it as his deliberate opinion, after a careful study of all the facts attainable from statistics, as well as from personal observation during two extended tours through the State, that human life is just as safe in Kentucky as in Great Britain; and that the immigrant might come into our midst with the fullest assurance that if there is a single trait in human character for which our people are pre-eminently distinguished, it is kindness and hospitality to the stranger within their gates.

In conclusion, gentlemen, permit me to express the hope that the wisdom and harmony of your deliberations may mark the present General Assembly as the most memorable in the legislative annals of our State, and to assure you that in everything you may undertake consistently with the limitations of the organic law to develop the resources, quicken the progress, or promote the prosperity of the Commonwealth, you shall receive my most cordial coöperation.

At the regular meeting of the Board of Commissioners of the Eastern Kentucky Lunatic Asylum, held on the 9th day of January, 1884, the following resolution was offered, and unanimously adopted, to-wit:

It appearing that the steward, upon the order of the superintendent, purchased the supplies for the asylum for the past month, and received the purchases so made from the sellers thereof, and that the prices thereof are fair and just, it is therefore decided by the commissioners that the claims of those furnishing the supplies are just and legal claims against the asylum, and are ordered to be paid; but it appearing that the greater part of the supplies for the past month were not delivered to S G. Reordan, the receiver, as required by law, but to an unauthorized person, not an officer of this institution, by the wrongful acts of the superintendent and steward, the commissioners are unable to declare whether or not said supplies have been applied to the use of the asylum; and having no power under the law, as it now stands, to correct the wrong, the attention of the Governor and Legislature is directed to the above facts for proper correction.

Attest: JOHN T. SHELBY, Secretary.

Ordered, That said resolution be referred to the Committee on Charitable Institutions.

§ 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the Auditor of Public Accounts be, and he is hereby, directed to draw his warrant on the Treasury in favor of J. M. Tyree for the sum of $162.70, payable out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Resolved, That the title of said bill be as aforesaid.

Mr. Wilson moved to reconsider the vote by which the Senate had passed said bill.

Which motion was simply entered.

The Senate, according to order, took up for consideration a bill, entitled

A bill authorizing the Governor and his successor to employ an agent to urge the collection of a claim the State of Kentucky has against the Government of the United States.

Said bill reads as follows, viz:

WHEREAS. In the year 1861 there was, by an act of Congress, an excise or direct tax imposed on the several States of this Union of twenty millions of dollars for the purpose of prosecuting the war against the rebellion of some of the States against the Government of the United States; and whereas, the State of Kentucky's proportion of said twenty millions of money was $713,695.33; and whereas, in compliance with said act of Congress, the State of Kentucky assumed and did pay her proportion of said twenty millions, to-wit: the sum of $713,695.33, less fifteen per cent., into the Treasury of the United States; and whereas, many of the other States of the Union paid likewise their proportion of said twenty millions, and others did not; therefore, in consideration of the premises, it appears to this General Assembly, now in session, that it is just and right, in equity and good conscience, that the Government of the United States, through or by an act of Congress, or in some other way, reimburse or pay back to the State of Kentucky (and to all other States who have paid under the act of Congress aforesaid) the amount she has paid the General Government as aforesaid, with such interest as may seem just for detaining the same; therefore, that justice may be done in the premises,

§ 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the Governor of the State or his successor be, and he hereby, authorized and empowered to employ a competent agent, such conditions and restrictions as he may deem proper, to present and collect the claim of the State against the Government of the United States described in the preamble or enacting clause of this act; and he is authorized to agree to pay said agent for his services a sum not exceeding fifteen per cent. on all sums of money collected and paid into the Treasury of Kentucky in pursuance of this act.

§ 2. This act to be enforced from its passage.

The question was then taken upon the amendment heretofore proposed by Mr. Boles to said bill, which strikes out the word "fifteen," where it occurs therein, and inserts in lieu thereof the word "five," and it was decided in the negative.

The yeas and nays being required thereon by Messrs. Boles and Haggard, were as follows, viz:

Those who voted in the affirmative, were—

S. H. Boles,	James Garnett,	Edward Reiley,
H. C. Bruce,	Rodney Haggard,	Claiborne J. Walton,
Wilhite Carpenter,	Austin Peay,	J. H. Wilson—10.
Henry C. Dixon,

Those who voted in the negative, were—

John Bennett,	J. D. Fogle,	J. R. W. Smith,
R. A. Burnett,	W. H. Frederick,	E. R. Sparks,
W J. Caudill,	R. G. Hays,	R. A. Spurr,
A. R. Clarke,	D. L. Moore,	W. H. Taulbee,
J. D. Elliott,	David Poole,	C M. Vaughan—15.

Mr. Peay moved to amend said bill by striking out the word "fifteen," where it occurs therein, and inserting in lieu thereof the word "ten."

And the question being taken thereon, it was decided in the affirmative.

The Senate then took up for consideration the substitute heretofore proposed by Mr. Wilson to said bill.

Said proposed substitute reads as follows, viz:

WHEREAS, In the year 1861 there was, by an act of Congress, an excise or direct tax imposed on the several States of this Union of twenty millions of dollars, for the purpose of prosecuting the war against the rebellion of some of the States against the Government of the United States; and whereas, the State of Kentucky's proportion of said twenty millions of money was $713,695.33; and whereas, in compliance with said act of Congress, the State did pay into the United States Treasury its due proportion as aforesaid, less fifteen per cent., costs of collection; and whereas, it is alleged that no other Southern State complied with the provisions of said act of Congress by paying the whole or any part of the amount assessed against it; therefore,

§ 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the Governor of this State be, and he is hereby, requested to report to this body whether he has any information whereby he is led to believe that Kentucky, by reason of having paid said tax, can or will be reimbursed by the National Government, and what action, in his opinion, on the part of Kentucky may be necessary to secure to her the repayment of said amount.

§ 2. This act shall take effect from its passage.

Mr. Hays objected to the consideration of said proposed substitute, because it was not germain to the subject.

The Speaker sustained the objection, and ruled the proposed amendment out of order.

Mr. Walton moved to reconsider the vote by which the Senate had adopted the amendment proposed by Mr. Peay.

And the question being taken thereon, it was decided in the affirmative.

Mr. Burnett moved to reconsider the vote by which the Senate had rejected the amendment proposed by Mr. Boles to said bill.

And the question being taken thereon, it was decided in the affirmative.

The question was then taken on the adoption of said proposed amendment, and it was decided in the affirmative.

The yeas and nays being required thereon by Messrs. Hays and Poole, were as follows, viz :

Those who voted in the affirmative, were—

S. H. Boles,	James Garnett,	Ferdinand Rigney,

W. J. Caudill,	Austin Peay,	J. H. Wilson—17.

A. R Clarke,	L. M. Martin,	R. A. Spurr,
J. D. Elliott.	David Poole,	W. H. Taulbee—11.
W. H. Frederick,	J. R. W. Smith,

Pending the consideration of said bill, the hour having arrived for the execution of the joint order of the day, further action thereon was cut off.

At 12 o'clock, M., the Speaker announced that the hour had now arrived for the execution of the joint order of the day, the election of a Senator in the Congress of the United States.

A bill authorizing the Governor and his successor to employ an agent to urge the collection of a claim the State of Kentucky has against the Government of the United States,

The question being upon the passage of said bill.

Said bill reads as follows, viz:

WHEREAS, In the year 1861 there was, by an act of Congress, an excise or direct tax imposed on the several States of this Union of twenty millions of dollars for the purpose of prosecuting the war against the rebellion of some of the States against the Government of the United States; and whereas, the State of Kentucky's proportion of said twenty millions of money was $713,695.33; and whereas, in compliance with said act of Congress, the State of Kentucky assumed and did pay her proportion of said twenty millions, to-wit: the sum of $713,695.33, less fifteen per cent., into the Treasury of the United States; and whereas, many of the other States of the Union paid likewise their proportion of said twenty millions, and others did not; therefore, in consideration of the premises, it appears to this General Assembly, now in session, that it is just and right, in equity and good conscience, that the Government of the United States, through or by an act of Congress, or in some other way, reimburse or pay back to the State of Kentucky (and to all other States who have paid under the act of Congress aforesaid) the amount she has paid the General Government as aforesaid, with such interest as may seem just for detaining the same; therefore, that justice may be done in the premises,

§ 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the Governor of the State or his successor be, and he is hereby, authorized and empowered to employ a competent agent, on such conditions and restrictions as he may deem proper, to present and collect the claim of the State against the Government of the United States described in the preamble or enacting clause of this act; and he is authorized to agree to pay said agent for his services a sum not exceeding fifteen per cent. on all sums of money collected and paid into the Treasury of Kentucky in pursuance of this act.

§ 2. This act to be enforced from its passage.

The question was then taken on the passage of said bill, and it was decided in the negative.

The yeas and nays being required thereon by Messrs. Hays and Smith, were as follows, viz:

Those who voted in the affirmative, were—

Wilhite Carpenter,	David Poole,	E. R. Sparks,
D. L. Moore,	J. N. Price,	W. H. Taulbee,
Austin Peay,	J. R. W. Smith,	C. M. Vaughan—9.

Those who voted in the negative, were—

After a short time, Mr. Martin reported that the committee had performed that duty.

A message was received from the House of Representatives, announcing that they were now ready to execute the joint order of the day.

LOUISVILLE, KY., February 7, 1884.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives, Frankfort, Ky.:

HONORABLE SIRS: I have a portrait of one of the old pioneers of Kentucky (Simon Kenton), hanging in your Senate chamber, one of two that I copied from the original portrait by Jouett, the only original that is known to be in existence. It was taken in 1812, when he, Simon Kenton, came to Frankfort to get his taxes remitted, and in the suit of clothes the citizens of Frankfort presented him with. Dr. C. C. Graham, who has hunted with him, and knew him well, says that the portrait now hanging in your Senate chamber is a most excellent likeness, and gave a certificate to that effect, which I am informed is on file in the archives of the Senate. I should like very much for the State of Kentucky (my native State) to own this portrait, and now appeal to your honorable body to pass an act to purchase the same, for the small sum of one hundred dollars.

Yours, very respectfully,
TIP SAUNDERS.

Ordered, That said communication be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. Robbins, from the committee appointed on Saturday last to visit the Eastern Lunatic Asylum at Lexington, and to examine and report what immediate repairs and improvements were necessary for said institution, presented the following report, viz:

To the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Your committee, appointed on the 9th day of February, 1884, to investigate the cause of the overflow of water at the Eastern Lunatic Asylum, and to provide a remedy therefor, respectfully submit the following report: We proceeded to Lexington on the 9th instant, and on the 10th to the said asylum, where we found the boiler-room partly inundated, and the fires out. The house containing the boiler is situated in a low place, near what is known as the Sinking Springs. There is a natural sewer, which was formerly sufficient to drain off all the water that accumulated in this place, but the sewer now is supposed to be partly obstructed. The surface water from a considerable portion of the city runs into said low place, causing a pond, which, in wet seasons, rises so high that the boilers are inundated, as aforesaid. This has occured twice before—once in December, 1869, and again in February, 1883. At the time last named, the water was at least two feet higher than it was when we visited the asylum.

These floods have occasioned considerable inconvenience, but have not, so far as we could ascertain, resulted in any serious injury to the health of the inmates, and by extra exertion they have always been kept in a moderately comfortable condition until the water subsided.

By seven o'clock on yesterday (February 10th), the fires had again been started, and the trouble, so far as the present is concerned, had passed. It is however likely to recur during the present winter, and at any time when there is a heavy rain-fall, or wet season. No remedy can be applied in the existing condition of things to obviate the difficulty, and it is necessary that the General Assembly shall adopt some plan that will afford permanent relief. Three plans were suggested to us.

The first is the erection of a new boiler house, and the removal of the machinery to a point on higher grounds in the rear of the asylum.

The second is to construct a sewer seven or eight hundred feet long, which, by employing the inmates and using terra-cotta pipes, could be probably done at a cost of from $1,500 to $2,000.

The third is to open the natural outlet, which, if practicable, would probably be the cheapest method.

The building of a new boiler-house, and the removal of the machinery, would cost not less than $10,000, and probably more.

We recommend that this report be referred to the Committee on Charitable Institutions in the two Houses, and that said committees be directed to devise and put into operation some plan that will effectually prevent any recurrence of the trouble referred to.

BEN. S. ROBBINS,
AUSTIN PEAY,
W. F. PEAK,

Mr. Spurr, from the Committee on Immigration and Labor, to whom was referred a bill from the House of Representatives, entitled

An act to amend an act, entitled "An act to amend, digest, and reduce into one all acts incorporating the city of Lexington," approved April 19, 1882,

Reported the same with an amendment.

Mr. Dixon sent to the Clerk's desk and had read the following minority report, viz:

The minority of your committee, to whom was referred the amendment to the charter of the city of Lexington, dissents from the report of the majority of said committee, and gives the following as his reasons therefor:

The charter of the city of Lexington requires, as a qualification for its voters, that they shall pay, on or before the 15th day of January next preceding an election to be held on the first Saturday of the succeeding March, a capitation tax of one dollar and a half.

This matter of voters living in cities and towns being required to pay a capitation tax in order to be qualified to vote in said city and town elections, though it has been brought before the highest courts of the State, has never yet been decided to be constitutional.

Section 8, article 2, of the Constitution prescribes the following as the only qualifications for voters: "Every free white male citizen of the age of twenty-one years, who has resided in the State two years, or in the county, town, or city in which he offers to vote, one year next preceding the election, shall be a voter; but such voter shall have been, for sixty days next preceding the election, a resident of the precinct in which he offers to vote, and he shall vote in said precinct, and not elsewhere."

Of course the amendment to the Constitution of the United States, conferring the right of suffrage upon the negroes, has virtually striken out the word white from said section.

The constitutionality of this capitation tax as a qualification for voters, to say the least, is questionable.

Its policy is still more so, for it is in violation of the principles of republican government, inasmuch as it deprives freemen of a voice in elections; and is in violation of honesty and good morals, in that it opens the way for corruption and bribery; for it is a well known fact that the candidates for office pay the capitation taxes of a great many voters in order to secure their votes. But the constitutionality and policy of this qualification all aside, what does this bill propose to effect?

Does it amend the charter in any material part? Does it repeal the qualification clause? Not at all. It simply gives to the citizens of Lexington further time to pay this tax and qualify themselves as voters.

Your committee recognizes the fact that there is a great deal of politics in the indorsement of and opposition to this bill. The gentlemen in opposition have conceded that at any other time than this they would offer no objection to its passage.

That shows that it is not such a material amendment as should require the votes of the citizens of Lexington for its adoption.

But grant that it passes. What injury will be done thereby to the city of Lexington, or either of the parties contesting for office in said city? Will not the revenues of the city be increased? Will not hundreds of men be enfranchised? Will not the voters qualified under this act be the legal qualified voters of the city? Can it be that any part of the Democracy of Kentucky, holding as one of the cardinal principles of their political faith that the majority shall rule, is afraid of the people? And will not the contesting parties have an equal chance to secure voters from the ranks of the men qualified by this act?

All which, the foregoing, your committee respectfully submits.

HENRY C. DIXON.

Mr. Fogle presented and had read the petition of sundry citizens of the city of Lexington, praying the passage of said act.

Mr. Spurr presented and had read a remonstrance from sundry citizens of Lexington, protesting against the passage of said act.

Pending the consideration of said bill, the hour of 11½ o'clock, A. M., having arrived, further action thereon was cut off by the joint order of the day.

And every inmate shall be allowed to write when and whatever he or she desires to any person he or she may choose; and it is hereby made the duty of the Superintendent to furnish each and every inmate of each and every insane asylum in this State with suitable material for writing, inclosing, sealing, stamping, and mailing letters, sufficient at least for the writing of one letter a week, provided they request the same, unless they are otherwise furnished with such material; and all such letters

To the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Your Committee, appointed to visit the Western Lunatic Asylum at Hopkinsville, Ky., for the purpose of investigating the conduct and management of said Institution, would respectfully ask leave to report that your Committee has discharged the duty imposed on it by the joint resolution of both Houses, and after a full inquiry into various charges preferred against the Superintendent and Board of Commissioners in the management of said Asylum, find them unfounded, and entirely unsustained by the proof taken upon every allegation made.

Your Committee inquired into the treatment of the inmates of said Asylum, and found that there was no evidence of cruelty or neglect, and in no instance has an inmate lost his or her life through the agency, neglect, or misconduct of any officer, agent, or employé.

Your Committee, by its investigation, has not developed a single case in which an inmate has been received contrary to the law governing the Institution, nor has any one been improperly detained; and if there has been any neglect of duty or unfaithfulness upon the part of any officer or employé, we were unable to discover it.

Your Committee also made a careful examination of the books of the Steward and Receiver, and other books connected with the Institution, and failed to find any evidence of irregularities in the purchase of supplies and stores, or the sale of the surplus products of the farm, or that any money had been wrongfully used by the Superintendent, Commissioners, or any other officer or employé of the Asylum.

Your Committee found no disposition upon the part of any officer or employé to interfere with, or attempt to defeat, the lawful and proper administration of the affairs of said Asylum, and failed to find any unauthorized officer, agent, or employé connected therewith.

Your Committee examined into the financial management of the Asylum, and found it all the State could desire, it being run upon a safe and economical basis, there being no evidence of extravagance by any of its officers.

Your Committee made a careful examination of all the wards in the buildings, the kitchen, wash-house, and other apartments, and found the sanitary condition good. The rooms are all neat, clean, and well ventilated.

Your Committee saw all the inmates, both white and colored, and found them nearly all in good state of health, clothed neat and clean, and well fed. We find that the Institution is conducted on principles of humanity and kindness, and that ducking, towel baths, or other modes of punishment, are wholly unknown in said Asylum.

Lastly, it is the opinion of your Committee that all the affairs of this Asylum are admirably managed and the Superintendent and Board of Commissioners deserve very great credit for the success in making this a model Institution, upon which our people can look with pride.

All of which is respectfully submitted, together with all the proof taken.

Said bill reads as follows, viz:

WHEREAS, By an act approved December 20th, 1865, the General Assembly appropriated $5,000 to the Bardstown and Louisville Turnpike Road Company, to aid in re-building certain bridges upon said road, the State being owner of a majority of the capital stock of said road company, and said appropriation being made upon the condition that said sum—$5,000—and its interest, should be refunded to the State out of the net tolls to be collected. (See Session Acts 1865–'66, page 31, chapter 53.) And by an act of the General Assembly approved February 15, 1866, the State appropriated the further sum of $5,000 to the Bardstown and Green River Turnpike Road Company, to aid in re-building the bridge on said road across the Bush Fork, upon the condition that said sum and its interest should be refunded to the State out of the tolls to be collected. (See Session Acts 1865–'66, p. 510, chap. 608.) And the State, by an act of the General Assembly approved February 17, 1866, also appropriated $5,000 to the Springfield and Bardstown Turnpike Road Company, to aid in re-building the bridge on said road across the Bush Fork of Salt river, upon the condition that said sum, with interest, should be refunded out of the tolls to be collected; and whereas, the General Assembly, by an act approved March 9th, 1868, repealed the second section of the act for the benefit of the Springfield and Bardstown Turnpike Road Company, and by an act of same date repealed the second section of the act for the benefit of the Bardstown and Green River Turnpike Road Company (see said repealing acts in Session Acts, 1867–'8, pages 500 and 513), by which it was intended to release said road companies from the obligation to return said sums appropriated, and all interest thereon, and said acts did so release them, and no part of said sums, nor any interest thereon, was ever paid back to the State; and whereas, the General Assembly, by an act approved February 13, 1869, repealed the 3d section of said act, entitled "An act to re-build the bridges on the Bardstown and Louisville Turnpike Road," whereby it intended and attempted to release said road company from all obligation to refund to the State any part of said $5,000 appropriated and its interest, which act of release was regarded as effectual for that purpose up to the — day of ———, when the Attorney General for the State discovered a defect in said repealing act, viz, that section 2 as well as section 3 of said act should have been repealed in order to release the company from the obligation to refund, &c., and thereupon instituted suit for the recovery of said $5,000, and interest thereon, from date of the appropriation, in which suit, on account of the failure to repeal section 2 of said act, judgment was rendered in favor of the State for the amount claimed, to-wit, $5,000, and interest thereon from the 30th day of April, 1866, and costs of suits, upon which judgment the sum of $5,000, and the costs of said suit, have been paid; that the payment of said $5,000 was made by said company into the State Treasury on the — day of ————, and was intended to be in full satisfaction of the original sum appropriated, and the principal sum named in said judgment, the company continuing to protest against the payment of interest thereon under the circumstances of this case; therefore,

§ 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the payment of $5,000, and the costs upon said judgment, as set out in the preamble to this act, shall be deemed and held to be in full of the amount due the State upon said claim, the State hereby releasing all further claim to the interest given by said judgment; and upon the filing of a copy of this act with the clerk of the Nelson circuit court, in which court said judgment was rendered, said clerk shall indorse said judgment as fully satisfied.

§ 2. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as giving to said road company, or to the stockholders of same, any right to claim or recover from the State said principal, $5,000, or any part thereof.

§ 3. This act shall take effect and be in force from its passage.

Mr. Cox moved to amend said bill by adding to the first section thereof the following, viz:

Provided, The said turnpike company shall refund to the State any and all costs and attorney's fees that may have been paid in the prosecution of the suit against said company, and in addition shall pay to the attorney his fee of 20 per cent. on the balance remaining of the unpaid judgment.

Mr. Fogle moved to amend said proposed amendment by substituting in lieu thereof the following, viz:

Provided, The company shall pay to the State an amount equal to the per cent. paid by the State to him, and shall pay to the Attorney General his legal fees upon the balance of the judgment unpaid.

And the question being taken thereon, it was decided in the negative.

The question was then taken on the adoption of the amendment proposed by Mr. Cox, and it was decided in the affirmative.

The objection of the Governor to said bill reads as follows, viz:

STATE OF KENTUCKY, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
FRANKFORT, KY, January 30, 1884.

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives:

Finding myself unable to approve the bill, entitled "An act to incorporate the Covington and Cincinnati Pier Bridge Company," I respectfully return it for reconsideration, with a brief statement of my objections to its enactment.

The security of private property is one of the chief objects of civil government. It is not a mere artificial right, resulting from conventional guaranties, but a demand of natural justice which it is the purpose of social organization to enforce. It is not only indispensable to the existence of Republican freedom, but to the perpetuity of civilization itself, that all persons shall be protected in the dominion and enjoyment of the acquisitions of their own industry and prudence; and that the property of one person shall not be taken from him by, or for the benefit of, another who has no right to it, without his consent. Yet, in my judgment, the measure under consideration is plainly repugnant so this axiomatic principle.

That the State has right to tax its citizens for the purpose of constructing roads, canals, bridges, and other works of public necessity, whenever the popular exigencies may demand it, I do not pretend to question. I am aware also that it has been held, not only by our own Court of Appeals, but by a large number of the courts of ultimate resort throughout the Union, that it is competent for the Legislature, unless restrained by some special provision in the organic law of the Commonwealth, to empower counties, cities, and towns to become stockholders in corporations organized for the construction of turnpikes, railroads, and other works of internal improvement, and to levy the necessary taxes on the inhabitants and property subject to general taxation within their respective limits, to enable them to meet the indebtedness thus incurred. In very few instances, however, has such a doctrine been held by a unanimous court, while in some the existence of any such power has been denied in terms of earnest and solemn protest, and it is not too much to say that the disastrous consequences which have followed its recognition have been far greater than was anticipated by the most perspicacious opponent of the doctrine when it was first advanced.

Whether the principle thus declared was true or false, it is immaterial now to inquire, as the bill under discussion is clearly not within its purview. There was some pretext, perhaps, for its maintenance in the cases alluded to, in the fact that in each of them it was supposed that the municipality would receive at least some remuneration for its outlay in the stock of the corporation to which it was authorized to subscribe, and that it would have a corresponding share in shaping the policy and managing the affairs of the company. But in this instance it is not proposed that the city of Covington shall be empowered to become the owner of stock to any amount whatever in the contemplated corporation, or that it shall have any part in its organization, or any voice in the control of its concerns. On the contrary, the proposition, when reduced to its simplest terms, is this: that the Legislature shall create a person with power to build a bridge from a given point in the city of Covington across the Ohio river, and that the city, with the assent of a majority of its qualified voters, shall donate to that person $600,000 in its bonds, due forty years after date, and bearing interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum, payable every six months—in other words, $1,800,000—on condition that the proposed bridge shall be forever free as a foot-way to all mankind who may choose to use it as such, and that its owner shall never charge more than a certain rate for the passage of such vehicles and quadrupeds as may cross upon it; and that every tax-payer of the city shall be compelled to contribute, in proportion to his taxable wealth, to the sum thus donated, whether he shall be willing to do so or not; while in the meantime the person to be brought into existence by the bill is to have all the profits arising from the enterprise, or having reaped all the benefits of the donation, may abandon the bridge to decay and ruin if at any time it should cease to be profitable.

That this is a mere scheme for private emoluments, by which the fortunes of one class of persons are to be enhanced at the expense of another, and without any of the essential elements of a public use in the proper sense of that term, is perhaps sufficiently apparent from this simple presentation of its principal features; but it would probably be more obvious to some minds if a private individual of ample means should undertake the enterprise on his own account, and it should be proposed to make the donation directly to him on the terms prescribed in the bill. Still, the principle would be the same in one instance as in the other. In both, the effect would simply be to transfer property from those to whom it belongs, to others who have no right to it either in morals or in law.

It may be said that a municipality may be authorized to levy a tax in order to build a bridge which shall be entirely free, and that therefore it may impose a tax in order to pay the owners of a private bridge to make it partially free. But there is a wide difference in the principle underlying the two cases. In the one case the bridge would be public property, belonging absolutely to the sovereign, who might make such disposition of it, and at all times control it as the public interest might require; in the other, the property would belong to a private person, who might or might not manage it to suit the public will in all respects as he might see proper.

Nor can such a donation be justified on the ground that it is for a public use, because it would tend to increase the population or otherwise promote the prosperity of the city. The same might be said of mills, manufactories, and works of a similar character which minister to the convenience or add to the aggregate wealth of the community. Yet it has been invariably held that no tax can constitutionally be laid for the promotion of such enterprises, however much they may incidentally contribute to the general welfare, or however amply the loan for such purposes may be secured. The Supreme Court of the United States, in the Loan Association vs Topeka, 20 Wal., 656, holding such a tax to be unconstitutional and void, said in language as forcible as it was appropriate:

"To lay with one hand the power of the government on the property of the citizen, and with the other to bestow it upon favored individuals, to aid in private enterprises and build up private fortunes, is none the less a robbery because it is done under the forms of law, and is called taxation. This is not legislation. It is a decree under legislative forms."

But granting that this is not an enterprise for mere private gain, but for a public purpose, how is the citizen to be compensated for the property which is to be taken from him and appropriated to it? As I have already remarked, the city of Covington is to have no property in the bridge, and no interest in the affairs of the company which is to own and control it. Whatever profits may be made, the tax-payers of Covington reap no benefit from them, but they all go into the coffers of the stockholders. Nor can it be said that the incidental advantages which may accrue to the people of the city constitute that just compensation due to the tax-payer for his forced contribution to the building of this bridge In every case in which our Court of Appeals has had occasion to examine the question, it has held that, whenever the property of the citizen is taken from him for a public use, he must have a direct equivalent, and not be put off with the probability of compensation in incidental benefits which may or may not result to him from the enterprise for which his property is taken.

Nor is it enough to say that a large majority of the voters of Covington are in favor of the project as proposed in the bill. That they greatly desire cheaper fares in crossing the Ohio I have no doubt, and that they are oppressed in that regard by existing monopolies may be equally true; but constitutional guarantees are intended mainly for the protection of minorities, and as our Bill of Rights declares, "arbitrary power over the property of a freeman exists nowhere in a Republic, not even in the largest majority."

With the question of mere local policy I have nothing to do. If I could believe the proposition to be consistent with the natural inherent rights of the citizen, as guaranteed in the fundamental laws of the Government, I would not object to it, on the grounds that possibly it might prove to be an incubus upon the community long before the lapse of forty years; but impressed, as I am, with the opinion that it is a dangerous departure from the great principle of private right, which lies at the very foundation of our social structure, I cannot approve it.

There are, however, other objections to the bill which, in my judgment, are insuperable, and to which I deem it my duty to call your attention. Section 13 provides that "the property and bonds and stock of said corporation, and the bonds of the city of Covington in its aid, shall be forever exempt from municipal taxation by the city of Covington." Of the injustice and unconstitutionality of such an unequal distribution of the burdens of taxation among citizens of the same community, I have heretofore given my views, and I need not repeat them here. But in this particular instance the exemption prescribed would seem to be peculiarly oppressive, inasmuch as the bill, if operative in that particular, will enable the corporation, or its assigns, to realize in forty years over four millions of dollars out of the forced contributions which will be levied upon the citizens of Covington, to say nothing of the additional weight which must necessarily be transferred to them should this provision be made.

But, again: section 15, which provides that the election at which the qualified voters are to determine whether the city of Covington shall contribute her bonds to the Covington and Cincinnati Pier Bridge Company, shall be held "from six o'clock in the morning to eight and one half o'clock in the evening," is in direct conflict with the 16th section of article 8 of the Constitution, which prescribes that "all elections by the people shall be held between the hours of six o'clock in the morning and seven o'clock in the evening."

I will not protract this paper by reference to objections of a minor character, perhaps, which might be urged against the passage of the bill, but it would be a neglect of the duty which I owe to you if I should fail to call your attention to the extraordinary provision contained in section 19, which makes a most glaring exception to the general rules and principles of jurisprudence which apply to all other persons, natural and artificial, in similar cases. It will be observed, especially, that it provides a most remarkable measure of damages to the corporation in a given contingency peculiar to this one particular person, and differing from anything to be found in any just and enlightened system of laws known among men. Such special legislation is not only in palpable controversion of more than one of the provisions of our Constitution, but leads to the conclusion that it is designed for no other purpose than to deter all who may feel so disposed from testing the constitutionality of the act should it finally go upon the statute book as a law. Such an attempt to suppress, by peculiar and extraordinary penalties, a free resort to the courts of this Commonwealth for redress by any citizen, even the humblest, cannot be too severely reprehended, and for that reason, if for no other, this bill should be condemned.

Very respectfully,

J. PROCTOR KNOTT.

Said trustees shall use said money in the purchase of improved property, or in the purchase of a lot, and in the construction thereon of buildings suitable for such a Home; and they may appoint such Committees as may be deemed proper to assist them in the purchase of improved property, or in the purchase of a lot, and in the construction thereon of suitable buildings for such Home; and the money hereby donated, together with any other sums which may have been, or which may hereafter be appropriated, from any source whatever, for the purpose above specified, shall not, nor shall any part thereof, be used for any other purpose, unless with the consent of the donor or donors thereof.

§ 2. Before receiving said money, the trustees of said corporation shall take an oath, and sign and deliver the same to the Treasurer of this State, that they will faithfully appropriate the money hereby donated, to the purposes designated in this act, and that no part of the same shall be diverted therefrom, unless with the consent of the donor or donors thereof.

Commonwealth, or the counties entitled thereto, have been paid in full for these lands, and for the purpose of ratifying and making good all such grants, therefore,

§ 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That all patents issued by the Commonwealth of Kentucky, and not declared void by the Court of Appeals of this State, for lands which include within their exterior boundaries lands theretofore patented or entered and surveyed, and which, on their face, in general terms, exclude the said lands theretofore patented or entered and surveyed, be, and they are hereby, declared valid and legal as of their several respective dates, notwithstanding the fact the said excluded lands may not be described or identified by them: Provided, That this act shall in no manner affect the rights of any claimant of the said excluded lands, or of any lands within the said exterior boundaries which would have been valid and enforceable, if this act had not been passed.

WHEREAS, A few benevolent and Christian people of the city of Louisville have become incorporated into a body-politic for the good and Christian purpose of establishing and maintaining as best they can, a home and abiding place in said city, for the friendless and fallen women of this State. The corporators organized under their charter, and opened a rented house in said city, and have operated said institution for several years as best they could, wholly upon such means as the charitable of said city were disposed to contribute. Much good has been done in this noble enterprise. Numbers of fallen women have been rescued from vice and criminality, and become dutiful and virtuous wives, and faithful and honest servants. This having been accomplished in so short a time with the limited means at their command, is an earnest of the magnificent results that will follow if endowed by the State with money enough to purchase and fit up a moderate home for the many that seek food, shelter, and protection at the hands of its noble founders; therefore,

§ 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the sum of ten thousand dollars be appropriated to————, the President of said Home, to be used for the purposes set forth in the preamble or enacting clause; and the Auditor is hereby directed to draw his warrant on the Treasurer for said sum, payable to ————, for the purposes and uses as aforesaid.

§ 2. This act to be in force from and after it passage.

The question being on the adoption of the substitute proposed by the committee for said bill, which reads as follows, viz:

§ 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the sum of ten thousand dollars is hereby donated to the "Woman's Christian Association of Louisville," Kentucky, to enable said corporation to procure a suitable lot and buildings in said city, to be used as a home for friendless and fallen women of the State of Kentucky, the same to be paid out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, and the Auditor of Public Accounts is directed to draw his warrant on the Treasury in favor of the trustees of said corporation for said sum. Said trustees shall use said money in the purchase of improved property, or in the purchase of a lot, and in the construction thereon of buildings suitable for such a Home; and they may appoint such Committees as may be deemed proper to assist them in the purchase of improved property, or in the purchase of a lot, and in the construction thereon of suitable buildings for such Home; and the money hereby donated, together with any other sums which may have been, or which may hereafter be appropriated, from any source whatever, for the purpose above specified, shall not, nor shall any part thereof, be used for any other purpose, unless with the consent of the donor or donors thereof.

§ 2. Before receiving said money, the trustees of said corporation shall take an oath, and sign and deliver the same to the Treasurer of this State, that they will faithfully appropriate the money hereby donated, to the purposes designated in this act, and that no part of the same shall be diverted therefrom, unless with the consent of the donor or donors thereof.

§ 3. This act shall take effect and be in force from its passage.

Mr. Hays moved to amend said proposed substitute by striking out the words "ten thousand dollars," where they occur therein, and inserting in lieu thereof the words "five thousand dollars."

And the question being taken thereon, it was decided in the affirmative.

The question was then taken on the adoption of the substitute, as amended, and it was decided in the affirmative.

The Senate took up for consideration a resolution, entitled

Resolution expressive of the policy of the present General Assembly.

Said resolution reads as follows, viz :

Be it esolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the true policy of Kentucky is:

First. Liberal exemption laws, in order that the sanctity of homes may be protected, and that those priceless bulwarks against communism and against usurpation may be encouraged, and that the implements of earning life may not be taken from the laborer.

Second. Strict limitation laws, in order that, with the security of homes, immigration from less favored lands may be stimulated.

Third. A just distribution of the cost of government among the several communities of the State in proportion to their means, and, to that end, some mode of equalizing assessment in the various counties.

Fourth. An efficient method of collecting the taxes assessed, so that the fiscal affairs of the Commonwealth may be made healthy without increase of the rate of taxation.

Fifth. A system in the Land Office such that the State shall not be guilty of the crime of granting the same land to more than one purchaser, and that it may be possible to ascertain what land has been granted and what remains to the State.

Sixth A humane code of criminal laws, discriminating more strictly between public and private wrongs, applying only to the former; and, by the hope of reward, as well as by the fear of punishment, seeking to reclaim the convict to usefulness and happiness; looking also to the lowest death-rate among convicts, and to the utmost prevention of escapes of that outlawed and desperate class into innocent communities.

Seventh. Thorough inspection, from time to time, of the public charities.

Eighth The widest extension of the benefits of education compatible with the purposes of government.

Ninth. An administration of the public affairs as economical as may be consistent with thoroughness.

Tenth. A revised constitution, such as will insure more attention of the General Assembly to public affairs, and will remit private and local affairs to local authorities.

And to these ends.

Be it further resolved, That the following committees, to consist of three Senators and eight Representatives, be appointed by the Speakers of the respective Houses, to-wit:

A Committee on Exemption and Limitation Laws.

A Committee on Revenue Reform

A Committee on the Public Lands

A Committee on the Criminal Laws and Public Charities.

A Committee on the School Laws.

A Committee on Administrative Economy and Revision of the Constitution.

And that the Governor is empowered to appoint five persons to act with said Committee on Revenue Reform, and that the Auditor shall be an ex officio member thereof. That said committees shall sit when and where in the State they may elect: Provided, That none except said Committee on Revenue Reform shall sit more than twenty days, and they shall report at the adjourned session of this General Assembly, to be held as follows, viz: This General Assembly will adjourn on the 29th day of March, 1884, to meet on the first Monday in November next, and the reports of said committees and action thereon shall be the only order of business at said adjourned session.

Mr. Taulbee moved to strike out the "29th of March," where it occurs therein, and insert in lieu thereof the "25th day of April."

§ 5. A bill for the benefit of J. F. Bullitt.

WHEREAS, Joshua F. Bullitt became bound as surety for the Kentucky River Navigation Company, upon a note to the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, dated November 19, 1872, for $3,801 80, for rents due upon a lease of the State's improvements upon the Kentucky river; and whereas, on the 13th of February, 1880, said Commissioners obtained a judgment of the Franklin circuit court against said Bullitt for the amount of said note, with interest from November 19, 1872, on which judgment said Bullitt paid $3,400 on May 21st, 1880; and whereas, by an act approved April 21st, 1882, said Bullitt was released from further liability on said judgment; and whereas, in view of the facts stated in said Bullitt's address to this General Assembly, and in letters to him from the gentlemen who constituted the Board of Commissioners of the Sinking Fund at the time when said lease and said note were executed, viz: ex Governors John W. Stevenson and Preston H. Leslie, ex-Secretaries of the State Samuel B. Churchill and George W. Craddock, ex-Attorney General John Rodman, ex-Auditor D. Howard Smith, and Treasurer James W. State for lands purchased and entered by said Arthur & Wilcox and Luke Dees in the counties west of Tennessee river under the act of January 3d, 1825, and prior to February 28th, 1835.

Ordered, That said bill be engrossed and read a third time.

Said bill having been engrossed was read a third time as follows, viz:

WHEREAS, by the fourteenth section of an act approved January 3d, 1825, entitled "An act to provide for the sale of vacant lands west of the Tennessee river" (M. & B. Statutes, vol. 2, pages 1054-1058), it was provided that if any lands sold under this act shall be taken from the purchaser or his assigns by prior claims adverse to the title acquired by the sale and purchase under this act, the said purchaser or persons claiming under him shall receive the amount of the original purchase-money upon the production of record and certificates of the judge of the court that the said land was lost upon a fair and full trial, upon the merits of the respective titles, to the Auditor of Public Accounts, who shall issue his warrant on the Treasurer for the amounts of the original purchase-money, without interest; and whereas, by an act entitled "An act to repeal the fourteenth section of said act approved January 3d, 1825," approved February 25th, 1836, said fourteenth section was repealed as to the lands entered after the 28th day of February, 1835; whereas, it is represented to this General Assembly that Luke Dees and Arthur and Wilcox, previous to the act repealing said fourteenth section of the act of 1825, had entered lands west of the Tennessee river previous to the 28th day of February, 1835, to which they or their assigns now hold the State title within military and Treasury warrants, and other surveys which, by legal and judicial trials in the courts of this State, have been established over the State title; therefore,

§ 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That said Arthur and Wilcox and Luke Dees, their heirs or assigns, may file in the office of the circuit court clerk in the county in which said lands or the greater part thereof is situated, a petition in equity against the Commonwealth of Kentucky, verified by the parties or their attorneys, if they be absent from the court, stating in what county each tract of said land lies, describing same by numbers of quarter-section, township and range in which it is situated; stating by whom, and at what price said land was purchased of the State, and filing patents and deeds or certified copies thereof connecting the title from the Commonwealth of Kentucky to themselves, and showing the interest owned or claimed by each.

§ 2. The clerk of the court in which said petition is filed shall, within five days thereafter, send by mail a certified copy of said petition to the Attorney General of this State, at Frankfort, which shall be deemed sufficient notice to the Commonwealth of pendency of the action. Said action shall be by the clerk placed upon the equity docket of said court at the first term after it is filed in his office, which does not begin within forty days of the filing of said petition. At said term the court shall appoint three sober, discreet housekeepers, residents of said county, who shall be freeholders, one of whom shall be a surveyor or commissioner, with power to summon and swear witnesses, who, after first being duly sworn, shall proceed, on a day to be fixed by them, within sixty days of their appointment, to inquire into and locate the land in the petition named and described, and ascertain definitely what part of said land is within the bounds of military, treasury warrants, or other surveys, and in what survey it is situated, and in what county; and report in writing, under oath, to said court, at its next term, which report shall lay over three days for exceptions; if none are filed, the same shall be confirmed and ordered to be recorded. Whereupon the court shall adjudge the amount of money that appears to be due from the Commonwealth; the parties claiming, if any, as the purchase price of lands west of the Tennessee river, entered by the parties named, Luke Dees and Arthur and Wilcox, prior to the 28th day of February, 1835. Upon the presentation of certified copies of the report of the said commissioners, and judgment of the court to the Auditor of Public Accounts, he is hereby directed to draw his warrant on the Treasurer in favor of the parties named in said judgment for the amounts shown to be due each of them as the original entry price of said land, without interest.

§ 3. The clerk of the circuit courts shall be allowed the same fees under this act in said causes as is fixed by law for like services in other equity cases, and the commissioners appointed under this act shall be allowed one dollar and fifty cents per day each, to be taxed as costs.

§ 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from its passage.

The Senate took up for consideration the resolution heretofore proposed by Mr. Hallam.

Said resolution reads as follows, viz:

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the true policy of Kentucky is:

First. Liberal exemption laws, in order that the sanctity of homes may be protected, and that those priceless bulwarks against communism and against usurpation may be encouraged, and that the implements of earning life may not be taken from the laborer.

Second. Strict limitation laws, in order that, with the security of homes, immigration from less favored lands may be stimulated.

Third. A just distribution of the cost of government among the several communities of the State in proportion to their means, and, to that end, some mode of equalizing assessment in the various counties.

Fourth. An efficient method of collecting the taxes assessed, so that the fiscal affairs of the Commonwealth may be made healthy without increase of the rate of taxation.

Fifth. A system in the Land Office such that the State shall not be guilty of the crime of granting the same land to more than one purchaser, and that it may be possible to ascertain what land has been granted and what remains to the State.

Sixth. A humane code of criminal laws, discriminating more strictly between public and private wrongs, applying only to the former; and, by the hope of reward, as well as by the fear of punishment, seeking to reclaim the convict to usefulness and happiness; looking also to the lowest death-rate among convicts, and to the utmost prevention of escapes of that outlawed and desperate class into innocent communities.

Seventh. Thorough inspection, from time to time, of the public charities.

Eighth. The widest extension of the benefits of education compatible with the purposes of government.

Ninth. An administration of the public affairs as economical as may be consistent with thoroughness.

Tenth. A revised constitution, such as will insure more attention of the General Assembly to public affairs, and will remit private and local affairs to local authorities.

And to these ends.

Be it further resolved, That the following committees, to consist of three Senators and eight Representatives, be appointed by the Speakers of the respective Houses, to-wit:

A Committee on Exemption and Limitation Laws.

A Committee on Revenue Reform.

A Committee on the Public Lands.

A Committee on the Criminal Laws and Public Charities.

A Committee on the School Laws.

A Committee on Administrative Economy and Revision of the Constitution.

And that the Governor is empowered to appoint five persons to act with said Committee on Revenue Reform, and that the Auditor shall be an ex officio member thereof. That said committees shall sit when and where in the State they may elect: Provided, That none except said Committee on Revenue Reform shall sit more than twenty days, and they shall report at the adjourned session of this General Assembly, to be held as follows, viz: This General Assembly will adjourn on the 25th day of April, 1884, to meet on the first Monday in November next, and the reports of said committees and action thereon shall be the only order of business at said adjourned session.

The Senate took up for consideration the amendment proposed by the House of Representatives to a bill, which originated in the Senate, entitled

Which was twice read and concurred in.

Mr. Hallam moved to withdraw from the House of Representatives the announcement by the Senate of the passage of a bill, which originated in the House of Representatives, entitled

And the question being taken thereon, it was decided in the negative.

Mr. Martin, from the special joint committee appointed to investigate the affairs of the Central Lunatic Asylum at Anchorage, laid before the Senate the following report, viz:

To the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

The undersigned, your committee appointed to investigate the conduct and management of the Central Lunatic Asylum, situated at Anchorage, would respectfully report that, in obedience to, and by virtue of their appointment under the joint resolution, they personally inspected the premises, the affairs and management of said institution, and procured the voluminous written and printed testimony accompanying this report; that in the production of said testimony, they held open and public sessions, and permitted the Superintendent and Board of Commissioners to produce such proper proof as was offered by them, and also permitted the Superintendent and Commissioners to be represented at said sessions by able and experienced lawyers, with the privilege and power to cross-examine all witnesses offered by and on the part of the State, and to offer any proper rebutting testimony to all documentary proof accompanying this report.

Your committee found the buildings and premises in excellent condition, with the exception of the two frame buildings occupied by patients, white and colored. These are so old and in such a dilapidated condition as to render it impossible for them to be kept as well as the newer and better-constructed ones. They are kept as well as they could possibly be, considering their condition and arrangement. The committee is of the opinion that their further use for the confinement of human souls ought to be at once discontinued, and their places supplied with more comfortable and suitable quarters.

The grounds surrounding the buildings have been beautified and adorned in a manner, and with such taste, as to merit the approbation of the people of this State.

Expenditures have been made over and above the appropriations made by the last General Assembly to the extent of $14,377.95, an itemized statement of which expenditures can be seen in the Annual Report of the Superintendent to the Governor for the asylum year ending November 1, 1883. From all the proof in the matter, and from personal inspection, the committee is of the opinion that the purchase of the new boiler and heat-generating apparatus, at a cost of $10,000, was an absolute necessity and unavoidable, except at the great risk of injury to the health and loss of life of the inmates. As to the other expenditures in excess of appropriation for specific purposes, we are of the opinion that said expenditures were made in the erection of useful and important improvements, which might have been postponed for a short time, at least until proper appropriations could have been made therefor.

We find that there has not been retained at said Asylum any unauthorized officer, agent, or employé, and that no officer has improperly interfered with any other officer in the administration of the affiairs of said institution.

That no officer has disregarded the law or good faith in purchasing supplies or stores for the Asylum, or in dispensing of the products of the farm or property belonging to the institution.

That no patient has been either received contrary to law, or improperly detained.

We find that escapes have occurred, notably one, that are neither excusable nor commendable.

That one patient lost his life through the agency and at the hands of an employé, and the proof conduces to show that three more lost their lives through the neglect, inefficient watch care, or inexperience of those immediately in charge.

That patients have occasionally been strapped or beaten by attendants.

We find, from a careful consideration of all the evidence adduced before us, that duckings and towel baths, more especially duckings, have been, frequently practiced as a punishment to refractory patients, and often under the guise of remedial agents; and we further find, that such treatment is cruel in its nature, is contrary to the modern humanized methods of treating the insane, and is not consistent with the prevailing theory that the insane are not proper subjects of punishment.

We are not unmindful of the facts that restraints are necessary in the treatment of the insane; yet we think that the minimum amount of humane restraints ought to be sought after and used, and that the idea of punishment should never inter into or induce the use of them.

Many duckings occurred without the knowledge or consent of the Superintendent in charge; yet, in view of the fact that they were so frequent, we are of the opinion that he is responsible therefor, as the head of an institution over which he was legally and morally bound to exercise the closest scrutiny and vigilance.

The committee is of the opinion that, under the resolution, they are not authorized to make any recommendations as to the course to be pursued in the matter by the General Assembly; but we think that some immediate action ought to be taken in regard thereto.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

L. M. MARTIN,
AUSTIN PEAY,
Of the Senate.
DAVID C. WALKER,
WALTER B. JEFFERSON,

The Senate, according to order, took up for consideration a bill, entitled

A bill to amend and reform the common school laws of this Commonwealth.

Said bill reads as follows, viz:

ARTICLE I.

Common School System.

§ 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That there shall be throughout the State of Kentucky a uniform system of common schools, in accordance with the Constitution of the State and the provisions of this act, and that all laws now existing in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

§ 2. The object of this chapter is to carry into effect the intention of the people of Kentucky, as expressed in the Constitution, in promoting the establishment, throughout the State, of a system of common schools, which shall be equally accessible to the poor as to the rich.

§ 3. It is therefore declared that no school shall be deemed a "common school," within the meaning of this chapter, or be entitled to any contribution out of the school fund, unless the same has been, pursuant hereto, actually kept by a qualified teacher for three months in districts having thirty-five pupils or less, for four months in districts having more than thirty-five and less than forty-five pupils, and for five months for districts having forty-five or more pupils during the same school year, and at which every child residing in the district, between the ages of six and twenty years, has had the privilege of attending, whether contributing towards defraying its expenses or not: Provided, however, That nothing herein shall prevent any person within the district, over the age of twenty years, from attending a common school who will pay his tuition fees.

§ 4. Nothing in the last section shall preclude a school which is kept for a part of the year as a common school from being kept for the balance of the year as a select or private school, to which none but contributors may have the privilege of sending pupils.

§ 5. The school years shall begin on the first day of July, and terminate on the thirtieth day of June.

§ 6. Less the legal holidays, twenty school days, or days in which teachers are actually employed in the school-room, shall constitute a school month in the common schools of the State.

§ 7. In districts where the number of children of pupil ages exceeds one hundred, the trustee may employ an assistant to the principal teacher when the regular daily attendance exceeds fifty; and in no case shall less than two teachers be employed when the regular daily attendance is sixty or over.

§ 8. All pupils who may be admitted to common schools shall comply with the regulations established in pursuance of law for the government of such schools. Willful disobedience and defiance of the authority of the teacher, habitual profanity and vulgarity, or other gross violation of propriety or law, shall constitute good cause for suspension, dismission, or expulsion from school.

§ 9. No books, tracts, papers, catechisms, or other publications of a sectarian, infidel, or immoral character, shall be used or distributed in any common school, nor shall any sectarian, infidel, or immoral doctrine be taught therein.

§ 10. Whenever a pupil of any common school shall have faithfully completed the prescribed course of study, and passed a proper examination before the county board of examiners on a series of questions prescribed by the State board of education, he shall be entitled to a certificate to that effect, signed by said county board, and indorsed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, who shall affix thereto his official seal. The Superintendent shall prepare a proper form for said certificate.

ARTICLE II.

School Fund.

§ 1. The school fund shall consist of the fund dedicated by the Constitution and laws of this Commonwealth for the purpose of sustaining a system of common schools therein.

§ 2. (1.) The interest on the bond of the Commonwealth, for $1,327,000, in aid of common schools, at the rate of six per cent. per annum, payable on the 1st day of January and of July of each year.

(2.) The dividends on seven hundred and thirty-five shares of the capital stock of the Bank of Kentucky, representing a par value of seventy-three thousand five hundred dollars, owned by the State.

(3.) The interest on the bond issued for surplus due the counties by the State, at the rate of six per cent. per annum, payable on the first day of January and of July of each year.

(4.) The annual State tax of twenty-two cents on each one hundred dollars of the taxable property of the State, including railroads, and a proportionate share of the special taxes paid by turnpike roads, banks, and all other corporations.

(5.) The annual tax of fifty cents on each one hundred dollars of the capital stock of the Farmers' Bank of Kentucky, of the Bank of Kentucky, of the Farmers and Drovers' Bank, and of the Bank of Shelbyville.

(6.) All fines and forfeitures for violation of the laws against gaming.

(7.) All fines and forfeitures for violation of the laws for the prevention of the sale or giving of spirituous, vinous, and malt liquors.

(8.) All fines and forfeitures for violation of the laws to prevent the carrying of concealed deadly weapons.

(9.) All taxes on billiard tables, pool tables, and bowling alleys. All licenses to authorize the sale of playing cards, and all fines for violation of the law relating thereto.

(10.) All other moneys and property taxes, fines, and forfeitures, expressly set apart by existing laws in aid of common schools.

§ 3. The foregoing shall constitute the annual resources of the school fund of Kentucky, and shall be paid into the Treasury, and shall not be drawn out or appropriated except, as provided by this chapter, in aid of common schools.

§ 4. All officers of this Commonwealth whose duty it is to collect the special taxes, fines, and forfeitures hereinbefore mentioned shall, on or before the first day of June of each year, make a special report of the same to the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

§ 5. Hereafter, except as otherwise expressly provided in this chapter, no part of the common school fund, or of the revenue thereof, shall be used for any other purpose than the payment of teachers of common schools, legally qualified and employed, in pursuance hereof.

§ 6. The Auditor shall keep the accounts in relation to this fund. He shall, once in each month, make a transfer to the credit of said fund of all receipts into the Treasury, for the benefit of the common schools up to the date of such transfer. He shall allow no expenditures on that account beyond the annual revenue of the fund, and shall see that no county draws more than its proper proportion.

§ 7. The net revenue of the fund accruing during each school year, after the payment of whatever expenses may be incurred according to law by the Board of Education, or by special acts of legislation, shall constitute the sum to be distributed. But no fees to county judges or clerks, discount on checks, or other incidental expenses, shall be paid out of the distributable share of the revenue apportioned to any county; but such payment shall be made out of the county levy.

§ 8. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall, on or before the first day of July in each year, ascertain and estimate for the school-year, the pro rata share each child will be entitled to, according to the whole number of children between the ages of six and twenty years in the State, and the proportion thereof each county and each school district will be entitled to according to the whole number of such children residing in each county and each school district respectively, as shown by the returns of the county superintendent. If at the time of making such estimate and apportionment, the census returns of the superintendent for any county have not been made to him, he shall use the census returns made for the previous year. It shall be the duty of the Auditor to furnish the Superintendent of Public Instruction such data as may be needed in making said estimate and apportionment. It shall be the duty of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, on or before the first day of July, to file a copy of said estimate and apportionment with the Auditor, and to inform each county superintendent of the amount to which each school district of his county will be entitled. Whatever difference may exist between the estimated and the actual revenue of the school fund for any school-year, shall be taken into the account of the estimate and apportionment for the succeding school-year.

§ 9. If on or before the first day of January next after the termination of each school year, any portion of the revenue of that year previously apportioned to any county be not called for for common school purposes, the same shall remain in the Treasury to the credit of the county in which such district is situated, to be distributed the next year for the benefit of said county, as the interest on the bond for surplus is now distributed. A detailed statement of the surplus amount to which each county is entitled, shall be made out by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and filed and preserved in his office. The bonded surplus in the State Treasury to the credit of the counties, shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum, and the per capita derived from said interest shall be duly apportioned to each county and paid at the same time that the forty per cent. of the State Fund is apportioned and paid.

§ 10. When the Superintendent of Public Instruction and the Auditor of Public Accounts shall be satisfied, from the proper examination of the records, and from other proof, that an error has occurred in taking or in reporting the school census in any district, under the provisions of this act, they are hereby empowered to correct such error. In such case, the Superintendent shall certify such error, and the Auditor of Public Accounts shall draw his warrant on the Treasurer for the amount of such error, in favor of the teacher entitled to the same, payable out of the unbonded surplus and the interest aforesaid, in the Treasury belonging to said county, and if these be not sufficient for the correction of said error, the balance shall be paid out of the revenue proper.

§ 11. Whenever a qualified teacher, duly employed by the trustee of any district, pursuant to this chapter, shall have completed one-half the session of his school by the 10th of January, or by the 15th of February, or by the 15th of May, such district shall be entitled to forty per centum of its proportion of the school fund for that school-year, for the payment of the teacher, and on the completion of the school, to the residue.

ARTICLE III.

County Taxation.

§ 1. In any county of the State in which the clearly ascertained will of those who are authorized to vote thereon, under the provisions of this law, shall be in favor of a county tax in aid of common schools therein, the levying of such tax shall be lawful.

§ 2. To ascertain the will of the voters of the county, under the provisions of the preceding section of this act, it shall be the duty of the judge of the county court in each county of this Commonwealth, whenever a written petition signed by at least twenty of the legal voters who are reputable citizens of the county, each one of whom shall be a housekeeper and a tax payer, requesting a vote of the county upon a tax upon the property or polls of the county in aid of the common school fund, and fixing in that petition the tax that is asked to be voted on each one hundred dollars of taxable property in the county or on each poll in the county, which tax in no case shall exceed fifty cents on each one hundred dollars of taxable property nor one dollar on each poll, and which petition shall be filed in said court at least sixty days immediately preceding the next general election for representatives in said county, to make an order on the order-book of the county court, directing the officers whose duty it is to hold elections under the general election laws of the State to open a poll in each of the voting precincts of the county, at the next general election held in said county for representatives, for the purpose of taking the sense of the legal voters of said county upon the proposition whether or not the property or poll in the county shall be taxed the amount named in the petition so filed in aid of the common school fund of the county.

§ 3. It shall be the duty of the county court clerk, upon the entering of the order mentioned in the last section of this act, to give immediately to the sheriff of the county a certified copy thereof. And it shall be the duty of the sheriff to have said order published in some weekly or daily paper published in the county for at least two weeks immediately preceding the day of election; and also to advertise the same by printed or written handbills, posted in at least three of the most public places in each precinct for at least ten days immediately preceding said election. If there is no daily or weekly newspaper published in the county, then the printed or written notices provided for in this section shall be sufficient notice. The notice given by the sheriff shall name the time the vote is to be taken and the amount of the tax to be voted upon.

§ 4. It shall be the duty of the sheriff or other officer holding the election mentioned in section first of this article, to open the poll, and an officer of the election shall propound to each voter who votes, the question—"Are you in favor of the tax in aid of common schools in this county?" And his vote shall be recorded for or against it, as he directs. The poll shall be opened on the same poll-books in which the votes are taken for Representative or Representatives, and for that purpose the clerk of the county court shall provide a column; and the polls shall be returned as other polls in said election, and shall be examined and compared by the same officers.

§ 5. If it shall be found that a majority of the legal votes cast at the election hereinbefore provided for, was given in favor of the tax, it shall be the duty of the examining board to certify that fact; which certificate shall be delivered to the clerk of the county court, and by him safely kept until the next regular term of the county court, at which term the judge thereof shall have the same spread on the record-book of this court.

§ 6. The taxes hereinbefore provided for, shall be levied at the same time, and collected and accounted for in the same manner, and by the same officers, as the county levy is now made and collected by law. And the officers whose duty it is to make the levy, and the officers and their securities whose duty it is to collect the tax, shall be subject to the same responsibility and penalties that the same officers are now liable for in the levy and collection of the county levy.

§ 7. The officers collecting the taxes hereinbefore provided for, shall pay the same to the common school superintendent of the county on or before the first day of December of the year in which the said taxes are collected, which taxes shall be disposed of by the county superintendent in the same manner and for the same purposes, as he disposes of the fund apportioned to him by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

§ 8. If at the time the vote is taken herein provided for, any district shall have heretofore imposed upon itself a tax in aid of its common school, equal to or in excess of the one voted for by the county, then no part of the tax voted by the county shall be collected in said district, and the fund raised under the district tax shall be disposed of as now provided by law. And no part of the fund so raised by the county tax, shall be distributed to said district; but if any district in said county shall have imposed upon itself a less tax than that provided by the county vote, such district tax shall not be levied so long as the county tax is collected: Provided, that so much as may be necessary of the proceeds of the county tax due said district may be appropriated to the objects for which such district tax was levied.

ARTICLE IV.

Board of Education.

§ 1. The Superintendent of Public Instruction, the Secretary of State, the Attorney General, and their successors in office, together with two professional teachers to be elected by them, shall be a body-politic and corporate, by the name and style of "The Board of Education for the State of Kentucky," subject to alteration and repeal by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth.

§ 2. The corporation may take, hold, and dispose of real or personal estate for the benefit of the common schools of the State.

§ 3. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall be President of the Board, and, with two other members, may control its corporate action at any regular or called meeting of the Board.

§ 4. The Board shall meet on or before the 30th day of June and 30th day of December of each year; and at other times upon the call of the President, who shall keep a record of the proceedings of the Board; its corporate acts shall be attested by the signature of the President, and his private seal shall stand in lieu of a corporate seal. The bonds, certificates of stock, and other evidences of property held by the Board for common school purposes, shall be in the custody of the President, and the place of deposit shall be shown by the records of the Board.

§ 5. The State Board of Education shall constitute a standing committee, who shall prepare rules, by-laws, and regulations for the government of the common schools of the State, which shall be adopted and enforced under the authority and direction of the county school superintendents, in all cases where the trustees shall fail to enforce the same; shall, from time to time, select and recommend a proper course of study, and suitable lists of text-books for all the common schools of the State, from which lists the county board of examiners, together with the county judge and county attorney, shall adopt the books to be used in their respective counties, which books shall not be changed oftener than once every five years: Provided, however, That in any district where a list of text-books has been adopted and is now in use, no change in text-books shall be made in such district in a less time than five years from the time that list was adopted or until the books are worn out. Said Board of Education shall recommend suitable works for district libraries, and such standard works and professional aids for teachers, as they may deem proper, on educational science and the arts of teaching.

§ 6. The instruction prescribed by the board shall embrace spelling, reading, writing, arithmetic, English grammar, English composition, geography, United States' history, and laws of health: Provided, however, That where there are as many as one-third in number of the pupils of any district who are the children of other than English-speaking parents, their respective languages may be added to the foregoing course of study.

§ 7. Whenever it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the county judge of any county of this Commonwealth that there are indigent children in the county who are not pecuniarily able, and whose parents are not so able, to supply them with the necessary text-books, then such books shall be supplied to all such children by the county judge, and paid for by an allowance made by said county judge as provided for in section 1, Article III, Chapter 27, of the General Statutes.

§ 8. The board shall have the power to require county superintendents and trustees of common schools to report facts, additional to those now required to be reported, whenever, in their judgment, the interest of the cause of common schools in the State shall indicate the necessity thereof.

§ 9. The board shall have power to organize and keep in existence a State teachers' association, to be composed of the members of the board, all the officers and teachers connected with the common schools throughout the State, all officers and teachers connected with public free schools in any city or town in the Commonwealth, together with such other teachers and friends of popular education as the board or association may invite to become members of such organization, for the purpose of promoting the cause of common schools in the State. The association shall elect its own officers, and adopt by-laws and rules for its own government. The board may cause to be organized and held annually between the fifteenth day of June and the first day of September, and at such special times and places as it may elect, three model State teachers' institutes of three weeks' session each, to be held, one in each superior court district as now defined, for the instruction of members in attendance. Each institute shall be under the supervision of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, but under the immediate conduct of an expert normal teacher with such assistants as may be necessary; all of whom shall be selected by the Board of Education through the Superintendent of Public Instruction. No fee shall be charged for the instruction of the members in attendance at said institutes, nor shall any allowance be made for the use of proper lecture rooms or for the means of demonstration and illustration or for any other aids and means as may conduce to the interest and profit of the exercises. Any common school teacher who may attend the full session of any one of the said institutes, shall be furnished with a certificate to that effect, and shall, in virtue thereof, be excused from attending the next teachers' institute in the county in which he may be employed as a teacher. At the time and place of holding the session of one of the said institutes, as may be elected by the State Board of Education, the State teachers' association aforesaid shall be held. For the payment of the normal teachers and their assistants for the services that may be rendered for the full sessions of all of the said State teachers' institutes, and for advertising and for the printing of proper programmes for the same, the Superintendent of Public Instruction is hereby authorized to draw his draft on the Auditor of Public Accounts for a sum not exceeding fifteen hundred dollars, annually, payable out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated. The Superintendent of Public Instruction may print in his report the proceedings of the said association and said institutes.

ARTICLE V.

Superintendent of Public Instruction.

§ 1. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall take the oath and enter upon the duties of his office on the first Monday succeeding the inauguration of the Governor.

§ 2. His salary shall be three thousand two hundred and fifty dollars per annum; besides which, he shall be entitled to all office fixtures, stationery, books, postage, and fuel and lights needed to carry on the work of his office. He shall have power to appoint three clerks, viz: a chief clerk, whose salary shall be seventeen hundred dollars per annum; a first assistant clerk, whose salary shall be nine hundred dollars per annum, and a second assistant clerk, whose salary shall be seven hundred dollars per annum.

§ 3. He shall keep his office at the seat of government, in such suitable buildings as may be provided, and shall devote his entire time and attention to the duties of his office.

§ 4. He shall keep an account of all the orders drawn or countersigned by him on the Auditor, of all the returns of settlements, and of all changes in the office of county superintendent, which shall be furnished to the Auditor whenever required.

§ 5. He shall biennially, on or before the meeting of the General Assembly, make report of the condition, progress, and prospects of the common schools; the amount and condition of the school fund; how its revenue for the two previous school years had been distributed; the amount produced and disbursed for common school purposes from local taxation or other sources, and how and for what the same was expended; an abstract of the county superintendents' reports; the practical workings of the common school system of the State, with suggestions as to any alterations it may require; all of which, together with such other facts, statistics, and information, as may be deemed of interest to be known, he shall deliver to the Public Printer, and cause to be printed a copy for each school district in the State, three hundred and fifty copies for the use of the members of the Legislature and for exchange with the Superintendents of Public Instruction of other States, and five hundred copies for distribution by the Superintendent as he thinks best.

§ 6. The Superintendent in his report shall set forth the objects, methods of admission, etc., to the Institutions for the Blind, the Deaf and Dumb, and the Feeble-minded; and, to aid him in his work, the superintendents of those institutions shall be required, annually, by the first day of September, to furnish the Superintendent of Public Instruction with such a condensed statement of their respective institutions as it would be profitable to publish.

§ 7. Copies of records and papers in his office, certified by him, shall in all cases be evidence equally with the originals.

§ 8. He shall prepare suitable blanks for reports, registers, certificates, notices, and such other official documents as may be provided for in this chapter, and shall cause the same, with such instructions and information as he may deem necessary to a proper understanding and use of them, to be transmitted to the officers and persons interested with the execution of the provisions of the school law.

§ 9. It shall be his duty to report any habitual neglect of duty, or any misappropriation of common school funds on the part of any of the county superintendents or trustees of common schools in this Commonwealth, to the county judge of any county in which such neglect of duty or such misappropriation of funds may occur, whenever such neglect of duty or such misappropriation of funds shall come to his knowledge.

§ 10. He shall have published, for annual distribution throughout the State, the general school laws of the State, abstracts of the decisions of the appellate courts, and of the Attorney General on points of school law, and construction thereof; information and instructions in regard to application of the school law and the management of the common schools; plates, illustrations, and descriptions of appropriate school architecture, important official and legal periods of the school year, with due notices thereof; and such other important facts and data as may be of interest to the public.

§ 11. In cases of controverted right to the office of county superintendent, the Superintendent of Public Instruction is empowered to recognize a superintendent from among the contestants until the case has been settled.

§ 12. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall, at the written request of any county superintendent of common schools, decide any question of difference or doubt having reference to the interests of common schools in his county. The decision of the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall, in such case, be final, unless further appeal is promptly prosecuted from his decision to the State Board of Education within thirty days. Before rendering any such opinion, the Superintendent may obtain the advice of the Attorney General, whose opinion, in writing, shall be conclusive for the time, and sufficient defense against all parties. The decisions of the Superintendent of Public Instruction and the opinions of the Attorney General shall be duly filed and duly recorded in a book kept for that purpose.

§ 13. Whenever he shall be informed that any donation, gift, or devise of any real or personal estate, shall have been made to the common school fund of Kentucky, it shall be the duty of the Superintendent of Public Instruction to appoint some discreet person, who shall take charge of the real or personal estate so granted, devised, or donated, and sell and dispose of the same, and pay the proceeds into the Treasury of Kentucky. Before said agent so appointed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall proceed to act, he shall give a bond, with good security, to the Commonwealth, for the faithful discharge of his duties as agent. Said bond shall be given in the county in which the donor, grantor, or devisor shall have died, or in the county in which the property is situated, the bond to be executed in and approved by the county court. The person so appointed shall make a settlement with the county court of his county once in each year, and shall pay into the Treasury the amount found in his hands after said settlement. The court shall allow said person a reasonable compensation for collecting and paying over said money, not exceeding ten per cent. on the first five hundred dollars, and five per cent. on the residue, which amount said person shall retain in his hands out of the money collected. For any failure of the person so appointed to discharge the duties under this act, he and his securities shall be liable to all damages sustained, and for all money collected, with twenty per cent. damages on the amount so collected, and which he has failed to pay over. The suit on the bond shall be in the name of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, and shall be instituted by the Commonwealth's Attorney. The person appointed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall have the same power, in collecting and settling the estate, as an administrator or executor now has by law; may institute and defend all suits in reference to said estate; sue and collect all notes, bonds, etc., and sell and convey the real estate by deed. The amount of money paid into the Treasury, under the provisions of this section, shall remain there until disposed of by law; and the Treasurer and his sureties shall be liable for the same on his official bond. This section shall apply to all gifts, donations, or devises heretofore or hereafter made to the school fund of Kentucky: Provided, That the provisions of this section shall not apply to cases where the terms or conditions of the devises, gifts, or donations conflict with said provisions; but in such cases the terms or conditions of the devise, grant, or donation shall be carried out as intended by the person making the same.

§ 14. The Superintendent of Public Instruction may, from time to time, visit each year, any, and different, portions of the State for the purpose of investigating and directing the operations of the common school system, and of promoting by addresses or otherwise, the cause of popular education. While engaged in this duty, his actual expenses shall be paid out of the common school fund, but shall not, in any case, exceed three hundred dollars per annum.

§ 15. Upon retiring from office, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall deliver to his successor all the books, papers, and effects belonging to the office; and on failure to do so, shall be fined in a sum not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, to be recovered by indictment in the Franklin circuit court.

ARTICLE VI.

County Superintendent.

§ 1. There shall be a county superintendent of common schools in each of the counties of the State, who shall be possessed of moral character and ability to manage the common school interests of the county efficiently. He shall possess a good English education, and shall be competent to examine the teachers who shall apply to teach the common schools in the county, and to certify the same correctly.

§ 2. The county superintendent shall be elected by the qualified voters of each county, at the regular August election in 1884, and every two years thereafter; and for that purpose a poll shall be opened at the election held, and the result certified at the same time and place and by the same officers and in the same way the election for sheriff of the county is held. And the officers who examine the polls shall make out and deliver a certificate of the election to the person so elected, and another copy to the judge of the county court, who shall cause same to be recorded, a copy of which shall be made out by the clerk and transmitted to the Superintendent of Public Instruction within ten days after the election.

§ 3. The commissioners now in office shall hold their offices until the county superintendent is elected and qualified under this act; and those elected under the provision of this law shall hold their offices for two years, or until their successors are elected and qualified.

§ 4. No person shall be eligible to the office of county superintendent unless he be at least twenty-one years of age and a resident of the county for three years immediately preceding his election and of good moral character, and shall have first procured a certificate from the judge of the county court that he has been publicly examined in open court by a person appointed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction; and that he is qualified to discharge the duties of the office of county superintendent as required by law; and it shall be the duty of the county judge to have such examination held upon proper application being made to him.

§ 5. No county judge, circuit clerk, county clerk, county attorney, sheriff, or teacher, while engaged in teaching, shall hold the office of county superintendent of common schools.

§ 6. The county superintendent shall, before entering upon the discharge of the duties of his office, take the oath of office, and enter into covenant before the county court of his county, to the Commonwealth of Kentucky, with sufficient security, to be approved by the court, for the faithful discharge of his duties.

§ 7. The county superintendent shall, at least once during the year, visit each district school of his county, and investigate and direct the operations of the school system, and promote, by addresses or otherwise, the cause of common school education. He shall condemn any school-house which is dilapidated, unhealthy, or otherwise unfit to be occupied for the purpose of a common school, and shall notify the trustee thereof.

§ 8. It shall be the duty of each county superintendent, on or before the first day of June of each year, to prepare, mail to, and cause to be placed in the hands of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, a report, certified by the county judge or clerk as having been sworn to by him, showing the whole number of children between the ages of six and twenty years residing in his county, and the whole number residing in each district, described by its number, of his county. He shall base his report upon the census taken during the month of April, and reports thereof made to him by the district trustee. If such reports are not in from any district by the 10th day of May, the county superintendent shall appoint a suitable person to take the census of such district.

§ 9. It shall be the duty of each county superintendent, on or before the tenth day of January, February, May, and the first day of July in every year, to prepare and cause to be placed in the hands of the Superintendent of Public Instruction a report, certified by the county judge or clerk as having been sworn to by him, showing the districts in which schools have been taught for a full session, and those in which schools have been taught for one half the session; and if said report is approved by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, he shall certify the amount due for said schools to the Auditor, who shall draw his warrant on the Treasury in favor of the county superintendent in payment of the same, which he shall collect as soon thereafter as possible, and, when collected, pay over to the teachers of the district in proportion to the amounts they are respectively entitled to: Provided, That in cities organized as one district, the president or chairman of the school board of such cities shall make the report required of them by this act under oath, direct to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and draw an order on the Auditor of Public Accounts in favor of the treasurer of such school board, which, when approved and countersigned by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, shall entitle such treasurer to a warrant on the Treasury of the State for the amount thereof; and the said treasurer and his securities shall be accountable for the same upon his official bond in any action by such school board. All reports made to the county superintendent shall be carefully filed and preserved by him, and shall be subject to his revision and correction, if mistakes should be detected therein.

§ 10. Any county superintendent who shall knowingly and willfully report to the Superintendent of Public Instruction a number of common schools as having been taught in his county, greater than the number of such schools actually taught therein according to law, or a number of children entitled to tuition in his county greater than the actual number of such children therein, or otherwise knowingly and willfully misstate any fact or facts which he is, or may be hereafter, required by law to report to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor, and shall, on conviction thereof, on indictment in the circuit court, be fined in a sum not less than two hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail not longer than six months, or both so fined and imprisoned, in the discretion of the jury.

§ 11. Each county superintendent, on or before the first day of September next after the termination of each school year, shall settle his accounts for such school year with the county judge, and forward a copy of said settlement, certified by the clerk of said court to be correct, to the Superintendent of Public Instruction. Said settlement shall embrace all sums received since the date of his last settlement by said county superintendent for the benefit of common schools taught during the preceding school year; a full statement of all such sums paid out by him, for what, to whom, and when paid; and should any part of said fund received by him, as aforesaid, remain not paid out, he shall state in his settlement, as above, to whom and to what district the same belongs, and the reasons why it has not been paid out, and the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall retain fifty per cent. of his compensation until such settlement is filed with him. Should the copy of such settlement fail to reach the Superintendent of Public Instruction by the tenth day of that month, it shall be his duty to notify the county judge and the delinquent county superintendent of the fact; and upon receiving such notification, it shall be the duty of the judge, in case the settlement shall not have been made, to immediately compel a settlement by attachment, and a copy thereof to be forwarded to the Superintendent of Public Instruction. For his willful failure to pay out to those entitled thereto, any money in his hands for the space of ninety days after the same shall be received by him, or for his willful failure to make the aforesaid settlement by the time required by law, the county superintendent shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, being indicted and convicted thereof, he shall be fined in a sum not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, as well as remain liable on his official bond, and be removed from office.

§ 12. He shall, previously to the first day of September, prepare and mail, and cause to be placed in the hands of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, his official report, showing, in tables of details and aggregates, the school districts of his county by number; the districts in which schools were taught, and the length of time taught, and those in which no schools were taught; the highest, lowest, and average number of children at school; the cost of tuition of each child for the session and per month; the number of private schools, academies, and colleges taught in the county, and length of sessions of the same; the number of teachers employed—male, female, and total—for the common school; the average wages of male teachers, female teachers, and of total teachers per month; the amount of money raised for common school purposes in the county, by local tax or otherwise, and for what the same was disbured; the number and kind of school-houses, and the value of each; the number of school-houses built, and value of each; the number of district libraries, and number of volumes in each, and the increase during the year; the amount he has received for official compensation and expenses. For failure to be present at his office at the time appointed to receive reports, or for failing to make the report herein required, he shall be fined in a sum not exceeding fifty dollars.

§ 13. Each county superintendent shall keep a detailed account of all money received and distributed by him, a record of all business transacted by him as county superintendent, together with the reports of the trustees, the names, numbers, and description of school districts, and all other papers and documents of value connected with his office, at all times subject to inspection and examination by any school officer or other person interested in any question pertaining to the common schools.

§ 14. The funds which come into the hands of the county superintendent from county taxation shall be disposed of by him for the purposes for which said taxes have been imposed, and he shall report annually to the Superintendent of Public Instruction what taxes have been so levied and collected, and for what purposes the same have been used.

§ 15. It shall be the duty of the county superintendent of each county in this Commonwealth to see that the special taxes, fines, forfeitures, &c., provided for in this act, are collected and paid into the state school fund.

§ 16. Any devise, gift, or donation of any real or personal estate in aid of the common schools of any county of this State, shall be held in trust by the county superintendent; and he shall be required to make settlement in regard thereto, in the same manner in which, and at the time when, he makes settlement in regard to the moneys received from the revenue of the school fund; and he shall send a copy of such settlement to the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

§ 17. A county superintendent may administer the oath required of a trustee or teacher of common schools, or of other persons required to make oath in matters relating thereto.

§ 18. He shall attend at his office on the fourth Saturday in June, every year, to administer the oath of office to trustees elect; but it shall be lawful for any justice of the peace to administer the oath of office to any trustee, provided the fact is reported by said justice within ten days thereafter to the county superintendent. He shall make a record of the names of trustees then qualified, showing the districts in which they were elected, and the post-office of each. He shall at that time deliver to the trustee of each district such blanks as he will need for the current school year, and give such information with regard to his duties as may be requested. He shall address all official correspondence to the trustee. Notice to him shall be regarded as notice to the people of the district, and it shall be the duty of the trustee to notify the people.

§ 19. It shall be the duty of the county superintendent to be in attendance at his office, at the county seat, on the first Saturday in January, February, May, and July, in each year, and at such other times as may be necessary for him to receive the reports of district trustees, and to transact the business required of him.

§ 20 In cases of controverted rights to the office of trustees, the county superintendent is empowered to recognize a trustee from among the contestants until the dispute has been settled.

§ 21. It shall be his duty to conduct or superintend in person, the examination of all persons offering themselves for positions as teachers of the common schools of his county (except in cities and towns organized as one district by special acts of the General Assembly), in regard to their moral character, learning, and ability to teach said schools; and he shall give a certificate of qualification to no teacher whom he has not personally and sufficiently examined, or who has not been sufficiently examined in his presence, as hereinafter provided for; and for any violation of the above specified duties, he shall be liable to a fine of not less than twenty nor more than fifty dollars.

§ 22. The county superintendent shall pay the teachers their salaries direct, upon the certificate of the trustee that the school has been taught.

§ 23. No county superintendent shall be allowed to buy or transfer for himself or another, any teacher's claim, directly or indirectly, under the penalty of removal from office by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

§ 24. That for incompetency, neglect of duty, immoral conduct, or other disqualification, the county superintendent may suspend or remove any teacher or trustee from office, except in cities or towns organized as one district; and when from such cause, or from death, resignation, or any other cause, a vacancy in any one of the above named offices occurs, it shall be the duty of the county superintendent to proceed, within ten days after such vacancy occurs, or as soon thereafter as practicable, to supply the same by appointment.

§ 25. The county superintendent shall decide all questions of difference or doubt having reference to the interests of common schools in his county; but appeals from his acts and decisions may be had, on petition of any interested person to the Board of Education. The county superintendents shall conform to such reasonable rules and requirements as the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall, from time to time, prescribe and announce to them.

§ 26. For all the services rendered by the county superintendent under the provisions of this act, he shall be allowed a reasonable compensation, to be fixed by the court of claims of his county annually, and be paid out of the county levy as the salaries to the county judge and county attorney are now paid; and in his report to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the county superintendent shall state the full amount, and in detail, allowed him by the court of claims for his official services.

§ 27. In the case of the death, removal, resignation, or inability of the county superintendent elected, or in the event of a vacancy or for any other cause, the presiding judge of said county is hereby authorized to appoint a successor, to continue in office until the succeeding annual election, when one shall be elected. Nevertheless, it shall be competent for the county court, at any regular session, to remove a county superintendent for inability, for habitual neglect of duty, or for malfeasance in office.

§ 28. Each county superintendent, when he resigns, vacates, is removed, or goes out of office, shall, within ten days thereafter, deliver to his successor, or to the county court clerk for him, any money, property, books, effects, or papers remaining in his hands as county superintendent, and for failure to do so, shall be fined not more than one hundred dollars.

§ 29. In case of a defaulting and absconding county superintendent, the Governor, upon information thereof being furnished by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, shall offer a reward, not exceeding in amount $500, for his arrest and delivery to the jailer of the county from which he had absconded.

ARTICLE VII.

Districts.

§ 1. The districts of the several counties as at present described and numbered, shall be retained except when it shall appear to the county superintendent that a district in his county is not in proper and convenient size and shape to accommodate the pupil-children in such district, or that a new district is necessary, in which event the said county superintendent shall report the same to the judge of the county court whose duty it shall be to appoint some discreet, suitable citizen of the county, who together with the county surveyor and the county superintendent shall form a commission to reform such district or to lay off and define a new one. No district so laid off shall contain in area more than nine square miles, unless it shall be necessary to enlarge the size of such district to include within it twenty children of pupil age. The commission so appointed, after being duly sworn by the county judge to discharge their duties faithfully and impartially, shall as soon as practicable, proceed to do the work herein imposed upon it, and upon completing said work shall make report thereof to the county superintendent, which report shall contain the boundary and description of such district, and designate it by a number. The county superintendent shall record the same in a well-bound book kept by him for that purpose, which book shall be held by said county superintendent and at all times be open for inspection by the public.

§ 2. No change in the boundary of any district reported by the commission provided for in the foregoing section of this act, shall be made except by an order of the county court. And no such order shall be made by the court until the trustee of the school and at least three persons residing in different parts of said district and sending children to the common school taught in this district (who shall be designated by the county court), shall have at least one month's notice of this application for such change. Nor shall said order be made unless it satisfactorily appears to the court by proof in open court, that such change is indispensably necessary to the interests of the pupils in such district, and that the change will not injure the school of any adjoining district. Nor shall any change whatever be made in the boundary of any district to take effect during the year for which a census has been taken. The county superintendent shall furnish the trustee of each district a proper description of the boundary thereof, which shall be duly recorded by said trustee in his record-book.

§ 3. No district shall include more than one hundred children, between the ages of six and twenty years, unless it contains a town or village within its limits, and no one shall contain less than forty such children, except in cases of extreme necessity, and in no case less than twenty. In all cases where the number of such children shall exceed one hundred, or fall below forty, the county superintendent shall state the reason thereof in his report to the Superintendent. Each school-house hereafter erected shall be located as near the center of the district as practicable.

§ 4. The county superintendents of two adjoining counties, where the division line intersects a neighborhood whose convenience requires it, may lay off a district composed off parts of both counties. Such district shall be reported, together with its census of pupil children, only as belonging to the county in which the school house of the same may be situated, by the county superintendent of said county; and he shall make report and draw for the whole district, as though it lay entirely within his county.

§ 5. Where two school districts adjoin, it shall be lawful for the children in either of such adjoining districts to be taught in and at such school-house as shall be most convenient to them: Provided, however, That their tuition fees shall be paid over to the teacher of that district in which they may be taught; and that no such change shall be made without the assent of the trustees of both said school districts. In case of an agreement of the kind provided for in this section, the trustee of the district in which the children were reported shall notify the county superintendent, and he shall deduct the tuition fees of said pupils from the district giving permission, and pay them over to the teacher in the district in which they are taught.

§ 6. In any district extending in area beyond nine square miles in order to embrace the minimum number of pupil-children, there may be established under the sanction and direction of the county superintendent, and under the care and conduct of the trustee, not more than three stations, including the district school-house, at which schools may be taught in succession by the district teacher, not less than twenty-two days at each; and such schools shall be duly managed and reported by the teacher, the trustee and the county superintendent, as other schools are managed and reported; but the teacher for such division of his time and the county superintendent for such special service, shall receive no additional compensation.

§ 7. When a city, town, or village establishes and maintains a system of common schools adequate to the teaching of all the children therein, and which all applying for instruction are permitted to attend free of charge, the same shall be deemed one district, and entitled to its proportion of the school fund. Such city or town shall, through its school agents or other officers deputed for that purpose, make its annual report to the county superintendent of the county, for the several schools therein, at the time, and in a similar manner to that required of the trustee of a district. They shall also take the census of the white children therein, and make return thereof to such county superintendent as, and at the time, trustees are required by this chapter to do; and shall, for neglect or violation of their duties in that respect, be liable to the same penalties.

The county superintendent shall have no control over the schools in such districts; but the same shall be governed, in all respects by the local authorities.

ARTICLE VIII.

District Trustee.

§ 1. Each school district shall be under the control of one trustee, an election for whom shall be held at the school-house, and if no school-house be in the district, at such convenient place as the trustee may select, from 9 o'clock, A. M., till 5 o'clock, P. M., of the first Saturday of June each year, notice thereof having been posted by the trustee at three of the most public places in the district for ten days immediately preceding the day of election. At this election the qualified voters of the district shall be the electors; and any widow having a child between six and twenty years of age may also vote. No person except the county superintendent of common schools or a resident of the district, shall act as judge of that election. The judge, if not a county superintendent, shall be appointed by the county superintendent; and if the person so appointed, from any cause fail to act, then a majority of the voters present at the time for opening the polls shall elect the judge. The judge of the election shall give the casting vote in case of a tie, provided he has not theretofore voted, and give a certificate of election to the person elected signed by himself; and report the trustee thus elected, in writing, to the county superintendent of the county within five days after the day of election. In case of a tie in which the judge has voted, then he shall certify the fact of a tie to the county superintendent, and the county superintendent shall select from the persons who are tied, the trustee, and give him a certificate, and the trustee so selected shall act until his successor is duly qualified.

§ 2. The trustee so elected shall hold office for one year from the first day of July succeeding his election, and until his successor is elected and qualified.

§ 3. Any person who may be chosen to preside over the election of a school trustee in any school district in this Commonwealth, who shall knowingly, and with intent to commit a fraud, receive and count any illegal vote, or issue a certificate of election to any person not entitled thereto, or shall refuse to issue such certificate to any one duly elected, or who shall fail, for five days after the election, to report the name of the person thus elected trustee to the county superintendent; and any person who shall, with fraudulent intent, deface, mutilate, or destroy the records of any such election, shall be fined the sum of fifty dollars for every such offense, or be confined for twenty days in the county jail in default of the payment of such fine, and it shall be the duty of the county superintendent to report such offenses to the grand jury.

§ 4. If from a failure to qualify according to law, or from any other cause, there be a vacancy in the office of trustee, the county superintendent of the county shall supply the same by his appointment, in writing, and the trustee so appointed shall hold his office until the next election, or until his successor be elected and qualified.

§ 5. He and his successor shall be a sole corporation, with perpetual succession, by the name of the trustee for his school district; and as such may sue and be sued, take, hold, and dispose of real and personal estate, for the maintenance, use, and benefit of the common school of his district, and receive and enforce payments of subscriptions for the like purpose.

§ 6. The trustee shall keep a record of all his official transactions, which shall at all times be open to the inspection of the county superintendent.

§ 7. The trustee may take land, by purchase or donation, for the purpose of erecting thereon a school-house, provide for and secure the erection of the same, construct such out-buildings and inclosures as shall be conducive to the protection of the property and the comfort and decency of the pupils and teachers, make repairs, and provide the necessary furniture and apparatus. He shall have power to recover for any damages that may be done the property in his charge; and he may change the location of the school-house, sell or dispose of the old site, and use the proceeds thereof towards procuring a new one. If he cannot agree with the owner of any land most suitable for a school-house site as to the price and terms of purchase and sale thereof, he shall apply to the judge of the county court by petition, in which he shall set forth by metes and bounds the land he seeks to condemn, and the county court shall issue a writ of ad quod damnum directed to the sheriff to be executed and returned to said court as in case of condemning lands for the use of railroad and turnpike companies; and upon return of said writ, duly executed, and upon the payment in court for the benefit of the owner, of the amount ascertained by the verdict of the jury, the said court shall issue a writ requiring the sheriff to put the trustee in possession of said lot, and cause a deed to the land, by a commissioner, to be made to the trustee and his successors, which deed shall be duly acknowledged and recorded in the office of the clerk of the county court; and thereupon the title to said lot shall vest in said trustee and his successors in office: Provided, He shall not have the right to condemn any private property, which is used by the owner as a residence, garden, orchard, or burying-ground, or located within forty rods thereof. The quantity of land thus condemned shall in no case exceed one acre. One third of the school electors of any district may appeal from the decision of the trustee, in the location of the school-house, or site for same, to the county superintendent of the county, whose decision in the case shall be final. In such location, it shall be made as near as practicable to the center of the district as will be convenient of access to all the inhabitants of the district; and the trustee shall make provisions for such roads or passways to the school-house as will accommodate all the pupils who may be entitled to attend, and may apply to the county court having jurisdiction to open the same, as other road-ways are opened for public necessity and convenience.

§ 8. Whenever the county superintendent notifies the trustee that a school-house has been condemned, or in any case it becomes necessary to build a new school-house, then the trustee shall order a per capita tax not exceeding one dollar on each male in the district over twenty-one years of age, and a tax not exceeding twenty-five cents on each one hundred dollars' worth of taxable property in the district, to be collected as similar State taxes are; and such tax shall be applied to the erection and furnishing of a school-house adapted to the wants of said district: Provided, That in any district where said tax would not be adequate to the erection of a good and sufficient school-house, or would be oppressive to the people of said district, it shall be the duty of the common school trustee to warn in the hands liable to work on the public highways in such district to meet at the place selected for the school-house, with such tools as they are directed to bring, for the purpose of repairing or building a new school-house, five days' notice being sufficient. The school-house may be built of logs, stone, brick, or plank, but must be of sufficient size to accommodate the children of the district, and have a chimney of stone or brick, where a fire-place is used, or where a stove is preferred, a pipe so protected as to secure the building from fire; it shall have glass windows to afford sufficient light, and suitable seats and writing tables for the children of the district; and said house, when completed, shall have a property value of not less than one hundred dollars. When a school-house is to be built, the trustee of the district may apply to the Superintendent of Public Instruction for specifications and plans of model school-houses, and the Superintendent may furnish the same, and the school-house may be built upon one or the other of the plans furnished—as nearly as the circumstances of the district will allow. Said tax shall be collected by the sheriff of the county, and paid over to the county superintendent. The amount collected from said district shall be paid out on the order of the trustee; and the county superintendent shall be liable under his bond for the proper disbursement of all such funds. If any person liable to work on the public highway or roads of the county fails to attend at the time and place, and with tools directed by the trustee, or fails or refuses to work when in attendance, he shall be proceeded against in the same way, and subject to the same fine that hands are now by law who fail to work on the public highway. If the trustee of any common school district in the State fail, for the period of six months, to have a good and sufficient school-house in his district, he shall be indicted by the grand jury and fined, not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, unless he can show a good and satisfactory reason to the trial jury for his failure; but the county superintendent is authorized to give the trustee six months' additional time in which to build a school-house, whenever in his judgment it shall be expedient. All the fines collected under this section shall be applied to the benefit of the school-house in such district: Provided, No common school district in which, by any of the provisions of this chapter, an additional tax has been levied for any of the purposes in this chapter mentioned, shall be altered in respect of boundary or name, so long as the levy of such additional tax is continued. But no such levy shall continue for a period of more than one year, unless the length of time for which it is to continue is specified in the notice of election required by law.

§ 9. The trustee shall have power to assess and collect a poll or capitation tax of not more than two dollars per annum on each of those who actually send a child or children to the common school of the district, which may be collected by warrant before a justice of the peace, the proceeds of which shall be used for providing the school-house with fuel, and defraying other necessary expenses incident to the comfortable conduct of the school.

§ 10. The trustee shall employ a qualified teacher, who in no case shall be related to the trustee by blood or marriage, agree with him as to compensation, and for good cause, of which he shall be first notified in writing, remove him, subject to the approval of the county superintendent.

§ 11. It shall be the duty of the the trustee to invite and encourage all the children in the district to attend the school, and to inform them and their parents that such is their right. The annual report of the trustee shall always show that this duty has been performed; and no arrangement shall be made for the benefit of some individuals to the exclusion of any others.

§ 12. When a school begins, the trustee, within five days thereafter, shall visit the school, and thereafter once a month; see that the regulations for its government are complied with, and that the teacher performs his duty. Upon complaint of the teacher in writing, he shall have power to suspend, dismiss, or expel a pupil.

§ 13. It shall be the duty of the trustee of each district annually, during the month of April, to take an exact census of all the children then residing in such district, who will be, on the first day of July following, between the ages of six and twenty years, and on or before the first day of May, report a list of the same to the county superintendent, specifying the name, age, sex, and names of the parents or guardian of each child. Should said trustee willfully add to the list the names of persons not entitled to be placed on the same, or otherwise knowingly make a false list, such person thus offending shall, in addition to being liable to punishment for the crime of perjury, be subject to a fine of not less than fifty dollars; and should any other school officer be a party to such fraudulent lists, or any way aid in the commission of such fraud, he shall be liable to the same punishment. For a failure to take such census and report the same within the time and in the manner herein required, the trustee shall be liable to a fine of not less than twenty dollars; and said trustee shall not take the census of any children who have recently removed into the district, and who had previously been reported in the census of pupil-children for the year in the district from which they have removed, but any pupil-child who may have been reported in the district in which he resides, may attend the school on payment, to the teacher, of the per capita rated on each of the other children of the school.

§ 14. Whenever a district shall become entiltled to receive its proportion of the revenue, or a part thereof, as provided in section eleven, article second, of this act, by reason of having had a school taught in full or for one-half of the session, it shall be the duty of the trustee of such district to immediately make report thereof to the county superintendent; and at the termination of each school year he shall make a report to the county superintendent, showing, in tables of details and aggregates, the length of time taught, the highest, lowest, and average number of children at school; the cost of tuition of each child for the session and per month; the number of private schools, academies, and colleges taught in the district, and length of sessions of the same; the number of teachers employed—male, female, and total—for the common school; the wages of male, or female teachers; the amount of money raised for common school purposes in the district, by county and district tax or otherwise, and for what the same was disbursed; the kind and value of school-house, and the number of volumes in district library, if any; and any other information required of him by the county superintendent touching the school.

§ 15. The reports required of the trustee shall, in every case, be signed by him.

§ 16. For a failure or refusal of the trustee to make either of the reports mentioned in the last section within thirty days after the same are required to be made, he shall be subjected to a fine of not less than twenty dollars, and besides, shall be liable to an action for damages by any person injured thereby.

§ 17. No trustee shall be allowed to buy any teacher's claim directly or indirectly, under the penalty of removal from office by the county superintendent.

§ 18. For any neglect of duty or misfeasance in office, the trustee shall, in addition to being fined as aforesaid, be removed from office by the county superintendent.

The Senate took up for consideration a bill, entitled

A bill to render more efficient the laws in relation to the analysis, manufacture, and sale of commercial fertilizers in this Commonwealth, and to amend an act, entitled "An act to prevent frauds in the manufacture and sale of commercial fertilizers, and chemicals for manufacturing the same, in this Commonwealth," approved April 24th, 1882.

Mr. Dixon read and laid on the table a joint resolution, entitled Resolution providing for the removal of the remains of Dr. John L. Cook and wife, Anna B. Cook, to the cemetery at Frankfort or Henderson, and the erecting of a monument to their memory.

Which, under the rule, lies over one day.

Mr. Hays presented the petition of the commissioners of the Central Lunatic Asylum, praying that the evidence accompanying the report of the committee lately investigating the management of that institution be printed.

Said petition was read as follows, viz:

To the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

The undersigned, members of the Board of Commissioners of the Central Kentucky Lunatic Asylum, would respectfully but earnestly request that the evidence accompanyng the report of the committee lately investigating the management of that institution, may be printed in full, so the facts may be known by every member of your honorable body, and the people of the State, among others, for the following reasons:

First. A large portion of that testimony is mere hearsay; other portions consist of reports of evidence in other legal proceedings, to which no one connected with the management were parties, or had opportunity to cross-examine witnesses—just such testimony as would not be received by any court of justice in the State, if the same persons were on trial for the matters alleged against them.

Second. A great portion of the testimony comes from discharged employes and discharged inmates, whose testimony is tinged by improper feelings of hostility or spite, which cross-examination fully discloses.

Third. We believe that if any member of your honorable body is afforded an opportunity to read the testimony for himself, given an opportunity to separate the legal from the illegal testimony, and to give every part its proper weight, your honorable body, individually and collectively, will reach conclusions entirely different from those reached by your committee. Whether the management should be condemned or not depends on the facts proved by evidence competent under the rules of evidence known to the law for hundreds of years, demonstrated by that experience to be the only safe guide where the life, liberty, property, or character of the citizen is involved. The committee has made an opinion on what is largely, as we believe, incompetent and irrelevant testimony—largely mere hearsay. If other members act on that opinion, they proceed on hearsay from the committee, or hearsay upon hearsay. We suggest respectfully that no citizen should be deprived of his good name or official position on such evidence. Under our government, no citizen can be lawfully deprived of office or good name unless tried on the facts and his guilt made plain by competent evidence, and after his triers are each personally informed by competent evidence of those facts, and can, under the sanction of an oath, form an opinion on such facts so ascertained. It is impossible that each member of your honorable body can form an opinion without reading and considering for himself the evidence, or vote intelligently or conscientiously except by so doing. And while it may be expensive to print all this evidence, we beg to suggest that, if the citizen is to be tried for his official or other acts, Kentucky cannot afford to say that a fair and full trial is to be denied in order to save expense; a fair trial is of more importance to every citizen and to all the people of the State than any mere money saving to be made by denying it. We suggest that this proceeding, while an "investigation," is also a "trial," a trial in which, upon evidence, it may be, and we learn will be, proposed to deprive a citizen of his office and good name.

Wherefore we ask as before stated.

Respectfully,

S. L. GAAR, President,
JAMES BRIDGEFORD,
J. M. ROBINSON,
GEO. A. OWEN,
WESLEY WHIPS,
C. BREMAKER,
A. G. HERR.
A. BARNETT,
JNO. G. ROACH.

As counsel for the commissioners, I heard all, or nearly all, the evidence before the committee referred to, and justice to all parties concerned requires the evidence to be printed. No man can form an opinion or vote intelligently on this matter without reading or hearing read the evidence.

SAMUEL BUNELL.

Resolution expressive of the policy of the present General Assembly.

With an amendment thereto.

On motion of Mr. Robbins, the Senate proceeded to the consideration of said amendment.

Said amendment reads as follows, viz:

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the true policy of Kentucky is:

First. A just distribution of the cost of government among the several communities of the State in proportion to their means, and, to that end, some mode of equalizing assessment in the various counties.

Second. An efficient method of collecting the taxes assessed, so that the fiscal affairs of the Commonwealth may be made healthy without increase of the rate of taxation.

Third. A system in the Land Office, such that the State shall not be guilty of the mistake of granting the same land to more than one purchaser, and that it may be possible to ascertain what land has been granted, and what remains to the State.

Fourth. A humane code of criminal laws, discriminating more strictly between public and private wrongs, applying only to the former, and by the hope of reward, as well as by the fear of punishment, seeking to reclaim the convict to usefulness and happiness; looking also to the lowest death rate among convicts, and to the utmost prevention of escapes of that outlawed and desperate class into innocent communities.

Fifth. Thorough inspection from time to time of the public charities.

Sixth. The widest extension of the benefits of education compatible with the purposes of government.

Seventh. The promotion of commerce and the material development of the State.

And to these ends:

Be it further resolved, That the following committees be appointed by the Speakers of the respective Houses, to wit:

A Committee on Revenue Reform, to consist of two Senators and four Representatives, and the Auditor shall be an ex officio member thereof.

A Committee on the Public Lands, to consist of one Senator and two Representatives.

A Committee on the Criminal Laws and Public Charities, to consist of two from the Senate and three from the House of Representatives.

A Committee on the School Laws, to consist of two Senators and five Representatives.

A Committee on Transportation Lines, and Agricultural and Mineral Resources, to consist of two Senators and five Representatives.

That said committees shall sit when and where in the State they may elect: Provided, That none except said Committee on Revenue Reform shall sit more than twenty days, and they shall report at the adjourned session of this General Assembly, to be held as follows, viz: This General Assembly will adjourn on the 25th day of April, 1884, to meet on the 31st day of December, 1884, and the reports of said committees and action thereon shall be the only order of business at said adjourned session. And the members of said committees shall be paid the actual expenses incurred by each.

State of Kentucky,
Office of Auditor of Public Accounts,
Frankfort, April 9th, 1884.

Hon. J. R. Hindman, Lieutenant Governor and Speaker of the Senate:

Dear Sir: In response to resolution asking report, in itemized form, of the different sums collected under and by virtue of Auditor's Agents Act for the fiscal years 1882 and 1884, and the commissions paid to all agents thereunder, I respectfully submit the following:

	Amounts Collected.		Commissions.
Delinquent taxes	$33,718 61	15 per cent.,	$5,057 79
Omitted property	38,805 28	20 "	7,761 05
Real estate	12,501 32	15 "	1,875 19
Delinquent officers	10,416 39	20 "	2,083 27

This makes a total of $95,441 60 collected, with commissions amounting to $16,777 30.

Your resolution calls for a report of the fiscal years 1882 and 1883. As the fiscal year of 1883, owing to a change made by the last Legislature, contains really only eight months, I have made my statement show the receipts of the natural years of 1882 and 1883. To make a full, itemized statement, giving the names of individuals from whom this money was collected, would be the labor of weeks. If this is desired, I will gladly furnish it, but I wish the Senate to understand the labor and consequent delay that would be involved in it.

Yours truly,
FAYETTE HEWITT, Auditor.

An act to amend an act, entitled "An act to incorporate the Winchester Lighting Company,"

Reported the same, with the expression of opinion that said bills ought not to pass.

And the question being taken on ordering said bills to a third reading, the opinion of the committee to the contrary notwithstanding, it was decided in the negative.

So said bills were disagreed to.

Mr. Cox, from the Committee on Banks and Insurance, to whom was referred leave to bring in bills, of the following titles, viz:

Which was adopted.

Said amendment, as amended, was then concurred in.

The Speaker laid before the Senate the following communication, viz:

To the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

The undersigned respectfully submit the following propositions to the present General Assembly:

1st. We will donate to the State, and warrant title, the 100 acres of land situated about 3½ miles from the city of Frankfort, near the Frankfort and Flat Creek Turnpike, known as the former "Mission of St. John in the Wilderness," with the improvements thereon—needing at this time considerable repair—for the purpose of establishing on said land a State Inebriate Asylum, upon condition that the present General Assembly will, before extended recess or final adjournment, provide, by law, a fund, which, when supplemented by such private subscriptions and contributions as may be reasonably expected to be hereafter made to such fund, will be sufficient to establish and maintain on said land such additional improvements, equipments, and service (upon a moderate scale in the beginning) as may be necessary for the proper treatment of those unfortunate citizens of the State who may choose, or be required by law, to avail themselves of the inestimable privileges and benefits of said institution as a Reformatory Home.

2d. Or, should the General Assembly, upon examination by a committee of its own body, prefer it as a site for said institution, we will, in lieu of the 100 acres mentioned in our first proposition, donate to the State, with like warranty of title, and upon like conditions, 100 acres of forest land, without improvements, situated immediately upon the Frankfort and Flat Creek Turnpike, about 4½ miles from Frankfort and 1½ miles from the Kentucky river.

Without entering upon any extended discussion of the great gain to the State, and the incalculable benefits to a large class of its unfortunate citizens that will necessarily accrue from the establishment of an institution so humane in its purposes and far reaching in its good results as an Inebriate Asylum founded under State auspices, and in part, at least, sustained by State support, we do not deem it inappropriate at this time to say that, as the prevention of lunacy, and its kindred afflictions, resulting from inebriety, is far better and more practicable than their cure, so the otherwise complete and most liberal and praiseworthy catalogue of the State's benevolent institutions is, in the estimation of the thoughtful and humane, sadly conspicuous by reason of the absence from its useful and enlightened roll of this, perhaps, the most useful and humane of all. Nor will it, we trust, be considered intrusive if we, in conclusion, suggest with becoming diffidence that it is simply reasonable and just that a fair percentage of whatever revenues the State either now receives, or may hereafter derive, from a license or other tax upon the commodity or traffic which makes a State Inebriate Asylum both a first necessity to the Commonwealth, and, as we believe, an incalculable benefit to very many of its otherwise most useful and gifted citizens, should be set apart for the establishment and annual maintenance of such an institution. Assuredly, if the commodity or traffic is taxed at all for State purposes, a portion of the revenue thence derived should, upon every principle of logic and justice, be applied to repair, as far as possible, the admitted fearful evils—physical, mental, and moral, individual, social, and pecuniary—the traffic, by the State's direct authority and license, invites, if not creates.

Very respectfully,

JOHN S. HARVIE,
LEWIS E. HARVIE.

Ordered, That said communication be referred to the Committee on Charitable Institutions.

Mr. Cox, from the joint committee of conference appointed by the two Houses to take into consideration the disagreement of the two Houses in regard to a resolution, which originated in the Senate, entitled

Resolution expressive of the policy of the present General Assembly,

Presented the following report, viz:

To the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

The Joint Committee of Conference, consisting of five Senators and five Representatives, beg leave to submit the following as the result of its deliberations. We are of the opinion, and so report, that, owing partly to the protracted Senatorial contest, and the antagonisms created therein, and the consumption of time resulting therefrom; owing partly to the long investigations which the condition of some of the charitable institutions made imperative, and owing partly to the press of bills of a local yet important nature, demanded by the people of the various counties of the State, which consumed the time of, and yet could not be ignored by, the Representatives of the people, the work of this General Assembly has been seriously embarrassed, and very much of its time consumed. And, as a consequence of these impediments, many matters of grave State importance and general interest have, up to the present time, necessarily been left without that consideration and action which their importance demands.

It seems to the Committee that the choice is presented to this Assembly either to protract this session to a very late day, and be embarrassed by local matters and the absence of many members, or to adjourn speedily and meet again in adjourned session for the consideration of matters of State importance.

As between these alternatives, your Committee is of opinion that the best interests of the State will be most effectually subserved by an adjourned session.

We believe that a short session next winter, devoted to a few questions which shall have been first carefully considered by Committees authorized to sit during the vacation, will prove the most effectual, and, in the end, the most economical way by which the general legislation of the State can be accomplished.

And to the end that there may be completed a revision of the school laws, the revenue and taxation laws, the public land laws, and a final settlement of the penitentiary question, we recommend the appointment of committees upon these subjects, who shall take them into consideration, and report the result of their deliberations, in the form of perfected bills, to the called session, and at said adjourned session only such questions shall be considered as are presented by the committees so appointed.

We submit herewith a joint resolution, as embodying the best solution that can be made of the disagreement between the two Houses, and as presenting the wisest policy that can be adopted in the present emergency, and we recommend its immediate passage.

ATTILLA COX,
Chairman Senate Committee.
CROMWELL ADAIR,
Chairman House Committee.

Mr. Cox read and laid on the table a joint resoution, entitled Resolution providing for an adjourned session of the pressnt General Assembly.

Said resolution reads as follows, viz:

Should a vacancy occur in any of the committees from sickness, or failure from any cause to act, the Speaker of the Senate or House, as the case may be, shall fill, by appointment of some member of the House or Senate, said vacancy.

And be it further resolved, That the following joint rule be adopted for the government of the two Houses during said adjourned session:

JOINT RULE.

The business of the General Assembly in the adjourned session beginning December 31st, 1884, shall be limited to the consideration of the subjects committed to the committees herein provided, except by a vote of two thirds of the members of each House.

Which, under the rule, lies over one day.

Mr. Cox, from the Committee on Banks and Insurance, to whom was referred a bill from the House of Representatives, entitled

An act for the benefit of Jo. C Revill, clerk of the Owen circuit court, Reported the same without amendment.

Revill for the sum of $225.50, as compensation to said Revill for services rendered by him as clerk of the Owen circuit court in the trial of Thomas Buford in said court for murder in the years 1879, 1880, and 1881.

§ 2. This act shall take effect from its passage.

§ 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the Governor be, and he is hereby, fully vested with authority and power to appoint some suitable person or persons, whose duty it shall be to proceed to Florence, Italy, or where the remains of said Joel T. Said person or persons so appointed are hereby given full power and authority to do all acts necessary to be done in procuring the remains of said Hart, and bringing the same to Frankfort, Kentucky. Said person or persons so appointed shall be allowed all necessary expenses in traveling to and from Italy to Frankfort, Kentucky, including all necessary expenses in disinterring, encasing, removing, and reinterring the remains of said Joel T. Hart; said person or persons so appointed shall certify on oath all the costs incurred in carrying out the objects of this resolution to the Auditor of Public Accounts, who shall draw his warrant upon the Treasurer in favor of said person or persons so appointed by the Governor, for the full amount so certified by him, and the Treasurer shall pay the warrant out of any money not otherwise before appropriated: Provided, The same shall not exceed the sum of twelve hundred dollars.

The officers of registration shall attend at the voting places of their respective precincts on the first Monday in July in each year, and on the two next succeeding days, from the hours of six in the morning until nine in the evening, and shall record in the registration book, which shall be furnished by the clerk of the county court to each registration clerk, a list of such qualified voters of the precinct as may apply for registration. If either of said days shall fall upon the fourth day of the month, then said fourth day shall be omitted as a day of registration, and the registration shall proceed on the next succeeding day as if said fouth day had not intervened. Said list of voters shall be in alphabetical order, and shall show the name of the person registered, the name of the street or alley, and number of the house, lodging, or tenement in which he lives, and whether he be white or colored; and if said house, lodging, or tenement be not numbered, the location thereof shall be described in the registration book as accurately as is practicable, giving the street and between what streets. No person shall be registered who does not personally appear before the officers of registration, and if he be not personally known to one of the officers, or if any by-stander shall demand it, he shall be sworn by one of the officers and interrogated by him, or by such by-stander, touching his qualifications as provided in this act. Opposite the name of each person so sworn the clerk shall write the word "sworn," which entry shall be prima facie evidence of such swearing in any prosecution under this act. Said registration in July shall be known as the general registration, and any person then registered may vote at all elections until the next general registration, unless he becomes disqualified after registering.

Qualifications.

§ 6. Every person shall be entitled to be registered who would be entitled to vote at the next succeeding August election; that is to say, every male citizen who, on that day, shall have attained the age of twenty-one years, and shall have resided in the State two years, or in the city one year, and in the precinct in which he offers to register sixty days. No person shall be registered who does not personally appear before the officers of registration, and if he be not personally known to one of the officers, or if any by-stander shall demand it, he shall be sworn by one of the officers and interrogated by him, or by such by-stander, touching his qualifications as provided in this section. Opposite to the name of each person so sworn the clerk shall write the word "sworn," which entry shall be prima facie evidence of such swearing in any prosecution under this act.

Any alien possessing all the qualifications of a voter named in section 6 of this act, except citizenship, shall be entitled to be registered; but the clerk shall write opposite to his name, in the column headed "Remarks," the words "not naturalized," and such alien shall not be entitled to vote at any election held under that registration unless he shall produce to the officers of election his naturalization papers in due form of law.

Mode of Registering.

§ 8. In making the registration, the clerk shall act as the recording officer, and the judges shall decide all questions relating to the qualifications of persons offering to be registered, except that, in case of a difference of opinion between the judges, the clerk shall have the casting vote. It shall be the duty of the clerk to number, consecutively, the names recorded under each letter of the alphabet as they are taken down, and at the close of the registration he shall sign his name as clerk after the last name recorded under each letter as aforesaid, in such manner as that no more names can be recorded above his, and shall foot up and certify in the back of the registration book the whole number of names recorded at that registration, and this certificate shall be signed by all the officers of registration before leaving the place of registration, and in the presence of the by-standers, any two of whom may, if they desire, sign their names as witnesses thereto. In addition to the requirements above, the clerk shall sign his name as such clerk at the foot of each page.

Return and Custody of Books.

§ 9. On the day following the close of the registration, the clerk shall deliver the registration book into the hands of the clerk of the county court, or one of his deputies, and shall take his receipt therefor. It shall be the duty of said county clerk to keep said books safely in his office, and not to suffer the same to be taken therefrom, except as provided in this act. He shall also cause to be made one copy of each registration book in the blank book retained by him as provided in section 4 of this act, which shall be kept in his office, and not be taken therefrom for any purpose. In case of loss of any registration book, a copy shall be made by the county clerk from the copy retained in his office, which copy shall be used in registrations and elections with the same effect as the original. The clerk shall permit any citizen at any time to copy any registration book without fee or charge, and he shall also furnish copies at the same rate as provided in section 20 of this act for copying the book kept in his office. Copies furnished to citizens under this section shall be paid for in cash by the person ordering them.

Special Registrations.

§ 10. On Tuesday next after the first Monday in October, 1884, and on the same day in every second year thereafter, there shall be a registration of those persons whose names were not registered at the previous July registration, and who, but for this act, would be entitled to vote for electors for President and Vice President, or for members of Congress at the ensuing election. On the first Wednesday in November in each year there shall be a registration of those persons whose names are not already on the registration books for that year, and who, but for this act, would be entitled to vote at the ensuing municipal election. When, by virtue of any future act of the Legislature, or of any proclamation or writ of election issued under existing laws, an election is ordered for any day other than one of the days mentioned in sections 6 and 10 of this act, at which a vote is to be taken in the city of Louisville, it shall be the duty of the sheriff of Jefferson county to fix a day for the registration of those entitled to vote at such election, whose names are not already on the registration books for that year, and to publish notice of such day as a part of his notice of the election; and where, by virtue of the city charter, or any special law, an election is ordered to be held or taken in the city of Louisville at any other time than one of the days aforesaid, then the council, or other body or person so ordering said election or vote, shall, at the same time, fix a day for the registration of those persons entitled to vote thereat, whose names have not been recorded on the registration books of that year, and shall require the same to be published in like manner as the time and place of said election or vote are required by law to be published. Registrations under this section shall be known as special registrations; and any person so registered shall be entitled to vote at all elections held prior to the next general registration. Registrations prior to special election shall be held not less than ten days prior to the election.

§ 11. On the day prior to each registration provided for in the previous section, the county clerk shall deliver to the registration clerks the registration books for their several precincts; and on the day of such registration, the registration officers shall attend at their several places of registration, and shall register the names of all persons appearing before them who may be entitled to vote at the election for which the registration is held, and whose names are not already on the registry for that year. The names shall be recorded immediately following the names recorded at the previous registration, and the registration shall be conducted and the books returned as provided in sections 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9 of this act. Immediately after the books are so returned, the county clerk shall cause the names recorded at that election to be copied into the book retained in his office, as provided in section 9 of this act.

§ 12. Any person removing from one precinct to another, after having been registered for that year, may apply to the clerk of registration of the precinct from which he removes, on a registration day, and have his name canceled, by writing opposite to it the word "removed;" and thereupon said clerk shall give him a certificate in the following form:

"This is to certify that ——— has removed from the ——— precinct, ——— ward, to the ——— precinct, ——— ward, and that his registration has been canceled. (Signed) ———, Clerk."

Upon presenting said certificate to the officers of registration of the precinct to which he has removed, he shall be entitled to be there registered, if he possesses the other qualifications named in section 6 of this act; and no person so removing, after being registered, shall be registered in another precinct without the production of such a certificate.

§ 13. Any voter may, by giving five days' notice, in writing, to any person whose name has been registered, move the county court to strike his name from the register, and both parties may introduce witnesses, not exceeding two in number, on each side. Said notice must be served personally. If, at the hearing, the court shall be of the opinion that the person registered is not lawfully entitled to register, it shall direct the clerk to strike his name from the register, by inserting opposite to it the words: "Striken off by order of the county court.

————————, Clerk,"

If the person upon whom the notice is attempted to be served cannot be found, the clerk shall write opposite such name on the registration book the word "doubtful," and when at an election such person whose name is marked "doubtful" shall offer to vote, he shall be sworn, and his right to vote investigated fully.

§ 14. On the Saturday previous to the first Monday in August, 1884, and on the periodical day previous to every election to be held or vote of the people taken thereafter, in the city of Louisville, the clerk of the county court shall deliver to the clerks of election the registration books for their several precincts, together with the poll-books, which said registration and poll-books shall be produced by said clerks at their several precincts when the polls are opened on the day of election. At said election no vote shall be received unless the name of the person offering to vote is on the registry provided in this act, or unless he produce before the officers of election his written affidavit, stating that he was necessarily absent from the city, or that he was ill, and unable to attend, or that some named member of his family was so ill as to require his constant attention, such absence or illness covering the period allowed for registration, and stating facts, showing him to be a qualified voter of the precinct, and also the facts in reference to his residence required to be entered on the register, and shall also prove, by the written affidavit of a registered voter of the precinct who is a householder, that he knows such person to be a qualified voter, and stating the facts in reference to such person's place of residence required to be entered on the register. Such affidavits shall be returned by the officers of election to the county clerk, indorsed as follows:

And shall be left on file by the county clerk. Any vote received by the officers of election in contradiction of this act shall be void, and shall be rejected from the count. The registration book shall be returned to the county clerk by the clerk of the election on the day next succeeding the election.

Said bill was engrossed and read a third time as follows, viz:

§ 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, It shall be the duty of the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate, to appoint one person (having the qualifications of an elector) from each Congressional district in this State, and they, together with the Auditor, shall constitute a State board of equalization until the successors of those so appointed shall be elected and qualified as hereinafter provided.

§ 2. The qualified voters of each Congressional district shall, at the election for Representatives in Congress in '884, and at the same time every two years thereafter, elect one of their number to serve as a member of said board of equalization, who shall hold his office for two years, and until his successor is elected and qualified. The return of the poll-books and certificates of election shall be governed by the laws regulating the election of members of Congress; and in case of vacancy occurring in said board by death, resignation, or otherwise, it shall be the duty of the Governor to appoint some person (having the qualifications of an elector in the district in which such vacancy occurs) to fill the same until the next regular election for members of said board.

§ 3. Each member of said board, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall take the oath (or affirmation) prescribed by the Constitution of this State.

§ 4. At the first meeting of said board, it shall organize by selecting one of its members as chairman, and appointing a secretary; and may, from time to time, select such employes as may be deemed necessary. The secretary shall take the oath prescribed by the Constitution.

§ 5. It shall be the duty of the secretary of said board, under the direction of the Auditor of Public Accounts, to compile the assessments received from the county clerks into tabular statements, convenient for the use of the board; which statements shall be submitted to the board on the first day of its session in each year, or as soon thereafter as the board is organized. The secretary shall perform such duties in vacation as shall be assigned to him by the board.

§ 6. Said board shall assemble at the State Capital on the twentieth day of May, annually, and examine the assessments of property assessed for taxation in the several counties of this State, as returned to the Auditor, and shall equalize the assessments as hereinafter provided; but said board shall not reduce the aggregate assessed valuation in the State; neither shall it increase said aggregate valuation, except in such an amount as may be reasonably necessary to a just equalization.

§ 7. Said board, in equalizing the valuation of property as listed and assessed in different counties, shall consider the following classes of property separately, viz: personal property, lands, and town and city lots; and, upon such consideration, determine such rates of addition to or deduction from the listed or assessed valuation of each of said classes of property in each county, or to or from the aggregate assessed value of each of said classes in the State, as may be deemed by the board to be equitable and just—such rates being in all cases even.

§ 8. In equalizing the value of personal property between the several counties, said board shall obtain from the aggregate footings of the number and value of each ; and the value of the several kinds of enumerated property in each county shall be obtained at those values; and the value of enumerated property thus obtained, as compared with the assessed value of such property in each county, shall be taken by said board to obtain a rate per cent. to be added to or deducted from the total assessed value of personal property in each county: Provided, That whenever, in the opinion of the board, it is necessary, to a more just and equitable equalization of personal property, that a rate per cent. be added to or deducted from the value thus obtained in any one or more of the counties, said board shall have the right so to do; but the rate per cent. hereinbefore required shall first be obtained to form the basis upon which the equalization of personal property shall be made.

§ 9. Lands shall be equalized by adding to the aggregate assessed value thereof, in every county in which said board may believe the valuation to be too low, such rate per centum as will raise the same to its proper proportionate value, and by deducting from the aggregate assessed value thereof, in every county in which said board may believe the valuation to be too high, such per centum as will reduce the same to its proper value. Town and city lots shall be equalized in the same manner herein provided for equalizing lands, and, at the option of said board, may be combined and equalized with lands.

§ 10. When said board shall have separately considered the several classes of property as hereinbefore required, the results shall be combined into one table, and the same shall be examined, compared, and perfected, in such manner as said board shall deem best to accomplish a just equalization of assessments throughout the State, preserving, however, the principle of separate rates for each class of property.

§ 11. In all cases of partial return from any county, the board of equalization may estimate the valuation in the towns or districts from which returns have not been received, and may equalize the total valuation as in other cases. And in all cases of failure on the part of any county clerk to furnish the proper returns of the assessment of his county to the Auditor prior to or during the meeting of the board of equalization in each year, said board may, by order, authorize the Auditor to equalize the assessments of such county when full returns have been received by him.

§ 12. When said board shall have completed its equalization of assessments for any year, the chairman and secretary shall certify to the Auditor the rates finally determined by said board to be added to or deducted from the listed or assessed valuation of each class of property in the several counties, and also the amounts assessed by said board; and it shall be the duty of said Auditor, under his seal of office, to report the action of the board to the several sheriffs immediately after the adjournment of said board.

§ 13. A report of the proceedings of said board of equalization shall be published, annually, in pamphlet form, and one thousand copies thereof printed, of which number each member shall be entitled to fifty copies, the Auditor to two hundred copies, and the remainder thereof shall be distributed by the Secretary of State to the several counties in proper proportion. Said distribution shall be made by mail or express, immediately upon the receipt of said report from the Public Printer, the cost of such distribution to be paid by the Treasurer of State out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

§ 14. The State Librarian shall furnish such printing, fuel, lights, and rooms as may be necessary for the transaction of the business of said board. Each member of said board shall receive for his services the sum of five dollars per day during its sessions, and ten cents per mile for each mile necessarily traveled in going to and returning from the seat of Government, to be computed by the Auditor of Public Accounts, and no other allowance or emolument, directly or indirectly, for any purpose whatever, except the sum of ten dollars per session to each member, which shall be in full for postage, stationery, newspapers, and all other incidentals and perquisites. The pay and mileage allowed to each member of said board, and the pay allowed to its secretaries and employes, shall be certified by the chairman of the board to the Auditor of Public Accounts, who shall issue his warrants on the State Treasurer therefor. Said board may employ one page at two dollars per day, three secretaries at five dollars per day, each, and one janitor or door-keeper at three dollars per day. Two thirds of the whole number of members shall constitute a quorum, and said board may adjourn from time to time until the business before it is disposed of.

§ 15. All rates for taxes hereinafter provided for, shall be extended by said secretaries on the assessed valuation of property, as equalized and assessed by the State board of equalization.

§ 16 Said secretaries shall extend the rates of addition or deduction ordered by the State board of equalization, in columns provided for that purpose. The rates per cent. ordered by the State board of equalization shall be extended on the assessed valution of property, as corrected and equalized by the county board; said rates shall be extended on the listed valuations of such designated property. In all cases of extension of valuations where the equalized valuation shall happen to be fractional, the clerk shall reject all such fractions as may fall below fifty cents; fractions of fifty cents or more shall be extended as one dollar.

§ 17. It shall be the duty of the Auditor to make, in each assessor's book, a certificate of the rate of deduction or addition determined by the State board of equalization in the county to which such books shall pertain.

§ 18. To each assessor's book a warrant, under the hand and official seal of the Auditor, shall be annexed, commanding the collector to collect from the several persons named in said book the several sums entered in the column of totals opposite their respective names.

Reported the same with an amendment.

Said bill reads as follows, viz:

Whereas, By an act of the General Assembly approved March 20th, 1882, the town authorities of the town of Catlettsburg were authorized to tax the sale of malt, spirituous, and vinous liquors sold in that town, annually, the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars for malt, and three hundred dollars for spirituous, vinous, and malt liquors when sold by retail; and said act required the parties, before selling, to execute a bond, in the penalty of two hundred dollars, conditioned to comply in all respects with the general laws of the State regulating the sale of liquors; and whereas, under the provisions of said act, George R. McGuire and John McSorly applied to the authorities of Catlettsburg and obtained license to sell spirituous, vinous, and malt liquors in said town, paid each the sum of three hundred dollars, and embarked in the business of keeping saloons in said town, and Jerry Gallagher and Ballard Plymal were engaged as saloon-keepers; that afterwards, the said parties were indicted in the Boyd circuit court under a local statute which was passed for the county of Boyd by the General Assembly of Kentucky, approved ————————, making it a penalty for any one to sell spirituous liquors in the county of Boyd in less quantity than five gallons, and directing a fine of not exceeding twenty-five dollars against every person convicted under said statute, and in each case an attorney fee was to be taxed against the party convicted of five dollars; and whereas, the said parties mentioned in the preamble were indicted in eighty-five cases under said local statutes for sales made by them during the time the said license obtained by them were in effect; and the judge of the Boyd circuit court decided that the act approved March the 20th, 1882, did not authorize the authorities of Catlettsburg to grant said license, and fines were imposed upon the parties in each of said cases, and the amount in each being less than the amount for which an appeal could be taken, the said parties were without remedy in the courts; and the said George R. McGuire for himself, and as surety for the other parties, had to pay under said judgments the sum of seventeen hundred and twenty-five dollars and eighty cents in the cases aforesaid prosecuted by the Commonwealth; and whereas, afterwards, on November 10th, 1883, in a civil action pending in the Court of Appeals by appeal from the Boyd circuit court, in case of Jacob Meek against the trustees of Catlettsburg, to recover back the tax paid by him to the town under the act of 1882; the Appellate Court decided that under that act the party obtaining license had the right to retail liquors, and that parties who acted under such license were not liable to a fine for selling same; so that, under the law, the money mentioned in this preamble was unlawfully coerced by the Commonwealth from the said George R. McGuire, and should be refunded to him; therefore,

§ 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the Auditor of Public Accounts of this State is hereby directed to draw his warrant upon the Treasurer in favor of George R. McGuire for the sum of seventeen hundred and twenty-five dollars, to be paid out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated by law.

§ 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from its passage.

The amendment proposed by the committee reads as follows, viz:

Strike out "seventeen hundred and twenty-five dollars," wherever it occurs in said bill, and insert in lieu thereof "one thousand dollars."

And the question being taken thereon, it was decided in the negative.

Mr. Boles moved to reconsider the vote by which the Senate had rejected said amendment.

And the question being taken thereon, it was decided in the affirmative.

The question was then taken on the adoption of the amendment proposed by the committee to said bill, and it was decided in the negative.

Mr. Elliott laid before the Senate the report of the joint special committee to investigate the condition and management of the Eastern Lunatic Asylum, which reads as follows, viz:

JOINT RESOLUTION to investigate the Lunatic Asylums of Kentucky.

Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That three (3) Joint Committees, each consisting of two (2) members of the Senate and three (3) of the House of Representatives, to be appointed by the respective Speakers of the two Houses, be, and they are hereby, directed to investigate the conduct and management of the Lunatic Asylums of this State; one of said Committees shall be assigned to the investigation of the Eastern Asylum, one the Central Asylum, and the other to the Western Asylum. Said Committees will severally inquire and ascertain if any inmate has been treated with cruelty or neglect. If any inmate has lost his life by or through the agency, neglect, or misconduct of any officer, agent, or employé of either Asylum. If any inmate has been received contrary to law. If any inmate has been improperly detained. If there has been any neglect of duty or unfaithfulness in the performance of any duty on the part of such officer or employé. If any officer has disregarded the law or good faith in purchasing supplies or stores for the Asylum, or in disposing of the products of the farm or property belonging to said Asylums. If any officer or employé has improperly interfered with or defeated the lawful and proper administration of the affairs of either Asylum. If there is retained at either Asylum any unauthorized officer, agent, or employé. If there has been any useless expenditure or misappropriation of money or funds belonging to the State. If there has been any unauthorized debt contracted, or funds expended by any officer of either Asylum. Said Committees will also investigate any other irregularity, matter, or mismanagement which may exist affecting said Asylums, or either of them, not herein enumerated, and report fully the several results of their investigations to both Houses; and said Committees may respectively coerce the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of books and papers by usual process. Each Committee may employ a clerk, if deemed necessary, to take and write out testimony. The Chairman of each Committee shall have the same power to administer oaths to witnesses as a justice of the peace now has.

Approved January 29, 1884.

To the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

The undersigned, your committee appointed to investigate the conduct and management of the Eastern Kentucky Lunatic Asylum, at Lexington, would respectfully report that, in obedience to the joint resolution authorizing their appointment, they personally inspected the premises, affairs, and management of said institution, and procured the evidence of officers, employés, and others as to its present condition, as well as to much of the past management of same, which testimony, in writing, filling 840 and more pages of legal cap paper, accompanies this report.

That in procuring said evidence they held open and public sessions, and gave great latitude to inquiries in order to get at all facts necessary to a proper understanding of the affairs and management of this institution. At which sessions of the committee the Superintendent and Commissioners, and also the late Superintendent and Commissioners, with their able and experienced lawyers, were present, and were allowed to examine and cross-examine the witnesses, and also to inspect and produce such records of the Asylum as they desired. All of which appears in this record of proof.

Your committee found that the Asylum tract of land contains about 250 acres—of which there are 25 acres of wood-land, 50 acres occupied by the yard and buildings, and the remainder in cultivation, mostly in hay and pasture. The buildings and heating apparatus need the repairs suggested and asked for in the last report of the Medical Superintendent; with these needed repairs the buildings would be in admirable condition, and be safe and comfortable for years to come. But there is not sufficient room. The present capacity of said buildings being only sufficient for about 610 persons, including 80 officers and employés; whereas, the whole number of officers, employés, and patients in the establishment is 736. This excess of 126 patients has to be placed in rooms with others—sometimes as many as 10 or 15 in one room—thus depriving them of proper comfort, and greatly endangering the health and lives of all. And we also found that many insane persons, ordered by court to this Asylum, had been, on account of this crowded condition, necessarily turned away to find other shelter and safe-keeping, to obtain which some had to be placed in county jails.

We found that no inmate had been treated with cruelty or neglect; that no inmate had lost his life by or through the agency, neglect, or misconduct of any officer, agent or employé of the Asylum; that no inmate had been removed contrary to law; that no inmate had been improperly detained; that no officer had disregarded the law or good faith in purchasing supplies or stores; that there had been no useless expenditure or misappropriation of money or funds of the State, nor any unauthorized debt contracted by any officer of the Asylum.

We found that the Commissioners in office, at the date of Dr. Chenault's last appointment as Medical Superintendent, were opposed to the removal of Dr. Bullock and appointment of Dr. Chenault on the ground that Dr. Bullock had inaugurated and nearly perfected a system of non-restraints, which he and the Commissioners believed practicable, even to the entire abolishment of restraints; while, on the other hand, Dr. Chenault claimed that mechanical restraint, in some cases, was preferable to manual restraint, because less irritating to the patient, and much less expensive, and also much safer at night when the attendant had retired, but always to be used in the mildest possible form.

The testimony procured by your committee upon the subject of restraints, as practiced in this Asylum, is quite full and important. It shows that, within the last three years, the reduction in the use of mechanical restraints has been from 3,000 hours in the month of February, 1881, down to 75 hours in the month of August, 1883; that this reduction was not regular and gradual, but vacillated, as follows, as shown by extract from "Restraint Record," filed by Dr. Bullock, viz: The number of hours of restraint in the month of August, 1881, was 3,133; in January, 1882, 1,510½ hours; October, 1882, 2,542 hours; January, 1883, 1,388 hours, and in the month of August, 1883, only 75 hours; while Dr. Chenault's report for the month of February, 1884, shows 6 persons only, 2 males and 4 females, under mechanical restraints of mild form.

It also appears that, as mechanical restraints were dispensed with, manual restraint, or additional attendants, were supplied, making the increase of attendants eight, and the whole number of attendants about forty at present, and if manual restraint only be used, then eighty attendants to the number of 654 patients now in the Asylum, or one attendant to each eight patients.

Dr. Bullock deserves great credit for his untiring efforts and interest in matter of non-restraints. He introduced what is now used and known as "the restraint record," and it appears that relief and improvement has resulted to many patients under the operation of this system. But your committee is of opinion that an entire abandonment of mechanical restraints in the treatment of the insane will not be practicable.

There were four violent deaths in the last three or four years, from patients fighting among themselves in two instances, and from self-infliction in another; and the man West was possibly restrained longer than should have been, yet his death evidently was not induced or caused by over-restraint. No blame can, we think, be properly attached to any officer, employé, or attendant for the death of either of these.

The amount asked for by the Superintendent, to make necessary repairs, is as follows:

For a new tin roof, - - - - - - - -	$4,000 00
For painting inside and out, - - - - - -	2,500 00
For necessary repairs to steam apparatus and pumps, -	3,500 00
	$10,000 00
To which add amount necessary to furnish the additional buildings and room needed, - - - -	$
For say 150 patients and 40 additional attendants, - -
Total amount of appropriation needed, - -	$

In answer to the questions, "Has there been any neglect of duty or unfaithfulness in the performance of any duty on the part of any officer or employé?" and "Has any officer or employé interfered with or defeated the lawful and proper administration of the affairs of the Asylum?" and "Is there retained at the Asylum any unauthorized officer, agent, or employé?" your committee would say:

First. As to the Commissioners, that the law, subsection 4 of section 3, act approved March 20th, 1876, requires of the Commissioners, in addition to other duties, to make certain visits of inspection, and for that purpose to keep a book in which to note these visits and observations. This "Visit Book" has been greatly neglected by the Commissioners, but they all testify that these visits were made by each (except M. C. Johnson, who was excused, Dr. Price acting generally in his place), but the record of observations, &c., was frequently omitted. The monthly meetings of the Board were regularly held, and the Commissioners manifest a deep interest in the welfare of the institution; but their action in the matter of refusing to approve the appointment of a Receiver, proposed and insisted upon by the Medical Superintendent, with the avowed purpose of retaining Reardon as the Receiver indefinitely, was, under the circumstances, we think, factious and improper, and we think we may safely say the same as to the action of the Board in entering up an order dispensing with the office of supervisor of the kitchen, to prevent its being filled by an appointee of Dr. Chenault, for the propriety, if not necessity, of having a good supervisor of the kitchen is made manifest to our minds from the proof here taken.

It appears that, in consequence of said action in the matter of Receiver, this condition of things, namely, two persons, Marrs and Reardon, are both claiming to exercise the duties of Receiver; Reardon and the Commissioners claiming that he, Reardon, is still the legal Receiver, while Mr. Marrs and the Medical Superintendent claim that Reardon has been removed, and there is no legal Receiver except Marrs, who, in the interim, is holding as store-keeper, but executing all of the duties of a Receiver, so far as he is able to do under the order of the Superintendent. It further appears that, by reason of this conflict of authority, there is tied up in the store-rooms, held under lock and key by Reardon, $2,700 worth of stores of said Asylum, consisting of clothing, bedding, &c., much of which must injure and waste from this long delay and failure to use same in proper season. With these exceptions, we can find no fault with the actions of the Board of Commissioners.

It seems to us that Mr. Reardon is now holding said position, and claiming to still be the legal Receiver, without right, and contrary to law.

Second. We found that the Superintendent, Dr. R. C. Chenault, stood deservedly high in his profession, not only as a former practitioner, but on account of his long experience as a Superintendent of Asylums, and that the business and affairs of this Asylum under his present management is being well conducted. Our investigation of his management during his former term, disclosed the fact that he had failed in some instances to strictly follow the requirements of the law and by-laws, mostly in matters of minor importance, and this was objectionable on account of the bad example set for his subordinates; and, in fact, it appeared, running back through several administrations, that in all of them there had been more or less of such omissions of duty on the part of officers and employés; but we are glad to say that we did not find where any of them had caused the State any loss of consequence.

It is true that charges affecting the moral and private character of Dr. Chenault were made before us, and that all proper proof offered pro and con was heard, and is herewith reported; and it is also true that most, if not all, of the witnesses who testified against him on these charges, entertained unfriendly feelings towards him on account of other matters.

T. Logan Hocker, the present Steward, and John Marrs, who is acting as Storekeeper pending the contest over the Receivership, both appear to your committee to be good men for the respective positions. They are certainly starting off well thus far.

We cannot too highly commend the manner of the Secretary and Treasurer of the Board for their system of book-keeping, and for the correctness and good condition in which we found the books and papers of each. The Receiver's books and papers also are being kept in fine style; and we may say that the whole machinery of this institution, such as by-laws, and book-keeping, and manner of making reports and payments, &c., &c., has been greatly improved in the last five or six years. We deem it proper to say further, that some of this improvement is due to investigations and reports of grand juries and special committees, for experience has shown that the very best men in office may grow careless and neglect their duties if not stirred up to a sense of their responsibilities occasionally.

In looking into the manner of conducting the several offices, your committee found, upon quite thorough examination of books and papers and other matters of evidence, that divers irregularities and omissions of duty had been allowed, mainly by the Steward, Mr. Morgan, and the Receiver, Mr. Reardon, and the Matron, Miss Thornton; but it did not appear that any loss had resulted to the State from the direct acts of either, unless it be the creating a demand in the public mind for these committee investigations, which are necessarily expensive. Said Steward showed the treasurer's books that every cent of his liability was paid to the State, and the Matron claimed that the large requisitions made by her for "Board dinners" were made upon the request of members of the Board. That she knew of no pilfering of food from the kitchen, but that there might have been some without her knowledge or consent. While Reardon, the Receiver, professed to be ignorant of the law and by-laws, up to the date of the noted grand jury investigation in December, 1882. Since then, the Board of Commissioners has had a large number of these laws (enough for all), printed and distributed through every office and ward, so the excuse of ignorance of the law cannot be longer plead. With the exceptions herein named, your committee can, and does say with feelings of pride, that the management of this institution in all of its departments has been and is admirable.

And yet we cannot close this report without emphasizing the fact that there is a want of cordiality existing between the majority of the Commissioners and the Medical Superintendent, which seems chiefly to have been caused by the removal of Dr. Bullock from the Superintendency and re-appointment of Dr. Chenault, and subsequently the removal of Reardon from the office of Receiver, and his wife from the office of supervisor of the kitchen, the Board having refused to approve the appointment of a successor to said Reardon, and also having abolished the office of supervisor of kitchen, it seems with a view of preventing the occupancy of said office by a successor desired by the Superintendent, who, under the law, had the right to appoint and remove.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

J. D. ELLIOTT,
A. P. HARCOURT,
J. R. BURNAM.

To the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

I was appointed, by the Speaker of the House, on the committee "to investigate the conduct and management" of the Eastern Lunatic Asylum, and in discharge of the duty required of me, I went with the other members of the committee to Lexington and to said Asylum, and was present during the entire sitting of said committee. The committee examined numerous witnesses, went through the wards and departments, and examined the books kept by the officers of said Institution.

While I agree with a majority of the committee in many of their conclusions, a sense of duty compels me to differ with them in answering some of the questions submitted to us by the Joint Resolution under which we were acting. I therefore beg leave to submit a separate report.

Dr. W. O. Bullock was appointed Medical Superintendent by Gov. Blackburn, and discharged the duties of said office in a very satisfactory manner. He was of the opinion that mechanical restraints upon inmates could be entirely abolished, and with great zeal and confidence entered upon his work. The result was a reduction of restraints to about seventy-five hours for the last month of his term, and the improvement of the condition of the inmates.

He introduced the restraint record, which enables the Commissioners and others to know the amount of mechanical restraints used. For this he deserves great credit, and the law ought to be amended so as to require a restraint record to be kept in each Asylum.

Dr. Bullock deserves credit for his sympathy and kindness to the unfortunate inmates. While Dr Bullock gave much attention to the business affairs, there was some irregularities in book-keeping, and distribution of supplies overlooked by him in the discharge of his many duties, he having entire confidence in the subordinate officers.

C. H. Morgan, the Steward, bought and placed his individual coal with the Asylum coal; sold some supplies to employés, and failed to report and pay over the proceeds of sales of farm products, as required by law. He did make the payments after some delay, and accounted for sales to employés. There is no evidence that he had any fraudulent intentions.

He is entitled to credit for making improvements in keeping the books in said office. The Receiver, S. G. Reardon, made some improvement in keeping the accounts, and was able to show from his books the disposition of the supplies. He furnished some of the employés with supplies, upon the order of the Steward, which was not in conformity to law; but he ceased to do so upon his attention being called to the report of the grand jury of Fayette county, who investigated the affairs of said Asylum. (Said report is filed with the evidence.)

Miss Thornton, the Matron, had the full confidence of the Commissioners and the Superintendent (Dr. Bullock), and, from the evidence, she has been an efficient officer. There was some evidence taken by the Committee, showing that, at times, there was not sufficient food furnished the inmates; but in an Institution of the kind, where over seven hundred people are to be fed, such a thing might happen without an intentional neglect. There was evidence taken by the Committee, showing that provisions had been taken by employes and others, and carried off; but, taking into consideration the Matron's good character, the many duties she had to perform, and the fact that she discharged the duties of said office many years to the satisfaction of the Commissioners and other officers of the Institution, avoids the conclusion that she had knowledge of it, or aided the guilty parties.

The Secretary, Mr. Shelby, and the Treasurer, Mr. Johnson, are competent and faithful officers, and are to be commended for the admirable manner in which they have kept their books.

The Commissioners took great pride in the Institution and its management, and were very zealous in the discharge of their duties, but often failed to "note in" the "book kept for that purpose the date of each visit, the condition of the house, patients, &c," as required by law. This is a wise provision of the law, and ought not to have been neglected.

Some of the Commissioners bought coal from the parties who furnished the coal for the Asylum, and at the same price, and had it taken to the Asylum grounds for convenience. They had no improper motive in it, and the State lost nothing thereby.

Major Thomas, one of the Commissioners, sent some hogs to the Asylum in order that the slop might not be wasted, and the hogs were afterwards divided between the Asylum and Major Thomas. This was a technical violation, but it was intended for the good of the Institution, and it was benefited thereby.

The Commissioners had such confidence in Dr. Bullock, and his ability to introduce the non-restraint system, they were disappointed in his removal and the appointment of Dr. R. C. Chenault as his successor, in whom, it appears, they had but little confidence. They were not prepared to give him their hearty support and encouragement; and when Dr. Chenault, as Superintendent, appointed and sent to the Commissioners the name of John Marrs to be Receiver, they, without making any objections to said Marrs, refused to approve his appointment, for the reason they had full confidence in the incumbent (Reardon), and believed that he was the best Receiver the Institution ever had.

The Superintendent then appointed Mr. Leech, and sent his name to the Commissioners for their approval, which they refused to do for the same reason. Afterwards the Superintendent placed said John Marrs in the office, who has been discharging the duties thereof under the name of Storekeeper.

The Commissioners recognize Reardon as the legal Receiver, and pay him as such. By direction of the Commissioners he still retains the supplies in his possession at the time the Superintendent attempted to remove him.

The Superintendent retains Marrs, makes his requisitions on him, and pays him from his own means.

The joint resolution requires the committee to report whether or not any unauthorized officer, agent, or employé is retained in the Asylum.

Sub-section five of section three of the act approved March 20, 1876, provides that the Commissioners "shall appoint a Secretary and Treas"urer, and Matron for the term of four years, and remove them at their "discretion."

Subsection two of section five provides, that "the Superintendent
"shall appoint all such inferior officers and employés (not otherwise
"provided for in this act) as he may deem necessary for the proper

"management of the institution, and he may remove any of them at "pleasure."

The subsection (three) which immediately follows, provides that "it "shall be the duty of the Superintendent to appoint a Receiver, to be "approved by the Commissioners."

The Asylums are placed under the control and management of a Board of Commissioners and a Medical Superintendent. The Commissioners can appoint and remove at discretion certain officers, and the Superintendent can appoint and remove at pleasure inferior officers and employés. The office of Receiver being a very important one, the Legislature deemed it proper to give the Superintendent the power to appoint, subject to the approval of the Commissioners. When the Commissioners refused to approve the appointment of Marrs, he had no legal right to displace the Receiver in office and attempt to discharge the duties thereof. The same statute that gives the Superintendent the right to appoint, gives the Commissioners the right to approve or not, as they may deem proper. Each acts independent of the other. When they concur, the appointment is made valid. When the Commissioners refuse to concur, the appointment has no validity.

Some of the Commissioners offered to prove facts reflecting upon Dr. Chenault's moral character. The committee decided to admit evidence as to his general moral character, and as to his conduct and deportment towards officers, employés, and inmates. Two witnesses did testify as to improper language used by Dr. Chenault to them (females), during his first term as Superintendent. Dr. Chenault denied both statements, and one of them was contradicted by another female (Mrs. Porter). Other witnesses testified as to his good conduct and deportment towards officers, employés, and inmates.

Taking into consideration his denial, the contradictory evidence, the remoteness in point of time, the failure of the parties to make complaint at the time, and the fact that no charges have been made of such conduct during his present term, the committee, in my opinion, is not authorized to report adversely to him.

It was proven that Dr. Chenault had played cards with female attendants. This may be considered a harmless amusement. It does not meet with my approval. A Superintendent of an Asylum ought to be very prudent in his deportment, in view of the fact of his responsibility, power, and influence.

Under Dr. Bullock, and also Dr. Chenault, the general management of the Asylum has been good, and the inmates kindly treated, well fed, and clothed, and the rooms and bedding kept clean. Some patients lost their lives while Dr. Bullock was Superintendent, but no officer was responsible for it.

The attendants in immediate charge, perhaps, did not exercise that care the circumstances demanded, but they were acquitted of all blame by the officers in charge.

The Receiver has charge of all the supplies, yet he is not under any bond. The law ought to be amended so as to require him to execute a bond for the faithful performance of his duties.

The Matron receives the provisions from the Receiver, but is not required to account for them. She ought to be required to make a report showing what she has done with the provisions received by her.

Under the present law the State furnishes the Superintendent with meals for himself and family; also furnished rooms. The Superintendent ought not to have unlimited power to purchase what he pleases at the expense of the State. While this right exists he will have the Steward to purchase the best in the market, including luxuries. His salary ought to be increased and then required to purchase his own supplies. I do not intend this as a reflection upon any one, but make this recommendation because I believe it better for the State.

I wish to call attention to the fact that the coal for the Asylum is taken upon the Asylum grounds, and placed in a pit, no one being accountable for it. Those who use coal in the Asylum go to the pit and take it, without making a report to any one.

In conclusion, I deem it proper to state that the evidence shows that Dr. Chenault, during his first term, made necessary and valuable improvements in and about the Asylum buildings, and his financial management was very satisfactory. The restraint record for last February shows that only six inmates were placed under mechanical restraints, and for the whole month, the best record ever made.

Respectfully submitted,

J. A. BRENTS.

Mr. Martin, from the Committee on the Judiciary, to whom was recommitted a bill, entitled

A bill to prohibit dealing in futures or margins, known as bucket-shops, in their operations in the State of Kentucky,

Reported the same with an amendment as a substitute therefor.

Ordered, That said bill be made the special order of the day for Tuesday, the 29th inst., at 11 o'clock, A. M.

The Senate, according to order, took up for consideration a bill, entitled

A bill for the benefit of George R. McGuire, directing the Auditor to pay back to him money unlawfully collected from him by the State.

Said bill reads as follows, viz:

WHEREAS, By an act of the General Assembly approved March 20th, 1882, the town authorities of the town of Catlettsburg were authorized to tax the sale of malt, spirituous, and vinous liquors sold in that town, annually, the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars for malt, and three hundred dollars for spirituous, vinous, and malt liquors when sold by retail; and said act required the parties, before selling, to execute a bond, in the penalty of two hundred dollars, conditioned to comply in all respects with the general laws of the State regulating the sale of liquors; and whereas, under the provisions of said act, George R. McGuire and John McSorly applied to the authorities of Catlettsburg and obtained license to sell spirituous, vinous, and malt liquors in said town, paid each the sum of three hundred dollars, and embarked in the business of keeping saloons in said town, and Jerry Gallagher and Ballard Plymal were engaged as saloon-keepers; that afterwards, the said parties were indicted in the Boyd circuit court under a local statute which was passed for the county of Boyd by the General Assembly of Kentucky, approved ————————, making it a penalty for any one to sell spirituous liquors in the county of Boyd in less quantity than five gallons, and directing a fine of not exceeding twenty-five dollars against every person convicted under said statute, and in each case an attorney fee was to be taxed against the party convicted of five dollars; and whereas, the said parties mentioned in the preamble were indicted in eighty-five cases under said local statutes for sales made by them during the time the said license obtained by them were in effect; and the judge of the Boyd circuit court decided that the act approved March the 20th, 1882, did not authorize the authorities of Catlettsburg to grant said license, and fines were imposed upon the parties in each of said cases, and the amount in each being less than the amount for which an appeal could be taken, the said parties were without remedy in the courts; and the said George R. McGuire for himself, and as surety for the other parties, had to pay under said judgments the sum of seventeen hundred and twenty-five dollars and eighty cents in the cases aforesaid prosecuted by the Commonwealth; and whereas, afterwards, on November 10th, 1883, in a civil action pending in the Court of Appeals by appeal from the Boyd circuit court, in case of Jacob Meek against the trustees of Catlettsburg, to recover back the tax paid by him to the town under the act of 1882; the Appellate Court decided that under that act the party obtaining license had the right to retail liquors, and that parties who acted under such license were not liable to a fine for selling same; so that, under the law, the money mentioned in this preamble was unlawfully coerced by the Commonwealth from the said George R. McGuire, and should be refunded to him; therefore,

§ 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the Auditor of Public Accounts of this State is hereby directed to draw his warrant upon the Treasurer in favor of George R. McGuire for the sum of seventeen hundred and twenty-five dollars, to be paid out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated by law.

§ 3. That, from and after the passage of this act, if any railroad corporation, organized or doing business in this State, under any act of incorporation or general law of this State now in force, or which may hereafter be enacted, or any railroad corporation organized, or which may hereafter be organized under the laws of any other State, and doing business in this State, shall charge, collect, demand, or receive more than a fair and reasonable rate of toll or compensation for the transportation of passengers, or freight of any description, or for the use or transportation of any railroad car upon its track or any of its branches, or upon any railroad within this State which it has a right, license, or permission to use, operate, or control, the same shall be guilty of extortion, and, upon conviction, shall be dealt with as hereafter provided.

§ 4. That if any railroad corporation, as aforesaid, shall make any unjust discrimination in its rates or charges of toll or for the transportation of passengers or freight of any description, or for the use and transportation of any railroad car upon its said road, or upon any of the branches thereof, or upon any railroads connected therewith, which it has the right, license, or permission to operate, control, or use, within this State, the same shall be deemed guilty of having violated the provisions of this act, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be dealt with as hereinafter provided.

§ 5. doing business in this State, as to charges at any and all points for the necessary handling and delivering of freights; shall make such just and reasonable rules and regulations as may be necessary for preventing unjust discriminations in the transportation of freight and passengers on the railroads in this State; shall make reasonable and just rates of charges for use of cars carrying any and all kinds of freight and passengers on said railroads, no matter by whom owned or carried; and shall make just and reasonable rules and regulations to be observed by said railroad companies, or said railroads, to prevent the giving or paying any rebate or bonus, directly or indirectly, and from misleading or deceiving the public in any manner as to the real rates charged for freight and passengers: Provided, That nothing in this act shall be taken as in any manner abridging or controlling the rates for freight charged by any railroad company in this State for carrying freight which comes from, or goes beyond, the boundaries of the State, and on which freight less than local rates on any railroad carrying the same are charged by such railroad; but said railroad companies shall possess the same power and right to charge such rate for carrying such freights as they possessed before the passage of this act. And said commissioners shall have power, by rules and regulations, to designate and fix difference in rates of freight and passenger transportation, to be allowed for longer or shorter distances on the same or different railroads, and to ascertain what shall be the limits of longer or shorter distances.

§ 6. That the said Railroad Commissioners are hereby authorized and required to make for each of the railroad corporations doing business in this State, as soon as practicable, a schedule of just and reasonable rates of charges for the transportation of passengers and freights and cars on each of said roads; and said schedule shall, in suits brought against such railroad corporation involving the charges of any such railroad corporation for the transportation of any passenger or freight in cars, or unjust discrimination in relation thereto, be deemed and taken in all courts of this State as sufficient evidence that the rates therein fixed are just and reasonable rates of charges for the transportation of passengers and freights and cars upon the railroads; and said commissioners shall, from time to time, and as often as circumstances may require, change and revise said schedule. When any schedule shall have been made or revised as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of said commissioners to cause publication thereof to be made, for four successive weeks, in some public newspaper published in the cities of Frankfort, Lexington, Lebanon, Louisville, Bowling Green, and Paducah, in this State; and after the same shall be so published, it shall be the duty of all such railroad companies to post at all their respective stations, in a conspicuous place, a copy of said schedule for the protection of the people: Provided, That the schedules thus prepared shall not be taken as evidence as herein provided, until schedules shall have been prepared and published as aforesaid for all the railroad companies now organized under the laws of this State, or that may be organized at the time of said publication. All such schedules purporting to be printed and published as aforesaid shall be received and held in all courts as prima facie the schedules of said commissioners, without further proof than the production of the schedules desired to be used as evidence, with a certificate of the Railroad Commission that the same is a true copy of the schedule prepared by them for the railroad company or corporation therein named, and that the same has been duly published as required by law, stating the name of the paper in which the same was published, together with the date and place of said publication.

§ 7. That it shall be the duty of said commissioners to investigate the books and papers of all the railroad companies doing business in this State; to ascertain if the rules and regulations aforesaid have been complied with, and to make personal visitation of railroad offices, stations, and other places of business for the purposes of examination; to make rules and regulations concerning such examination, which rules and regulations shall be observed and obeyed as other rules and regulations aforesaid. Said commissioners shall also have full power and authority to examine all agents and employes of said railroad companies, and other persons, under oath, to procure the necessary information to make just and reasonable rates of freights and passenger tariffs, and to ascertain if such rules and regulations are observed or violated; and to make necessary and proper rules and regulations concerning such examination, and which rules and regulations herein provided shall be obeyed and enforced as all other rules and regulations provided in this act.

§ 8. That all contracts and agreements between railroad companies doing business in this State as to rates of freights and passenger tariffs, shall be submitted to said commissioners for inspection and correction, that it may be seen whether or not they are a violation of law or of the provisions of this act, or the rules and regulations of said commissioners; and all arrangements and agreements whatever as to the division of earnings of any kind by competing railroad companies doing business in this State, shall be submitted to said commissioners for inspection and approval, in so far as they affect rules and regulations made by said commissioners, to secure to all persons doing business with said companies just and reasonable rates of freight and passenger tariffs; and said commissioners may make such rules and regulations as to such contracts and agreements as may be then deemed necessary and proper; and any such agreements not approved by said commissioners, or by virtue of which rates shall be charged exceeding the rates fixed for freights and passengers, shall be deemed, held, and taken to be violations of this act, and shall be illegal and void.

§ 9. That said commissioners shall have power to issue subpœnas for the attendance of witnesses for the purpose of obtaining information pursuant to this act. If any person shall disobey such subpœna, it shall be the duty of the circuit court, or any court of similar jurisdiction of the county, upon application of said commissioners, to issue an attachment for such witnesses, and compel them to attend before said commissioners and give testimony upon such matters as may be lawfully required of them, and may punish for contempt as in other cases of refusal to obey the process and order of said court; said witnesses shall be paid one dollar per day for each day's attendance. The commissioners shall give to every witness claiming his attendance a certificate specifying the number of days he has attended. On presentation of such certificate to the Auditor of Public Accounts, he shall draw his warrant on the Treasurer in favor of said witness for the amount.

§ 10. That every officer, agent, or employe of any railroad company who shall willfully neglect or refuse to make and furnish any report required by the commissioners as necessary to the purposes of this act, who shall willfully hinder, delay, or obstruct said commissioners in the discharge of the duties hereby imposed upon them, shall forfeit and pay a sum of not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars for each offense, to be recovered in an action of debt in the name of the Commonwealth.

§ 11. That it shall be the duty of the commissioners herein provided for to make to the General Assembly reports of the transactions of their office, and to recommend, from time to time, such legislation as they may deem advisable under the provisions of this act.

§ 12. That if any railroad company doing business in this State, by its agents or employes, shall be guilty of a violation of the rules and regulations provided and prescribed by said commissioners, or of any of the provisions of this act, and if, after due notice of such violation, given to the company, and full recompense for the wrong and injury done thereby to any person or corporation, as may be directed by said commissioners, shall not be made within thirty days from time of such notice, such company shall incur a penalty for each offense of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, to be fixed by a jury. An action to recover such penalty shall lie in any county in the State where such violation occurred or has been done, and shall be in the name of the Commonwealth of Kentucky. The commissioners shall institute such action through the attorney for the Commonwealth, whose fees shall be the same as now provided by law.

§ 14. That in all cases under the provisions of this act the rules of evidence shall be the same as in civil actions, except as hereinbefore otherwise provided. All fines recovered under the provisions of this act shall be paid into the State Treasury, to be used for such purposes as the General Assembly may provide. The remedies hereby given to the persons injured shall be regarded as cumulative to the remedies now given by law against railroad corporations, and this shall not be construed as repealing any statute giving such remedies.

§ 15. The commissioners herein shall have the right to travel on all the railroad trains in this State without charge.

§ 16. That all railroad companies doing business in this State shall, on demand, issue duplicate freight receipts to shippers, in which shall be stated the class or classes of freight shipped, the freight charges over the road giving the receipt, and, so far as practicable, state the freight charges over other roads that carry such freights. When the consignee presents the railroad receipt to the agent of the railroad that delivers such freight, such agent shall deliver the article shipped, on payment of the rate charged for the class of freight mentioned in the receipt. If any railroad company shall violate this provision of the statute, such railroad company shall incur a penalty, to be fixed and collected as provided in section twelve of this act.

§ 17. If any railroad company doing business in this State shall charge more for transportation of the same class of freight, or for cars for a shorter distance within the State than for a longer distance within the State, such charge shall be deemed and held a violation of the provisions of this act, and said railroad company shall incur the penalty prescribed in section twelve of this act.

§ 18. The commissioners herein shall receive for their services and expenses a compensation of two thousand dollars each per year, to be paid quarterly. They shall have their office at Frankfort, Kentucky.

A message in writing was received from the Governor by Mr. C. E. Kincaid, Private Secretary.

Said message was taken up and read as follows:

STATE OF KENTUCKY, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
FRANKFORT, May 3, 1884.

Gentlemen of the Senate:

I have the honor to return without my signature a bill, entitled "An act to incorporate the Whitley Coal Mining and Manufacturing Company."

While I am disposed to encourage in every legitimate manner every variety of enterprise which can tend to the development of the resources of the State, and promote the prosperity of our people, I am constrained to object to this bill because it contains a provision for the condemnation and seizure of private property for private purposes, which I presume must have escaped the observation of your honorable body while the measure was under consideration.

It will be observed, by reference to section three of the bill, that the business of the proposed corporation is that of mining and shipping coal and other mineral substances, timber, and such articles as it may from time to time manufacture, and in order to facilitate that business, prosecuted for the sole purpose of private gain, it is proposed to seize and transfer to it the private property of other persons, whether the owner consent to it or not.

That such a provision is totally repugnant to the fundamental principle of all just government, which guarantees to every individual the inviolability of his own private property, unless it may be needed for public uses, it seems to me is too obvious to require either argument or illustration, and I am persuaded would not have received the sanction of the Senate had its attention been called to it when the bill was passed.

I am, very respectfully,

J. PROCTOR KNOTT.

Said bill reads as follows, viz:

§ 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That John Gates, A. W. Lotspeich, and William H. Ridener, and their associates, successors, and assigns, be, and they are hereby, created a body-politic and corporate, under the name and style of the Whitley County Coal Mining and Manufacturing Company; and under and by that name they and their associates, successors, and assigns shall have perpetual succession; may contract and be contracted with, sue and be sued, in all courts of this Commonwealth; they shall have power to organize said company by the appointment of a president and such other officers as they may deem necessary, at such time and place as they may designate; and when organized, they and their associates, successors and assigns, may have a common seal, and may alter or abolish same at pleasure; and shall have power to make such by-laws, rules and regulations, as they may deem necessary, from time to time, for the government, management, and prosecution of the business of said company, not inconsistent with the Constitution and laws of this State or of the United States.

§ 2. Said company may purchase, take, and hold such real and personal property as may be necessary in the successful prosecution of the business of mining and shipping coal or other minerals or mineral substances, timber, and such articles as it may from time to time manufacture; but this act is not to be construed as investing said company with any banking privileges or insurance rights.

§ 3. The capital stock of said company shall not be less than twenty-five thousand dollars, which may be increased by a vote of a majority of the stockholders, at any regular meeting, to one hundred thousand dollars, all of which stock may be subscribed and paid for, and may be transferred in such manner as the company by its by-laws may direct.

§ 4. Said company shall have power to construct and maintain all necessary railroads and tramways, with suitable depots and sidings connected with its business from its property to any navigable river, or to any point on the Knoxville Extension of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, and for this purpose may purchase, lease, or take, by gift, any real estate necessary for right of way, depot grounds and sidings; and when such right of way, depot grounds, and sidings cannot be procured by gift, lease, or purchase for a reasonable compensation, said company may file in the Whitley county court, at any regular term thereof, a fair map of the land required, giving the quantity required, and the name of the owner thereof, and a statement of the amount of compensation said company may have offered the owner, and an averment that same has been refused, and that said land is necessary for the full enjoyment of the company's property, and thereupon said court shall cause to issue a writ of ad quod damnum in the same manner and with the same effect in every respect, as provided in the General Statutes for the condemnation of land for private passways, which writ shall be executed and returned for trial, and finally heard and determined in the same manner and under the same rules, laws, and regulations as those governing such writs for the condemnation of lands for private passways, as provided in the General Statutes.

§ 5. The principal office of said company shall be located on the company's property in Whitley county, or at such point as its railroad or tramway may intersect the Knoxville Extension aforesaid; but other offices and agencies may be established at such other places as the company may deem necessary to the convenient and successful prosecution of its business, and said company may appoint such agents as it may require, and may define their powers and prescribe their duties.

§ 6. The private property of the incorporators herein named, and the stockholders, shall be exempt from the debts or liabilities of the company.

§ 7. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

A message in writing was received from the Governor by Mr. C. E. Kincaid, Private Secretary.

Said message was taken up and read as follows:

STATE OF KENTUCKY, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
FRANKFORT, May 6, 1884.

Gentlemen of the Senate:

I deem it my duty to return for reconsideration the accompanying bill, entitled "An act to amend an act, entitled 'An act to incorporate the Mutual Benefit Association of the Western Virginia Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South," approved February 6, 1876.

In doing so, I desire to call your attention particularly to the third section, which provides that "any member may dispose of the contingent interest in the fund to which his widow, heirs, or devisees would be entitled upon his death;" or, in other words, which authorizes any policy-holder in the association, which is simply a mutual life insurance company, to assign his policy to another, whether the assignee shall have an insurable interest in the life of the assignee or not.

This provision seems so perfectly harmless, upon a mere casual reading, it is doubtful whether the consequences which might result from it, should it become a law, have ever occurred to a single member of your honorable body. Yet, upon a closer examination, I think you will detect in it an invitation to the basest frauds, and a temptation to the most atrocious crimes. A party decrepit with age, or stricken by some incurable malady, may be induced, with the connivance of a corrupt agent and venal local board, to become a member of the association, or, in other words, to take a policy on his life, which, for a trifling consideration, he may assign to a confederate in the plot, to be divided between himself and his companion in corruption when death shall make the fruits of their fraud available, while the distant contributors to the fund are consoling themselves that their assessments are going to relieve the bereaved family of a departed brother; or, if death should too long delay the clutching of their spoil, a little poison, or slight push of the insured upon the brink of some precipice, or the buttress of some convenient bridge, will hasten the fruition of their nefarious scheme.

This is no imaginary picture. It has been realized in more than one instance in States where associations with such provisions in their charter have, by fraud and murder, earned the significant pseudomyn of "graveyard companies." It is true that such things might not occur with this company, but it is wiser, to say the least of it, to withhold the opportunity.

Very respectfully,

J. PROCTOR KNOTT.

Said bill reads as follows, viz:

§ 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the local board of directors may reinstate as a member any one who may have been or may hereafter be dropped for the nonpayment of an assessment, upon such terms as the board may deem equitable.

§ 2. That a member may by written contract change the fund that will be due upon his death for money advanced in paying assessments upon such member and interest thereon; the contract to be filed with the Secretary of the Association.

§ 3. Any member may dispose of the contingent interest in the fund to which his widow, heirs, or devisees would be entitled upon his death; but no such transfer shall be valid and binding unless assented to by the local board of directors at a regular meeting, and such assent entered on the record of the association.

§ 4. This act shall not be binding on the association until accepted by a vote of a majority of the members, who may be present in person or by proxy at a regular annual meeting or at a meeting called for the purpose, of which notice shall be given at least one month. The local board may call such meeting, and notice shall be given by mail in the usual way of the association; the notice of call meeting shall state the object, and a copy of this act inclosed with each notice. The members may, at such meeting, accept all or any one or more of the three first sections of this act, and such acceptance shall be entered on the minutes of the meeting, and be thereafter binding on the association as an amendment to and part of its charter.

§ 5. This act shall take effect from its passage.

On motion of Mr. Clarke,

Ordered, That said bill and message be referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

Mr. Haggard, from the Committee on Courts of Justice, to whom was referred a bill from the House of Representatives, entitled

An act to prevent idleness and vagrancy in Fleming county,

Said bill was read a third time as follows, viz:

§ 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, If any person be found in Fleming county idling, rambling, or loitering about, as provided in chapter 111 of the General Statutes, the county judge, or any justice of the peace of Fleming county, shall issue a warrant for the arrest of such person, who shall be given a reasonable opportunity to prepare for trial, and if found guilty of the offense charged in said chapter, shall be sentenced to hard labor for a period of not less than fifty nor more than one hundred days.

§ 2. It shall be the duty of the jailer of Fleming county to see that any person convicted of the offense of vagrancy, as provided above, shall be furnished with work, and compelled to labor eight hours a day; and any person, convicted as aforesaid, refusing to labor, shall be compelled to live on bread and water until said person is willing to work, but said time not to be deducted from said person's term of labor.

§ 3. Any person convicted as aforesaid, who shall have a wife or children dependent on him for support, and who is compelled to labor under sentence of conviction as provided herein, his wife or children shall receive and be allowed the sum of twenty-five cents per day, the amount provided for to be paid by the county, should the county receive the benefit of the labor; but if any town or city, corporation or individual, procure or receive the benefit of said labor, then such corporation or person must pay the wife or children the sum of twenty-five cents per day during the time said person so labors.

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives:

In order that you may be fully advised of the present and prospective condition of the Treasury, and thus prepared to make suitable provision for such contingencies as may be reasonably anticipated in the fiscal affairs of the Commonwealth before the meeting of the next General Assembly, I have the honor to lay before you the accompanying communication from the Auditor of Public Accounts, which I would respectfully commend to your careful consideration.

It speaks for itself. No comment of mine could increase its clearness or add to its force. But while your own wisdom will doubtless suggest such action as may be necessary in view of the circumstances to which it refers, I trust I may be pardoned for recommending such an increase in our present rate of taxation as will meet the emergencies so plainly indicated by the Auditor, especially as it will be imperatively required in order to carry into effect important measures which you have already inaugurated, and for which you have merited the approbation and thanks of an enlightened constituency.

As I may not have another opportunity before your approaching adjournment, I avail myself of this occasion to express my high appreciation of the uniform courtesy I have received at your hands during your present session. With my best wishes for your individual prosperity and happiness, I beg to assure you that the memory of our harmonious intercourse, official and personal, will ever be among the pleasantest of my life.

Respectfully,

J. PROCTOR KNOTT.

FRANKFORT, KY., May 8th, 1884.

The following is the communication from the Auditor mentioned in the message:

AUDITOR'S OFFICE, FRANKFORT, KY., May 3d, 1884.

HON. J. PROCTOR KNOTT, Governor:

DEAR SIR: In reply to your note of this date, asking a report of the present condition of the Treasury and probable deficit, if any, at the close of the current fiscal year, I respectfully submit the following:

There was in the Treasury at the close of business yesterday.	$137,047 98
There is overdue to charities	48,491 87
Leaving.	$88,556 11

There is remaining unpaid by the Sheriffs only about $75,000.

The expenditures for the remainder of the fiscal year will exceed considerably the receipts. The funding of the $500,000 due banks, lately authorized by the Legislature, would leave the State at the end of the fiscal year, June 30th, with a very small deficit but for the appropriations which have been made. There has been already appropriated over $250,000, counting the appropriation for flood sufferers at $40,000, which the expenditure will not exceed.

Of these appropriations, $200,000 were of an extraordinary character, and were not contemplated in the estimates for the year. There are yet before the Legislature bills appropriating considerable sums to certain charitable institutions.

The appropriations of the whole session may be set down at $300,000.

The pay of the Legislature will exceed the estimate $15,000.

The school bill now pending provides that the School Fund shall have its proportionate share of all taxes derived from corporations. Heretofore this class of taxes has gone exclusively to the General Expenditure and Sinking Funds. Last year there was assessed against this class of property taxes to the amount of over $370,000. The proposed enactment would, therefore, take from the General Expenditure Fund about $175,000. It will be necessary, therefore, to provide for—

Appropriations, say	$300,000 00
Pay of Legislature in excess of estimates	15,000 00
Revenues withheld from General Expenditure Fund by school bill, if passed	175,000 00
Deficit	$490,000 00

If the contract with C. R. Mason & Co. for convict labor should not be renewed after September next, there would be a largely increased expenditure on account of the penitentiary to be met in the next fiscal year.

To meet this deficit I know of no measure before the Legislature except one proposing to double the license now imposed upon the sale of spirituous and malt liquors. The revenue from that source amounted last year to a little over $100,000.

It cannot be expected that doubling the license will also double the revenue; but, should it have that effect, it would put into the General Expenditure Fund only about $44,000, which would be the pro rata belonging to that Fund.

It will be impossible to proceed under the act directing the construction of another penitentiary unless a tax is imposed for that purpose. An increase of five cents upon the present rate would be necessary to produce the $150,000 voted by the act. If assessed upon this year's revenue, it cannot be collected and made available before next spring; hence but little could be done toward the work until next year in any event; and without a tax for that purpose, the act must remain, for the present at least, a dead letter.

Yours, respectfully,

FAYETTE HEWITT, Auditor.

Ordered, That said message and communication be referred to the Committee on Finance.

The Senate took up for consideration the amendment proposed by the House of Representatives to a bill, which originated in the Senate, entitled

An act to amend and reform the common school laws of this Commonwealth.

Said amendment reads as follows, viz:

Amend the bill by adding the following sections:

1. When any town or city shall have a separate representation in the Legislature, or separate school organization, such city or town shall not vote with the county in which it is situated on the imposition of any tax to be levied in such county: Provided, however, That the cities of Louisville, Newport, and Covington shall not participate in the election of a county superintendent for the respective counties in which said cities are situated.

2. When any family shall have any infectious or contagious disease, no member of such family shall attend any school until the trustees thereof shall allow them to do so.

Said Inspector shall have a practical knowledge of Chemistry, Geology and Mineralogy, and shall also possess a practical knowledge of the different systems of working and ventilating coal mines, and of the nature and properties of the noxious and poisonous gases of the mines, especially fire-damp, and he shall also have a practical knowledge of mining and engineering; and said Inspector shall, before he enters upon the discharge of his official duties, be sworn to discharge them faithfully and impartially, which oath shall be subscribed on his commission and certified by the officer administering it; and his commission so indorsed, shall be filed with the Secretary of State in his office; and said Inspector shall give bond in the penal sum of five thousand dollars with surety, to be approved by the Governor, for the faithful discharge of his official duties.

§ 2. Said Inspector shall give his entire time and attention to the discharge of the duties of his office; and it shall be a part of his duty to visit and inspect, as often as may be necessary, all the coal mines in actual operation in Kentucky, and to see that the provisions of this act are complied with by the owners, agents, and superintendents of all the mines in this State.

§ 3. Said Inspector shall have power to visit and inspect any mine which may, at the time being, be regarded as unsafe to the life or health of the employes therein engaged at work; and if, upon inspection, he finds that suitable ventilation of such mines has not been provided as the health or safety of the laborers and employes therein employed would require, or should he find that sufficient and safe means of ingress and egress have not been provided, said Inspector shall at once notify the owners or superintendent of the unsafe condition of such mine, and require him or them to proceed at once to put such mine in a safe and wholesome condition, and such mine shall forthwith be rendered safe and healthful; and for a failure of the owner, if present, or the superintendent, if the owner be absent, to comply with the directions of the Inspector of Mines to ventilate such mine, and to provide safe and suitable egress from such mine within sixty days from the date of inspection, the owners and superintendent so delinquent shall be liable to a fine of $50 per day for every day that such mine shall be suffered to remain in such dangerous and unhealthy condition after the expiration of the sixty days above provided, in which such improvement or ventilation should be made, which fine may be recovered by indictment of the grand jury of the county in which such mine is situate.

§ 4. The Inspector of Mines shall keep an office in the State House at Frankfort, and shall keep a record of all the inspections made by him, and shall furnish a certified copy of his report of the inspection of any mine inspected by him to the Commonwealth's attorney of the district in which the mine is situate, on application therefor, which copy shall be admissible in evidence in any court in this Commonwealth, and shall be prima facie evidence of the truth of recitals therein contained.

§ 5. Such Inspector, while in office, shall not act as agent, or as a manager, or mining engineer, or be interested in operating any mine, and he shall annually, on or before the 10th day of October, make report to the Governor of his proceedings, and of the condition and operation of the coal mines in this State; enumerating all accidents which shall have occurred in or about the same, and giving such other information as he may deem useful, and making such suggestions as he may deem important as to further legislation on the subject of mining.

§ 6. The Inspector shall receive an annual salary of eighteen hundred dollars, payable monthly, and shall likewise be allowed and paid his necessary traveling expenses when absent from his office on business connected with his department, and he shall make out and keep on file in his office maps and plans of all coal mines in operation in this State, which maps, plans, and all the books, records, and apparatus of his office, he shall carefully keep and turn over the same, with all official correspondence pertaining to his office, to his successor.

§ 7. Any vacancy in the office of Inspector which may occur, when the Senate is not in session, shall be filled by appointment of the Governor, till the close of the next session of the Senate.

§ 8. There shall be provided for said Inspector all instruments and chemical tests necessary for the discharge of his duties under this act, which shall be paid for on the order of the Inspector, and which shall belong to the State.

§ 9. The owner, agent, or superintendent of every coal mine in this State shall make or cause to be made an accurate map or plan of the working of such mine, on a scale of not less than one hundred feet to the inch, showing the area mined or excavated and the location and connection with such excavation of the mine of the lines of all adjoining lands, and the name or names of each owner or owners, so far as known, marked on each tract, a true copy of which map the said owner or agent shall deposit with the Inspector within twelve months after the passage of this act, and another copy of which shall be kept at the office of such mine; and the owner, agent, or superintendent shall, on or before the first day of December, 1884, and every six months thereafter, file with said Inspector a statement and plan of the progress of the workings of said mine up to said date, which statement or plan shall be so prepared as to enable the Inspector to mark the same on the original map or plan herein required to be made. In event of the failure or refusal of such owner, agent, or superintendent, for two months after the time designated, to make the plan or map, or the addition thereto, the Inspector is authorized to cause an accurate map or plan of such mine to be made at the expense of the owner of such mine, the cost of which shall be recoverable against the owner by the person making said map or plan in any court of competent jurisdiction.

§ 10. Twelve months from and after the passage of this act it shall not be lawful for the owner, agent, or superintendent of any coal mine worked by a shaft wherein over fifteen thousand square yards have been excavated, to employ any person to work therein, or to permit any person to work in such mine, unless there are to every seam of coal worked in each mine at least two separate outlets, separated by natural strata of not less than one hundred feet in breadth, by which shafts or outlets distinct means of ingress and egress are always available to the persons employed in such mine; but it shall not be necessary for the two outlets to belong to the same mine; and every shaft opened after the passage of this act shall have two such separate outlets after fifteen thousand square yards shall have been excavated; and to all other mines, whether slopes or drifts, two such openings or outlets shall be provided within twelve months after the passage of this act, provided fifteen thousand square yards have been excavated at or before the passage of this act, or if not, then within twelve months after that extent has been excavated. In case such outlets are not provided as herein stipulated, it shall not be lawful for the owner, agent, or superintendent of such mine to permit more than ten persons to work therein at one time. In case any coal mine has but one shaft, slope, or drift for the ingress or egress of the men working therein, and the owner thereof does not own suitable ground for another opening, such owner may select appropriate adjacent surface ground for that purpose, and have the same condemned, and appropriate the same by proceedings in the county court of the county where the mine is situate similar to proceedings now allowed by law for securing a private passway.

§ 11. The owner or superintendent of every coal mine, whether shaft, slope, or drift, shall provide and maintain, within nine months after the passage of this act, for every such mine, an amount of ventilation of not less than one hundred cubic feet per minute per person employed in such mine, which shall be circulated to the face of each and every working place throughout the mine; and all mines generating fire damp shall be kept free of standing gas, and in all mines where fire-damp is generated every working place or room shall be carefully examined every morning with a safety lamp by a competent person, before any of the workmen are allowed to enter therein.

§ 12. Coal mines in which not more than five persons are employed at one time shall be exempt from the provisions of this act.

§ 13. This act shall be in force from its passage.

§ 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the Governor, by and with the consent of the Senate, shall appoint three competent persons, to be called and known as "The Board of State Commissioners of Public Charities." The term of office shall be for four years, and until their successors are appointed and qualified. That said Board of Commissioners shall devote their whole time and attention to the duties set forth in this act. That no two of said commissioners shall be residents of the same Congressional District.

§ 2. Before entering upon their duties the said commissioners shall, respectively, take and subscribe the constitutional oath required of other State officers, which shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State, who is hereby authorized and directed to administer such oath. The Governor shall designate one of said commissioners who shall be president of said board. The commissioners shall meet within sixty days after appointment, and organize by electing one of their number as secretary, and adopt such by-laws and regulations for the transaction of their business as they may consider expedient.

§ 3. The said commissioners shall have full power at all times to look into and examine the condition, financial and otherwise, of the several institutions they may be authorized by this act to visit, and inquire and examine into the methods of instruction and management and government of their inmates; the official conduct of officers and employés of the same; the condition of the buildings, grounds, and other property connected therewith, and into all other matters pertaining to their usefulness and good management. And for these purposes they shall have free access to the grounds, buildings, and all books and papers relating to said institution; and all persons now or hereafter connected with the same are hereby directed and required to give such information, and afford such facilities for inspection as the said commissioners may require.

§ 4. The said commissioners shall visit the lunatic asylums of the State as often as occasion may require, and a quorum of said board shall visit each asylum at least once each month. The Asylum for the Tuition of the Deaf and Dumb, the Kentucky Institution for the Education of the Blind, the Institution for the Education and Training of Feeble-minded Children, shall be visited at least once in every three months. They shall examine into the condition of said institutions; the management and treatment of the inmates therein, their physical and mental condition and medical treatment; hear the grievances, if any, of the inmates apart from the officers or attendants, and investigate the cases that, in their judgment, require special investigation, and ascertain whether the moneys appropriated for their aid are, or have been economically and judiciously expended; whether objects of the several institutions are accomplished; whether the laws in relation to them are fully complied with; whether all parts of the State are equally benefited by said institutions, and the various other matters referred to in the third section of this act, and report in writing to the Governor, quarterly, the result of their investigation, together with such other information and recommendations as they may deem proper. § 5. Whenever any charitable institution subject to inspection herein provided for, requires that aid for any purpose other than their annual per capita allowance, the said commissioners, or a quorum of them, shall inquire carefully and fully into the grounds of such want; the purpose or purposes for which it is proposed to use the same; the amount which will be required to accomplish the desired object, and into any other matter connected therewith; and in their annual report they shall submit the result of such inquiries, together with their own opinions and conclusions relating to the whole subject.

§ 6. Any one of said commissioners is hereby authorized to administer oaths, and examine any person or persons in relation to any matters connected with the inquiries authorized by this act.

§ 7. The said commissioners, or any one of them, shall attend upon the session of the Legislature whenever any committee of either House shall require their attendance.

§ 8. No member of said board shall be directly or indirectly interested in any contract for building, repairing, or furnishing any supplies to any of the institutions which by this act they are authorized to visit and inspect; nor shall any trustee, commissioner, or other officer of any of the institutions embraced in this act, be eligible to the office of commissioner hereby established.

Said commissioners shall receive compensation as follows: The president of said board shall receive $2,500 per annum, the other members each $2,000 per annum, and also all actual traveling expenses paid out in the discharge of their duties, payable quarterly by the Treasurer of the State on a warrant drawn upon him by the Auditor of Public Accounts. All accounts for salary and traveling expenses provided for in this act shall be itemized when rendered, and shall be audited and paid out of the several sums appropriated per capita to the several lunatic asylums. Each lunatic asylum shall bear such part of said expenses as the amount appropriated to said lunatic asylum is to the whole amount appropriated to all of said lunatic asylums. The Auditor, before drawing his warrant upon the Treasurer for the benefit of any said lunatic asylums, shall deduct from the amount appropriated, and due the same, the amounts due said commissioners from said lunatic asylums as provided herein.

§ 10. That all letters written and addressed to said commissioners by the inmates of any asylum shall be forwarded forthwith as addressed, without the breaking of the seal or the reading thereof by any officer or employé of said institution.

§ 11. That said commissioners for willful neglect of, or a failure to perform the duties, or conduct unbecoming such commissioners, imposed by this act, shall be subject to removal by the Governor, and that any officer or employé of said institution, or person who will prevent or try to prevent the enforcement of the duties imposed herein, shall, upon conviction in any court of competent jurisdiction within the county where said offense is committed, be fined in any sum not to exceed five hundred dollars.

§ 12. That no person shall be retained in any of said institutions as a patient or inmate after said commissioners shall have inquired concerning such person, and directed his or her removal; and no person shall be discharged from any lunatic asylum without the consent of said commissioners.

§ 13. That all acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

§ 14. This act shall take effect from its passage.

Mr. Boles, from the joint special committee appointed to investigate the affairs of the Land Office, submitted the following report, viz:

To the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

The undersigned, members of the joint committee of the two Houses of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky appointed to investigate the conduct and management of the office of Register of the Land Office during the term of Ralph Sheldon, late Register, and to ascertain and report—first, the number of copies of patents issued from said office during said term; second, the number of copies of patents issued from same office for same time; third, the number of copies of entry of land warrants issued from said office for same time; fourth, the number of plats and certificates and patents on same recorded; fifth, the number of assignments from said office; sixth, the number of surveys registered and patents issued thereon; seventh, the number of seals of the Commonwealth used in said office, and eighth, the amount of fees received in said services, would respectfully submit the following report:

From the evidence taken by the committee, we are constrained to report that a degree of carelessness and remissness of duty characterized the conduct of the Register during his term, in making and preserving the evidence of the fees due the Commonwealth. Said officer, by proof taken before the committee, attempts to justify his carelessness in this regard by showing that his predecessors in office had been guilty of the same carelessness; in other words, he justifies his carelessness by pleading that another had been guilty of the same, a much too frequent custom of citing a wrongful precedent to base another of like character upon. According to the proof taken before us, no record in a permanent form was kept of the fees received in said office and payable into the Treasury of the State, and the only record thereof, or memorandum thereof, was, according to the proof, kept on slips of paper, which they now allege are lost. It appears from the evidence, that a book containing an account of such fees was kept for the first five months of the term of the Register, Sheldon, but after this length of time it was abandoned, for what cause it does not appear in evidnece, except that his predecessor kept no such book. We further find, from the proof before us, that the additional clerical force employed in said office, as authorized by act of this General Assembly at its session of 1881 and 1882, did not perform any of the work directed to be done under said act, but that the whole thereof remains undone. So far as we have been able to ascertain the various points submitted to us for ascertainment, under the meagre proof we were able to gather, we report as follows:

First—The number of copies of patents issued from said office during said term, 3,811, at 50 cents each	$1,905 50
Copies of surveys, 1,410, at 50 cents each	705 00
We were unable to ascertain from the Register the number of copies of entries of land warrants, and there was no record of it, nor could we ascertain from him, nor any witness, nor the records of said office, the number of copies of entry of land warrants issued from said office.
We find the number of surveys registered, and patents issued thereon, to be 4,188, which, at $1 25, amounts to	5,235 00
In addition to these sums, we find the Register received the fees on what he terms defective surveys, and caveats thereon. 103 surveys of such character were received, and fees thereon, making	128 75
Total	$7,974 25

These are all the fees that we have been able to trace to the hands of said Register. All of which, together with the proof taken, we herewith submit.

S. H. BOLES,
Chairman of Committee on part of Senate.
J. M. WOOD,
House Committee.

On motion of Mr. Garnett,

Said trustees shall have power and authority to issue improvement bonds to an amount not exceeding two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, bearing interest not exceeding six per cent. per annum, with semi-annual coupons attached. EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
FRANKFORT, KY., May 12, 1884.

Gentlemen of the Senate:

I have the honor to nominate, and with your consent will appoint, the following named gentlemen Railroad Commissioners: Hon. A. R. Boone, of Graves county; Hon. J. P. Thompson, of Marion county, and Hon. John D. Young, of Bath county.

Very respectfully,
J. PROCTOR KNOTT.

Resolved, That said nominations be advised and consented to.

Whereupon, the Speaker appointed Messrs. Cox and Peay said committee.

A message was received from the House of Representatives, announcing that they had appointed a committee, to act in conjunction with a similar committee appointed on the part of the Senate, to wait upon the Governor, and ascertain if he had any further communication to make to this General Assembly.

After a short time, Mr. Cox, from the joint committee appointed to wait upon the Governor, reported that he had performed that duty, and that the Governor had no further communication to make to the General Assembly.

Mr. Fogle moved that a committee be appointed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate had completed its business, and was now ready to adjourn.

Whereupon the Speaker appointed Messrs. Cox, Fogle, Robbins, and Munday said committee.

After a short time, Mr. Cox reported that the committee had performed that duty.

A message was received from the House of Representatives, announcing that they had completed the business of that body, and were now ready to adjourn.

Mr. Cox then moved that the Senate do now adjourn sine die.

Whereupon, Mr. Speaker Hindman made the following address:

Gentlemen of the Senate:

The hour has arrived when it is my duty to pronounce this body finally adjourned.

I feel justified in saying, that when the laws enacted by this General Assembly have gone into effect and are fully understood by the people, it will be said that this body has done its duty.

By reason of defective laws for the assessment and collection of taxes, and the natural increase in the population and business, the revenue has for years past fallen short of meeting the current expenses of the State. It is known that in the last ten or fifteen years the prosperity of the State has increased greatly, while in the assessment for revenue purposes it has fallen off more than fifty millions of dollars. This all important question had to be met by this Legislature. You have provided a law, not only looking to an equalization of taxation among the different counties of the State, but also to an equalization among individuals, by providing that all property shall be assessed at its cash value. These laws we hope will not only have the effect to replenish the Treasury, but to enable the next General Assembly very much to reduce the taxation.

You have revised and amended the common school system, and added to that fund, and it is believed that our system is now as near perfect as that of any State in the Union.

You have passed laws looking to the better government of the penitentiary, and for the use of convict labor in constructing a branch penitentiary. You have passed many laws, local in their application, for the organization of companies, for the construction of railroads and turnpikes, and for the development of the coal, iron, and other mineral and timber interests of the Commonwealth.

In addition to these, you have elected the corps of State officers whose elections devolve upon the General Assembly, including that of Senator in Congress. Few Assemblies have done so much work of an important nature, and it is to be hoped the people will be greatly benefited by your labor.

And now to the members, officers, and attaches of this body: I desire in the sincerity of my heart to tender each one of you my profound acknowledgment for your kindness and courtesy toward me as your presiding officer; especially I would say to the Senators, that in the future the brightest picture which will hang on memory's wall will be the recollection of that genuine kindness, forbearance, and courtesy you have so uniformly shown me, and let me assure each one of you that this kindness and courtesy has not been unappreciated.

Now, in pronouncing this final adjournment, let me express the hope that in the future, both here and in the great hereafter, your pleasures may be multiplied and your happiness increased.

I declare the Senate adjourned sine die.
